Proposal to Name Hwy 24 for Sampson's Only Medal of Honor Recipient

Rufus Geddie Herring (June 11, 1921 – January 31, 1996) was a United States Naval Reserve officer and a recipient of America's highest military decoration, the Congressional Medal of Honor, for his actions in World War II.

A Sampson County native and life-long resident of Roseboro, Geddie Herring has an astonishing list of accolades and accomplishments. A local group now seeks to honor Lt. Commander Geddie Herring by having a portion of Hwy 24 near Roseboro named for the Medal of Honor recipient.

CHRISTMAS WITH THE EMBERS

*Celebrate the Christmas Holidays The Embers featuring Craig Woolard bring Christmas Performance to Clinton at 7 PM on Tues., Dec. 5

When local music fans think of The Embers, Christmas music probably isn't going to be the first thing that pops into their head.

This legendary North Carolina band is much more likely to have their music played at the beach than an ice skating rink, but on Tuesday, December 5th, the North Carolina Music Hall of Famers will perform their Christmas Holiday show at the Sampson County Exposition Center.

Bobby Tomlinson, the longtime leader and founding member of the band, says "the Embers are a perennial summer band that also can tour during the fall and winter months. All the clubs in Myrtle Beach, like the Alabama Theatre, have been doing Christmas shows for years, so we started performing one about nine years ago. This concert doesn't have anything to do with beach music; it's 100% Christmas music; its 'Christmas with the Embers.' We have all varieties of Christmas music and even a snow machine. It's exactly what you would expect at one of the Myrtle Beach venues, but we take our Christmas concert out on the road."

Tomlinson is clear that when the Embers perform the Christmas show, the audience will hear holiday standards, not the beach songs they play during the warmer months. The band enjoys switching up its musical choices during these shows, bringing the joy of the season to a new group of fans – just as it did when they were invited to entertain US Troops a few years back. "I got an email from the office of a general who was a big Embers fan, who had been transferred from Fayetteville to South Korea," Tomlinson said. "His cultural attaché asked if it would be possible for us to perform for the troops the following Christmas; I asked, 'What's wrong with this year?' We put it together real quick and flew over there, and we actually performed two years in a row."

Sampson County Convention & Visitors Bureau Announces Capital Grant Program

The Sampson County Convention & Visitors Bureau (SCCVB) has revealed the newest tool in its arsenal aimed to assist in the development and growth of tourism throughout Sampson County. On November 28, 2017, the Sampson County CVB Board of Directors approved the implementation and funding of the Sampson County Convention & Visitors Bureau Capital Grants Program.

The SCCVB Capital Grant Program (CGP) was developed to stimulate economic growth by supporting non-profit visitor attractions in Sampson County, NC. The program allows the SCCVB to award capital grant funding to organizations whose projects are designed or developed to attract visitors to Sampson County. The program allows eligible organizations to receive funding for the development of new visitor attractions or to organizations that are working to enhance or restore existing structures and other projects whose primary mission is to serve visitors to Sampson County.

Capital Grant Funds may be granted for projects such as new brick and mortar construction, maintenance and preservation of historic attractions, cultural and historical acquisitions, conservation of artifacts, or other infrastructure that improves the CVB's ability to promote tourism and that assists in attracting visitors to Sampson County. "Primary consideration will be given to those projects that have the greatest potential for positive economic impact for tourism within the County. Highest priority will be given to those projects which are more likely to promote and generate travel from outside Sampson County and that lead to overnight stays among our local lodging establishments" stated Sheila Barefoot, Director of the Sampson County CVB.

CVB Board Member and Chair, Julie Stadig stated, "Projects performed under the CGP must be for travel and tourism development only and may not contain or include elements not related to destination development. Projects not adhering to this provision will not be considered. All projects approved for funding must prove that they attract and serve visitors to Sampson County as their primary purpose."

Organizations that may apply for CGP funding include any legally chartered 501-(c3) non-profit Sampson County organization or chartered municipality representing a visitor attraction, which includes tourism promotion among its major activities. Documentation of legal status, tax exemption, federal identification number, budget, and organizational purpose are required with all applications. The organization applying for funds must show that they own the property, and it is not leased by the organization. However, if an organization making a request does not own the land or the structure to be preserved or built on a particular site, the organization may provide properly executed documents that state the organization has a permanent easement for the site, including ingress and egress.

The Sampson County Convention & Visitors Bureau CGP will use a matching grant formula whereby organizations may be awarded one grant dollar for each dollar spent by the organization, up to $50,000 per project. Due to the potential number of grant applications that may be received annually, the full amount of an organization's grant request may not be awarded. It is anticipated that typical grant awards may average between $5,000 and $10,000. The SCCVB Capital Grant Program has a cap of $50,000 per organization. Once this amount has been distributed to an organization, the organization must sit out of the grant application process for a period of three (3) years from date of final funding from the CVB. In addition, multiple non-profits may not apply to receive funding for the same project.

SCCVB Director, Sheila Barefoot stated, "the Sampson County CVB Capital Grant Committee will process Capital Grant Applications twice per fiscal year (August & January) or until such time that the annual allocation is exhausted. Applications for the first cycle may be submitted from July 1st until July 30th, and must be postmarked no later than July 30th for consideration during the August cycle. Applications for the second cycle may be submitted from November 30th to December 31st, and must be postmarked no later than December 31st for consideration during the January cycle. Capital Grant applicants must contain the written approval or a formal resolution of the organizations governing board, and include relevant municipal government endorsement, and a list providing other individuals or organizations that have made contributions to the proposed project."

Funding for the SCCVB Capital Grant Program is provided through room occupancy taxes (ROT) that are collected by Sampson County's lodging establishments which are generated as a result of overnight lodging by visitors to Sampson County. The SCCVB will allocate 33% of all room occupancy taxes collected to the Capital Grant Program on an annual basis.

"It is the mission of the Sampson County Convention & Visitors Bureau to market and promote Sampson County, its assets, and its industry partners to attract both business and leisure travelers to Sampson County," stated Julie Stadig, CVB Board Chair. "During the past year, the SCCVB contracted with Magellan Strategy Group to assist in developing a strategic plan created to identify Sampson County's strengths and weaknesses as related to tourism and tourism development and to create a roadmap that will allow the CVB to meet the objectives identified. Since the strategic plan was adopted, two of the primary goals identified in the strategic plan have now been achieved stated Stadig, including the recent adoption and approval allowing the ROT rate to be raised from 3% to 6% and now with the implementation of the CVB's Capital Grant Program."

The Sampson County CVB was approved and enacted to be a public authority established through legislation by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina and adopted, approved, and enacted by the Sampson County Board of Commissioners with the purpose of promoting the development of travel and tourism related activities in Sampson County, through state, regional and national advertising, marketing and promotional activities and campaigns.

For more information or details about the SCCVB Capital Grant Program or to receive grant guidelines and applications, contact Sheila Barefoot, Director at 910-592-2557 or via email at sbarefoot@visitsampsonnc.com. The Sampson County CVB's offices are inside the Sampson County Exposition Center located at 414 Warsaw Road, Clinton, NC.

SCC Partners to Protect County Property

Sampson Community College's Building and Construction Trades department is known for its unique hands-on program that allows students to construct real houses that are later sold to the public. However, the group has branched out under the leadership of Barney Grady, head of that department. Lt. Marcus Smith of the Sampson County Sheriff's Department is heading up a project involving SCC students. The construction of a 30 x 60-foot shelter is underway to house a new armored truck the Sheriff's Department has recently acquired as well as other equipment that needs to be protected. Mr. Jimmy Sinclair, of J.E. Sinclair Construction company, partnered with the students and brought his crane to erect

Leading that cause is Roseboro's Greg Butler. "I have always held the utmost respect for Mr. Geddie, not only for his amazing heroic accomplishments on that single day during the Battle of Iwo Jima, but for his lifetime of humble service to his community, his church and his family."

'That single day' Butler refers to is detailed in a harrowing account of Lt. Commander Geddie Herring's Medal of Honor Citation, which reads:

"For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of his life above and beyond the call of duty as Commanding Officer of LCI (G) 449 operating as a unit of LCI (G) Group EIGHT, during the pre-invasion attack on Iwo Jima on 17 February 1945. Boldly closing the strongly fortified shores under the devastating fire of Japanese coastal defense guns, Lieutenant (then Lieutenant, Junior Grade,) Herring directed shattering barrages of 40-mm. and 20-mm. gunfire against hostile beaches until struck down by the enemy's savage counterfire which blasted the 449's heavy guns and whipped her decks into sheets of flame. Regaining consciousness despite profuse bleeding he was again critically wounded when a Japanese mortar crashed the conning station, instantly killing or fatally wounding most of the officers and leaving the ship wallowing without navigational control. Upon recovering the second time, Lieutenant Herring resolutely climbed down to the pilot house and, fighting against his rapidly waning strength, took over the helm, established communication with the engine room and carried on valiantly until relief could be obtained. When no longer able to stand, he

NATIVE HERITAGE, cont. from 1 crafts, dance, and ways and concepts of life.

That call, to set aside November in honor of the original inhabitants of what is now the United States, and their descendants, may be as dominate in Sampson County as anywhere in our state. The success of National Native American Heritage Month in Sampson County is in no small way due in part to the Richard Clinton Chapter, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution.

In October, Betty Lou Griffin and the Richard Clinton Chapter, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution petitioned the County and all municipalities within Sampson County, to proclaim November as National American Indian Heritage Month.

Those efforts were successful reports Griffin, with all of Sampson County united in observing November in honor of Native American Heritage.

fin, "to see that your actions show unity for the entirety of Sampson County municipalities. I feel sure that your constituents share my enthusiasm. One hundred percent participation shows our county American Indian population that we honor and appreciate them, and their ancestral contributions. So important were these that many historians voice that the survival of the colonists depended upon them. Without their assistance, our history could have evolved differently."

propped himself against empty shell cases and rallied his men to the aid of the wounded; he maintained position in the firing line with his 20-mm guns in action in the face of sustained enemy fire and conned his crippled ship to safety. His unwavering fortitude, aggressive perseverance and indomitable spirit against terrific odds reflect the highest credit upon Lieutenant Herring and uphold the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

Of all the men and women that have served their country from North Carolina, only 33 have received the Medal of Honor. Geddie Herring was one of those few, and appears to be the single recipient from Sampson County. That's not surprising considering the award has been issued only 3,517 times, even though it remains the oldest continuously issued combat decoration of the United States armed forces.

But as Greg Butler explains, R. Geddie Herring was a hero in his own right, not just for his Navy service, but for service to his community when he returned home as well.

Herring returned to Roseboro where he pursued a career in business. He married Ginny Lee and the couple had three children: Max, Susan and Stanley.

When Herring left the Pacific to settle in Sampson County, he brought with him his leadership ability which he used to help further his community, his church and those he came to know. From 1947 to 1950 Herring served as Mayor of Roseboro. And in 1995, R. Geddie Herring received the highest award given to an individual from the State of North Carolina.

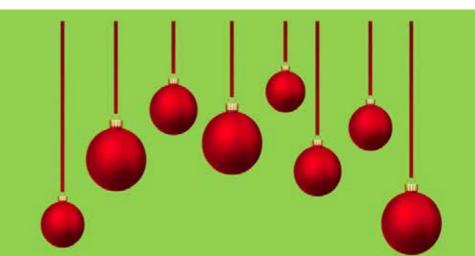

The Order of the Long Leaf Pine was bestowed to Herring at Duke University Hospital on October 20, 1995. It was presented by Major General, Gerald A. Rudisill on behalf of Governor James B. Hunt.

In 1999, Lt. Commander R. Geddie Herring was posthumously inducted into the Sampson County Hall of Fame.

Greg Butler says that almost all hurdles have been completed in getting the portion of Hwy 24 in Roseboro named for Herring. One of the last issue is to have the County sign a resolution in support. Butler will present that resolution Monday night at the next Sampson County Board of Commissioners meeting.

Given Mr. Herring's service in all aspects of life, one would expect a quick approval and nod of support.

Butler concludes, "Mr. Geddie and Ms. Ginny Lee, his dear wife of 47 years, were the epitome of grace, service, and class. Though his receiving the Congressional Medal of Honor was justly deserved because of his heroic actions during WWII, Mr. Geddie did not need a medal to identify him as a hero. For myself and many others, Mr. Geddie was a hero throughout his life and not just for those heroic acts off the shores of Iwo Jima in 1945."

Griffin goes on to say, "To my knowledge, we are the only Daughters of the American Revolution chapter that gets this done County wide. It is

We Should Know...

Mary Rose and Kaitlin Adkins with JW Simmons, Host of We Should Know

Tuesdays from 2:30 PM until 3:30 PM, J.W. Simmons hosts a radio show on 1170 AM called "We Should Know", and The Sampson Weekly will feature portions of the transcripts in our continuing efforts to bring you more coverage of what is happening in our community.

This week's topic is shopping at home in downtown Clinton, and the guests for the show are Mary Rose, Planning & Development Director for the City of Clinton; and Kaitlin Adkins, Executive Director of the Clinton – Sampson Chamber of Commerce.

A special guest dropped by at the beginning of the show, Gary Wayne Hall, owner of Sessoms Jewelry, to discuss the recent success of Small Business Saturday which occurred this past weekend. JW Simmons asks Hall to discuss his experience with Small Business Saturday.

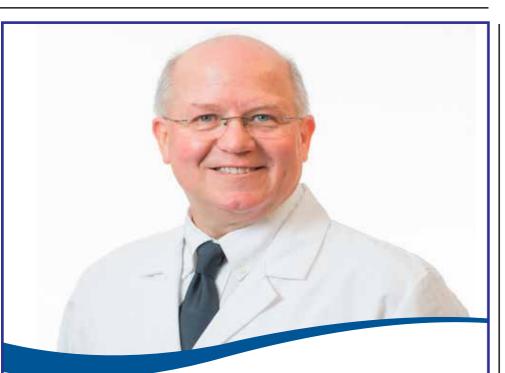

Hall begins, "Anyone in Sampson County appreciates the fact that we do spend their dollars here. If you work here and spend it generates our ability to help the schools, churches, and the local community. So, every dime spent at a small business is basically turned around to help other local causes we have."

"It keeps the Chamber going," adds Hall. "I'm fortunate in that I had an opportunity to go to work with a gentleman who had a family background, as well as myself, in Sampson County, and wanted to see things go on."

"Someone asked me the other day, Gary Wayne you about ready to retire? I said, I'm ready to retire, but who's going to take my place? I have a passion and love for Sampson County and I was lucky to marry a local girl whose dad gave me the opportunity to come work at Sessoms Jewelry. And I've work hard to make sure local people get an honest, trustworthy individual like myself and Deborah that will take care of them when they come in a timely matter and at a reasonable price."

Gary Wayne Hall says that at Sessoms Jewelry, they are more service orientated than product oriented. "We have several large corporations around here that depend on us to get them our watches, plaques and award gifts as recognition for someone. And I am proud to say that if they look on the back of it they see Sessoms Jewelry. It says they went to a local jewelry store to get it. They didn't go online to Amazon or somewhere else to get a cheap price for it."

"They wanted to get something they knew they would appreciate, get it wrapped and say I got mine at Sessoms Jewelry. And Gary Wayne and his wife have been good supporters of the community, and we look forward to seeing them for other things. At Sessoms Jewelry, in downtown Clinton, we are proud to part of the community."

Next, JW Simmons says that we have past the Thanksgiving holiday and are in the Christmas season. A busy time of year for his next guests, Mary Rose and Katlin Adkins. He begins this segment of the show stating that of the nearly 4 million retail shops in our nation, as many as 99% of those are considered small businesses with less than 50 employees.

He asks Katlin Adkins to discuss how her efforts help fortify and bring in new business. Adkins explains, "Well, the Chamber always supports shopping small and shopping local. And also, the majority of our members in Sampson County are small businesses."

"We do have those big industry leaders," says Adkins, "but the majority of our members are small businesses. And we see that growing continuously through the year.

Next, Simmons turns to Mary Rose to ask as director of the planning and zoning department, often people think of her office as working to restrict business, but in fact, restriction is a very small part of what she does. Simmons asks Rose to comment on that assessment.

"It is a very small piece of it," says Rose. "In fact, for the longest time I've tried to get people to understand, we are the Clinton-Sampson Planning and Development department. And I try not to use the word zoning as much. Zoning is a component of it, but what most people don't realize is the rules and regulations are there to help the citizen."

Rose explains that her department's role is in the planning and development of the community, and zoning is a small part of that role. "I think it's a positive," adds Rose. "I think managed growth and planned development is a good thing."

Simmons next asks Adkins about how small businesses and downtown businesses often see people as more than just a customer, but rather most often these businesses often view people more as neighbors.

"Absolutely," says Adkins, "Especially in Sampson County because we are in such a rural area."

"I always tell our existing businesses, members of the Chamber, as well as new businesses, that people do business with people they know. So, those relationships you build with, not only your customers, but everybody in the community in Sampson County, you will really see that benefit in your business when they come in the door."

Adkins says that part of the Chamber's mission is to help build those connections between the community and small businesses so that people will shop at their neighbor's business rather than shopping at businesses in other counties.

Next, Simmons says that as much as 6 to 7 billion dollars will be spent online this week. He asks Mary Rose to discuss how downtown Clinton competes with that, and if the atmosphere of downtown shopping is worth not going online to make purchases.

"I think you have to build off what Katlin talked about," says Rose. "The sense of loyalty in shopping locally, just as Gary Wayne said. You may save a few more dollars by shopping online sometimes, but is that online company going to be there for you when you need a repair."

"Is it going to be easy, fast, with good service," asks Rose.

Rose also suggests that downtown merchants also have an online presence as well. "It's something that we, as staff, need to continue to work with the Chamber and the Small Business Center at the college. We need to make sure that our businesses have the tools they need to be competitive in that online market if they would like to do so."

In addition to their roles as Chamber Director and Planning and Development Director, Katlin Adkins and Mary Rose also play major roles in ensuring community events are successful, especially during the holiday season.

Two such events, Christmas in the City and the Christmas in Clinton Parade, are slated for December 7th and December 9th this year.

Christmas in the City will be December 7th from 5:00 PM to 8:30 PM. This annual event features a community tree lighting, carriage and hay rides around downtown, Santa on the Courthouse Square, Kiwanis Secret Christmas Shop, live Christmas music at two locations (City Market and Courthouse Square.

Relive Christmas memories at the Sampson County History Museum. Entries from the Sampson Arts Council's gingerbread house decorating contest will be on display, and children are encouraged to come decorate a gingerbread treat of their own.

VA Announces Rollout and Application Process for New Veterans ID Card

WASHINGTON - Today the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) announced that the application process for the national Veterans Identification Card (VIC) is now available for Veterans - yet another action honoring their service.

This has been mandated through legislation since 2015 to honor Veterans, and today's rollout of the ID card fulfills that overdue promise.

Only those Veterans with honorable service will be able to apply for the ID card, which will provide proof of military service, and may be accepted by retailers in lieu of the standard DD- 214 form to obtain promotional discounts and other services where offered to Veterans.

"The new Veterans Identification Card provides a safer and more convenient and efficient way for most Veterans to show proof of service," said VA Secretary Dr. David J. Shulkin. "With the card, Veterans with honorable service to our nation will no longer need to carry around their paper DD-214s to obtain Veteran discounts and other services."

The VIC provides a more portable and secure alternative for those who served the minimum obligated time in service, but did not meet the retirement or medical discharge threshold. Veterans who served in the armed forces, including the reserve components, and who have a discharge of honorable or general (under honorable conditions) can request a VIC.

To request a VIC, Veterans must visit vets.gov, click on "Apply for Printed Veteran ID Card" on the bottom left of the page and sign in or create an account.

Veterans who apply for a card should receive it within 60 days and can check delivery status of their cards at vets. gov. A digital version of the VIC will be available on line by mid-December.

Simple Seasonal Safety Tips Limit your home fire risk during the holidays

t may be the most wonderful time of year, but it can also be one of the most dangerous. Along with the cooking and decorations that make the season magical, the holidays present risks for home fires and burns. An independent survey conducted by Shriners Hospitals for Children[®] found that many Americans do not follow key fire and burn safety tips despite being aware of dangerous risks. For example, 25 percent of respondents reported leaving lit candles unattended, and 27 percent said they have left them in reach of children.

'Some of these findings seem alarming, but each year our burn hospitals see the unfortunate results – children who have been injured in cooking related accidents or in fires associated with holiday decorations or candles," said Kenneth Guidera, M.D., chief medical officer for Shriners Hospitals for Children. "These injuries can mean years of ongoing treatments and extensive rehabilitation for a child. That's why we encourage families to learn about fire safety and prevention before a tragedy occurs."

Fire and burn hazards are prevalent in many homes throughout the holidays, and Shriners Hospitals for Children offers these tips to remind families how to stay safe:

 Never leave lit candles unattended. If you must use flame-burning candles, make sure to extinguish them when you leave playing in front of the mirror. A lit tea light candle on the corner of the sink ignited her clothes.

Tracy heard Julianna's screams from down the hall, ran to the bathroom and saw her daughter's dress on fire. She patted out the flames and family members called an ambulance. Julianna spent three weeks at Shriners Hospitals for Children — Cincinnati to treat the third-degree burns that covered the left side of her body. Julianna, now 8-yearsold, is doing well but faces ongoing treatment as she grows. "We are very lucky," Tracy said. "Julianna will be fine thanks to the care she received. We all get busy during this time of year, but it is so important for parents to make sure they are following basic safety tips to keep their kids safe."

Ephesians 1:3-5 "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ: According as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love: Having predestinated us unto the adoption of children by Jesus Christ to himself, according to the good pleasure of his will."

On a recent trip to Wilmington, North Carolina I took the time to stop by The Donut Inn. Many of my friends know of my joy in trying different donut shops. Nothing seemed very special about this donut shop, but I wanted to mark this donut adventure off my list. Glazing at the different selections that they had to offer, the manager asked, "Is this your first visit to the Donut Inn?" After answering this friendly gentleman's question he then said,

The Free Doughnut

"Well let's make this the perfect day and get you a free donut." I thought to myself, "Wow, no shop has offered me one of their delicious donuts for free." Perhaps the store manager was right and this was going to be the perfect day.

However, have you ever really thought what makes for a perfect day? Maybe it's a promotion at work, making the final payment on your automobile, a chance meeting with some longtime friend or a complimentary donut. While there's nothing wrong with those things, something really is missing for any of them to rank as a true perfect day.

The key to an authentic perfect day for a believer in Jesus Christ is being led by His Spirit that day. The apostle Paul gives us a clue when he distinguishes between things of the flesh and things of the Spirit. Things of the flesh merely gratify natural tastes and desires, like holding a new born baby, something I'm sure Paul would approve. The problem arises when these self-gratifying things, no matter how innocent, become an obsession for us. In that case, they keep us from demonstrating our faith by doing the things that Christ did.

Often, we must remind ourselves that we are Christians and that Christ is at the core of our life. Unless we are careful, we can go from this moment all the way to the cemetery without ever adopting as a preeminent theme the presence of Christ in our lives. Have you taken the time to ask yourself, "Do I exemplify the essence of Christianity? Am I pervaded with kindness, service, humility, forgiveness and love?"

We are blessed when we have Christ within us, regardless of our income or the weather or if someone gave us a free donut. As a child of God, we have Christ living within us, we have the potential to have a blessing every day.

This week I encourage you to arrange your priorities so the Holy Spirit will take control of your life every moment. The presence of Jesus Christ can transform you from within, so that you might make a difference in the world outside. Also, if you were pondering about stopping by the Deput Inp. I would recommend doing

Donut Inn, I would recommend doing so.

AUTUMN IS HERE!

I absolutely love this time of year! Autumn has always been my favorite season. The weather cools off and sweaters come out! The smell of wood burning travels up the chimney and out into the crisp fall air! But Daddy grew several rows of "Indian Corn" and lots of pumpkins. We gathered Daddy's "Indian Corn" just like we gathered his regular field corn to go into the corn crib, by hand. We walked down the rows of corn, grabbed an ear and gave it a twist, just like Daddy showed us. Snap, off it came and into the trailer behind Daddy's red Farmall tractor it went! We children knew that meant Christmas wasn't far behind! The wood fires in the heaters, the smell of pumpkin pie and sweet potatoes baking in Mama's oven sent a happy, warm feeling all through me!

Around Thanksgiving sale papers started arriving in the mail from the Western Auto in Wallace. What a thrill I got looking at all the toys in there! I spent many of a happy hour "oohing and ahhing" over the toys in that sale paper, and in the Sears Christmas catalog. There were some of the most beautiful dolls I had ever seen in there!

It was a wonderful time to get ready for the excitement of Christmas that was heading our way!

Mama would take some pumpkins and take her Old Hickory butcher knife and split them in half. Then she pulled out all the seed and "guts." She covered the top rack of her oven with tin foil and placed the pumpkins on it. She baked them until the pumpkin was done. Then she took them out of the oven, let them cool and scooped out the delicious pumpkin. That is how she made her pumpkin pies. No pumpkin in the can for her!

Most often she would replace the pumpkin halves with sweet potatoes in the hot oven. They baked up golden and delicious. Mama always kept a plate of sweet potatoes on the kitchen table in the fall and winter. My daddy loved a baked sweet potato with a glass of cold buttermilk or a steaming hot cup of coffee for a snack!

Those wonderful autumn days of my childhood are long

Leaves turn crimson, gold, and umber. Scarecrows and bright orange pumpkins pop up in yards like magic mushrooms! It's time for hot apple cider and pots of chili or homemade vegetable soup simmering on the stove.

It's a glorious time of the year. And it always brings back fond memories of my childhood. Growing up on our farm in southern Sampson county, we had plenty of beautiful natural decorations for fall. I really can't recall any store-bought decorations for this wonderful season. The Indian Corn was kept separate. It was used strictly for decorating. Some family and friends looked forward every fall to getting a few ears to decorate with. Daddy fixed them right up! And, of course he kept a few ears for seed.

We placed the brightly colored ears of "Indian Corn" around here and there, tied dry corn stalks into bundles and placed orange pumpkins in front of them! Fall was officially here! gone, faded into the past. But the sweet memories linger on, brought to my mind with the first glimpse of fall.

Yes, I love this time of the year. I long for simpler days and loved ones gone now. But, at the same time, I thank God for family and friends and sweet memories. And for the wonderful taste of pumpkin pie!

Now is the Time to Sign Up for Health Insurance

The time to sign up for 2018 health coverage is here, and unlike previous years, there is only one deadline. The Health Insurance Marketplace Open Enrollment period starts on Nov. 1 and runs until Dec.15. During Open Enrollment, you can enroll for health insurance or, if you already have coverage, you can re-enroll for 2018 coverage. If you currently have a plan from CuidadoDeSalud. gov, the Open Enrollment period is the time for you to compare plans to make sure you have the best plan for you. This is the only time you can change your health insurance plan. Visit CuidadoDeSalud.gov today to shop and compare plans and find out if you qualify for assistance.

Marketplace plans cover a range of services, including preventive care, doctor's visits, prescriptions and hospitalizations. Even if you were enrolled last year, you should still visit CuidadoDeSalud.gov to shop and compare plans. You might find a plan that better fits your needs. CuidadoDeSalud.gov has tools to help you figure out which plan will work best for you for the upcoming year, and you can see if you qualify for assistance.

Remember, if you want health coverage in 2018 enroll by Dec. 15. While online at CuidadoDeSalud.gov is the easiest way to apply, select the right plan, and enroll all in one sitting, you can also call 1-800-318-2596 for help.

Don't wait until it is too late to be covered. Visit CuidadoDeSalud.gov or call 1-800-318-2596 to shop for the best plan for you. Enroll by Dec. 15.

You'll Shoot Your Eye Out Kid!

by R. Thomas Barowsky, MD

These prophetic words from the movie "The Story" Christmas are ingrained in every parent's mind when there youngster starts thinking about how cool it would be to get a BB gun or air rifle for Christmas. Having survived Black Friday, Small Business Friday and Cyber Monday, the holiday shopping season is in full swing. I thought a few words of wisdom on selecting "eye safe" gifts might be helpful.

Since we don't typically worry about lead poisoning when it relates to eye safety and since the experts have already beaten it to death, I'll leave that discussion alone. What I'd like to talk about is some common sense observations on eye safety at Christmas time.

It is obvious that any gift that consists of small or large flying objects, whether propelled by a coiled spring, compressed air or rubber bands, has the potential to cause serious unintentional harm to the eye. Even the "safe" toys such as foam rockets and balls, ping-pong balls etc, all carry some risk of injury to someone on the wrong end of the toy. I recently saw an ad for a toy gun that will shoot up to three sponge tipped projectiles at a time. Imagine the amount of injury you could cause playing inside on a cold day with that marvelous toy.

our possession along with a stern warning from our Dad of what to expect from him if the rules were ignored (always very effective). Now there is at least one state that is threatening to throw children in jail for not registering their BB guns as firearms. How far we have come as a society.

Remember also that Christmas time is a time when we may not think as clearly about the things around us. Running into the Christmas tree could mean a nasty scratch to the eye from the pine needles. If you have a real tree there is also the risk of getting a serious infection from whatever happens to have taken up residence on the needles including bacteria, fungi and molds. Hanging decorations may seem out of harms way when you put them up, but If you are 5'4" tall and your cousin is 6'4" tall he may be right at eye level with your pretty and pointy decorations. Don't forget that aerosolized gifts such as body sprays and perfumes, Silly String or a whole host of other fun products can be accidentally sprayed in the eyes if you are not careful.

responsible adult or parent even with a BB gun, air rifle or pellet gun is vitally important.

Always wear safety glasses when shooting 3. BB guns, air rifles and pellet guns.

4. Never point something with any kind of projectile at anyone for any reason even if it has a soft sponge tip. Scratches on the eye are very painful and can cause additional problems later on.

Watch where you point that spray bottle of perfume. You might think its funny to have your brother or boyfriend smell like one of your girlfriends but he may not and end up with an eyeful of your favorite scent. That goes for you guys too. Not everyone wants to smell like your body spray. Watch out for decorations and ornaments 6. that, left unattended, could cause an injury to people who are not paying attention.

When I was a kid my deepest wish was to get the Lone Ranger matched pistol set with roll caps for authentic gunfight sounds and action. Even these toys carried a certain amount of risk for the shooter. As the roll caps exploded there was always the risk of paper debris flying into your eyes if you held the gun too close to your face. When we graduated to BB guns I think it nearly sent my Mother over the edge. Her sons were going to kill each other or at least lose an eye before it was all over. Fortunately, that didn't happen because we were taught to properly respect any kind of firearm in

A few words to the wise about eye safety will help to keep the holidays happy and healthy.

BB guns, air rifles and pellet guns are not toys 1. and should be treated as the weapons they really are. Proper firearm handling instruction by a 2.

Next week I'll post my annual emergency eye care column so that you will be prepared for nearly any type of eye injury that may try to disrupt your holiday celebration.

If you have questions about your eye health e-mail Dr. Barowsky at doctom@tdkj.com and we'll try to answer your questions here at Eve-O.

Sampson County Football Season Ends Lakewood Leopards End Season After Third Round Loss

After beating Pender (34-0) and East Carteret (41-40 OT) in the first and second rounds of the NCHSAA 1-AA State Football Playoffs, respectively, the Lakewood Leopards fell to John A. Holmes (49-7) in the third round of the playoffs last week.

"The game Friday was a rough one," notes Leopard Head Coach James Lewis. "However, one game does not define a season. This team had a great year."

The Aces took an early 7-0 lead after the first quarter and then exploded in the second quarter scoring 35 more points to take a 42-0 lead into the half.

Holmes' senior Keimon Bailey finished with 15 carries for 166 yards and 2 touchdowns, while Dequantae Spruill finished with 132 yards and 3 touchdowns. With the Aces in total control (49-0 after three quarters) Lakewood's sole score of the game came in the fourth after an impressive drive by the Leopard offense that was capped by a 6-yard run by Jahdon Smith (Smith finished the game with 78 yards rushing).

Despite the loss, the Leopards had another successful season with highlights that included tying the school record for wins (at 11); a 7-0 shutout record at home; eight shutouts this season; scoring an average of 34 points per game; and gave up a paltry 12 points per game.

"This was a great group of young men," Lewis said proudly. "They have high character and were very hard workers."

The team consisted of: Hayden Carter; Cameron Sessoms; Dylan Ivey; Jawaun Johnson; Andre Rich; Taureon Owens; Tillyon Williams; Shemar Tucker; Ellijah

Davis; Tyler Hobbs; Immanuel Mitchell; Ethan Holmes; Jameek Johnson; Jaylen Torres; Harold Faison; Bryce Tanner; Jahdon Smith; Allen Faircloth; Luke Brewer; Calab Hardison; Hunter Culbreth; Joshua Carter; Tristan Holmes; Jaylin Avery; Chris Perez; Michael Thames; Julian Sandoval; Dyllan Edge; Chris Smith; Pablo Marcias; Kevin Holley; J.J. Johnson; Christian Logan; Kristopher Teasdale; and Michael Owens.

The coaching staff consisted of: Lewis; Telfair Simpson; Darren Hulen; Jonathan Hall; Darius Powell; Jake Davidson; Larry Bass; and Austin Tanner (first responder).

The Aces (12-1) will battle Tarboro (13-0) tonight in the Regional Finals. The winner will face the winner of the Mt. Airy/Murphy game on December 9 for the State Championship.

Clinton High's Ashlyn Williams Delivers Career-High Performance, Earns POW Honors

On Tuesday night, Clinton High School junior Ashlyn Williams delivered a career-high 32 points in a 52-51 season opening victory over Southern Wayne.

In addition, the standout captain added 9 rebounds and 5 steals.

"It seemed like I was hitting everything," the 16-year-old Williams said Wednesday night. "I was just 'on' last night." was evident during pre-season workouts.

"We knew that we were going to be young this year," Williams explains, "we lost a lot of seniors last year, so we knew coming in that we would need to work on that chemistry. We worked that out and then needed to just play together and get a feel for how we would play together ... we played in Wilmington and worked hard over the summer, so we put in the work."

Although Williams says the team is taking each game "one game at a time" this season, she acknowledges that the way the team played in the opener was a good first step.

"We worked really hard over the summer," she said. "We seemed to get things flowing last night and once we did, it was easy to work with each other."

Born and raised in Clinton, Williams, also a star soccer player for Clinton High, said that she began playing sports when she was little.

"I have played soccer ever since I could walk," she said with a laugh. "I played soccer with all boys when I played on my travel soccer team [a team she played on until she was 12] and I played recreation basketball with boys and girls when I was little."

Williams never looked back, continuing to play both sports throughout middle and high school.

"I don't have a favorite," she insists. "I really enjoy playing both of them." on anything yet."

In other words, she is weighing her options.

"I am looking to play sports in college," Williams admits. "It just all depends on what I go for. Honestly, I would play either one (soccer or basketball)."

Would she rule out playing professionally? "No. I mean, if I had the opportunity to play professionally, I would ... but, sports aren't my entire life."

Williams said that while in college, she plans on studying pre-med to become a pediatric oncologist.

"Two years ago, my cousin was diagnosed with leukemia," Williams explains. "I was just in awe and inspired with the way the doctors treated him and took care of him while helping him get better. I just loved watching him with them while he kept getting better. I knew that's what I wanted to do."

However, for now, Williams said she is going to enjoy her final year and a half at Clinton High School.

"I know it is going to be hard to leave this school," she admits with honesty. "It is like family to me, really. While it is going to be hard, it is also going to be exciting to move on with the next chapter in my life. So, I am just going to enjoy it."

That will start with a quick rematch with Southern Wayne tonight and then battle with cross-town rivals Lakewood in two games next week.

In addition to her stellar play in the opener, Coach Chris Owens nominated her to be this week's Performance Auto/Sampson Weekly Star Athlete of the Week.

"No, he didn't tell me anything about it," Williams said. "I am really honored that he thought that much about me to nominate me for this award."

One of just three juniors on this year's Dark Horse squad (with Alexcia Boykin and Jaida Lee, respectively), Williams said that even though the team is young (Clinton is led by three seniors this season - Alex Canady, Destiny Faircloth and Mariah Whitted) their chemistry A straight 'A' student with a 4.13 GPA, Williams has played on Clinton's varsity basketball team since her freshman year.

"I always looked up to Mikayla Boykin," she said. "When I came in as a freshman, the older girls took me under their wings ... that is what I am trying to do to the younger girls. I want to pass it down, like it was done to me."

Even though she is in her junior year, Williams is already getting looks from colleges, although she hasn't decided on any school just yet.

"I would like to go to Chapel Hill," she said, "and I have been to some colleges in New York that are very nice ... but I haven't decided "We really want to get to the playoffs this season and make a run at it," Williams said about her team's chances making it to the playoffs this season. "It would be nice to finish strong this season."

When asked who she would like to thank, Williams said that she is blessed to be surrounded with support.

"I would just like to thank all of my family members, my coaches and my teammates for everything," she said. "They have always been there and have always been a great source of support for me."

SPORTS =

November 15, 2017, Harrells, NC - Cade Hancock of Elizabethtown, a junior at Harrells Christian Academy, has raised more than $25,000 for two charities in the American Junior Golf Association's Leadership Links competition. In recognition of his accomplishment, Cade was invited to play golf with PGA Pro Ricky Fowler at one of his home courses in Jupiter, Florida last month.

Over 100 junior golfers participated in the competition, started in 2009 by AJGA to encourage young, talented golfers to gain real-world experience in how to connect their sport to helping others and giving back. Cade's first step was to identify a charity of his choice to receive 50% of any donations he raised, with the other 50% going to the AJGA grant program for underprivileged junior golfers. Cade's choice of Operation Smile was simple and swift. Having watched his sister Cassie undergo more than ten operations to repair the cleft palate she was born with, he was eager to support an organization that provides those repairs to other kids with a similar need.

That eagerness didn't mean that the work of raising funds was easy, or that Cade didn't have fears about joining this competition. When his father first proposed that he sign up, Cade felt mostly hesitation. Then, as he later testified in church, "I heard a still small voice telling me to do it, and I got on board." Setting what seemed an unreachable goal of $1,000,

The power of sports. It's something we often take for granted. We get so lost in how our favorite teams are playing at any ranks. Admit it, you've got into a hollering contest with parents from the other team in your child's little league baseball game, haven't you?

HCA Golfer Breaks National Record In Fundraising Competition

Cade Hancock is in dark blue shirt, Ricky Fowler is in teal blue shirt.

Cade started writing letters, knocking on doors, and making phone calls. When he reached $1,000, he set a new goal, and kept going.

Cade's golf coach and HCA's Assistant Headmaster Andy Wells could not be prouder of his player. He says, "I am truly excited for Cade, not only for the money that he raised for these charities, but that he was able reap the rewards of his work by winning the competition. It's the same work ethic that has made him such a good golfer with such great potential."

By the end of the competition, Cade's $25,000 in donations from 118 donors topped the amount raised by any other young golfer in the history of the Leadership Links competition. "It's been amazing to watch," said Cade's father Jim Hancock, "but not unbelievable. We said just turn this over to the Lord, do the best you can, and see where it goes." Cade adds, "At the beginning I definitely did feel some hesitation. And if it weren't for that still small voice I would not have reached anywhere near that amount. I've gained a whole lot of new confidence and skills, and my sister was real tickled that I chose Operation Smile. I'm so glad that AGJA does this."

But the part that we often take for granted is the camaraderie of it. Whether you are playing, or cheering, sports helps to create a family atmosphere. It could be relationships built in the golf course, playing church league softball, or cheering on your children in the recreational, middle school, or high school sports.

With the divisiveness that comes with being an American today, it is nice to be able to identify with a group of people on one side of the stadium or gym, and be able to be passionate about something together.

No democrats. No republicans. Just fans. Just athletes. And a common goal.

That's the underappreciated power of sports. Its innate ability to bring people together, without anyone ever really knowing it. No dispute over politics or religion. Nothing more controversial than a strike or a ball.

We may not even realize it, but it's part of the reason we are so drawn to sports. And when your team succeeds, being able to share that feeling of exuberance with the people that you have cheered along with for so long. There's something special about it.

We've all done something crazy that we wish we hadn't because of sports. What does that in itself tell you? We take them pretty seriously.

What is it that binds us so closely to these so called "games"? Is it that we really get that much joy from being able to talk trash to those who cheer for another team? Yeah, maybe that is part of it.

So, next time you're out there, take a second to quietly think about how nice it is to have something that allows us to escape from that stress from your job. You can escape from turning on the news and hearing what else went wrong.

We're lucky to have it. And while it can and will drive us crazy, it can and will make us inexplicably happy. So, thank you sports, we don't think about it enough, but we don't know what we would do without you.

MCA Opens Basketball with Big Wins

Mintz Christian Academy opened its basketball season with the varsity girls and boys notching wins against Falcon Christian Academy.

The Lady Lions jumped in front with a 9-2 lead, but FCA closed to 12-6 before MCA opened the lead at the half to 9 points. The third quarter saw back and forth action, with the Lions still maintained at a 9- point advantage. The Lady Lions held off an FCA surge and expanded the lead to 11 points to cap the win at 30-19. Taylor Faircloth lead all scoring with 16 points and 1 assist followed by Emma White with 9 points and 4 assists. Coach Heinz said, "Our girls worked hard tonight. FCA has several strong players, but we stayed with what was working, and FCA didn't have an answer."

The varsity boys game was an intense physical matchup. The Lions jumped out to an early lead and controlled the first quarter by 8 points. The second quarter saw FCA narrow the lead to 4. The second half was tight, but the Lions held on to finish the win by a score of 47-42. Senior Josh Davis lead all scoring with 22 points and 3 assists, with Daniel Matthews and Evan Plant each adding 8, and Grant Horne with 7. Coach Joe Hedrick praised the boys' effort saying, "I was really proud of a total team effort tonight. FCA was big and fast, but we were able to compete by playing team defense and working the ball."

The Lions with travel to Laurinburg on Thursday to face Scotland Christian and home on Friday to host Grace Christian from Loris, SC.

Harvesting Dreams: Sampson Native Pursues Future in Agriculture

For many, career ideas and aspirations are discovered well into a college career. For others, plans for the future come from a childhood dream. For Roseboro native Amanda Kook, the foundation of her future was sown in the soil of Sampson County.

Unlike many agricultural students, Kook did not come from a farming family. However, that did not dissuade her.

"Growing up in a rural area allowed me to view farming differently than others," Kook said. "We are surrounded by agriculture."

Kook got involved with FFA at Lakewood High School. She took numerous courses under the instruction of engaging teachers. It was during these years that she discovered the depth of the industry and developed a passion for it.

Kook soon realized that the work of farmers is the foundation for the entire world. "Without it we would not be alive. I love being a part of that."

Wanting to pursue an education and a career in agriculture, Kook enrolled at the University of Mount Olive. She is majoring in agriculture production with a concentration in animal science.

"I love the sense of community between the students and the faculty in the UMO Ag Department," she said. Kook's time at UMO has been full of academic success. She has made the dean's list for multiple semesters, worked as a campus tour guide, and served as a member of the Collegiate FFA.

Through the UMO Ag Department, Kook was able to land two internships with Prestage Farms in Clinton. Her first internship was on a sow farm working with sows and pigs. Her second internship was in one of the company's artificial insemination labs.

"I have really enjoyed both of my internships with Prestage Farms because they have allowed me to learn a great deal about the swine industry," She said.

Following the internship, Kook was offered and accepted a job with the Prestage.

Kook feels that many of her life choices have been influenced by her Sampson County roots, and she is grateful to have grown up in an area that could give her such an appreciation for the farming industry and those who are a part of it.

"Growing up here has allowed me to learn and see how much farmers care about their products and the people they are producing it for. It has allowed me to learn that I can be happy in agriculture and help others while doing it."

Kook is set to graduate from UMO in May 2018. She is the daughter of Regina and Christopher Kook, and sister to twin brother, Andrew.

Angel Tree at SCC

Sampson Community College believes in helping students in or outside the classroom. The college's SGA believes everyone should experience the JOY of giving and receiving during the holiday season. Therefore, the SGA has set up its annual Angel Tree for unprivileged students at the college. Individuals and departments on campus choose a name from the tree and purchase the gifts for the individual whose name appears on the back of an ornament. SGA President, Shadavia Pridgen-Boddie, leads students in setting up this year's tree.

Eye of the Beholder

Sampson Community College held a design competition in its Cosmetology department. From left to right are Casey Foss with "The Christmas Tree", who won the competition's Most Creative award, Amber Clark and her entry "The Unicorn", Jordan Tew with "The New Year's Eve" and overall winner, Madelin Mendoza with "The Mermaid". Winners each received a gift card from Sally Beauty, which allows them to purchase additional supplies needed to perform routine Cosmetology services at SCC. Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

"A few days later Mary hurried to the hill country of Judea, to the town where Zechariah lived. She entered the house and greeted Elizabeth. At the sound of Mary's greeting, Elizabeth's child leaped within her, and Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit. Elizabeth gave a glad cry and exclaimed to Mary, "God has blessed you above all women, and your child is blessed. Why am I so *hon*ored, that the mother of my Lord should visit me? When I heard your greeting, the baby in my womb jumped for joy. You are blessed because you believed that the Lord would do what he said."

Chamber Chat

By Kaitlin Norris, Executive Director Clinton-Sampson Chamber of Commerce

Can you believe that Thanksgiving is behind us and we are gearing up for everything Christmas?! This holiday season should be one for the books. With so many fun memories to be made, it is no wonder why they call it the most wonderful time of the year.

It is the last few days to get in your Christmas Parade Application! Join us and Santa on December 9th for a magical parade to help kick off the holiday season. Bring your friends and loved ones out at 10:00am to downtown Clinton to spread the joy!

We will be spreading more holiday cheer at our December Business After Hours with Performance Chrysler, Dodge, Jeep, Ram. Come on out on December 12th at 5:00pm for some delicious food and networking opportunities. This is your chance to let the Chamber work for you and your business and make those connections!

If you are looking to kick off this Holiday Season right then join us at Christmas in the City on Thursday, December 7th starting at 5:30pm. There will be music, hay rides, carriage rides, gingerbread houses, and santa! So much fun is to be had by all! We look forward to seeing you there!

For any information about upcoming events this holiday season you can email us at info@clintonsampsonchamber.org or give us a call at 910-592-6177. We encourage you to get out and get involved in our community during this wonderful season.

The Sampson County Convention and Visitors Bureau's primary mission is to market and promote Sampson County, its assets and its industry partners to attract business and leisure travelers.

5 WAYS SOCIAL SECURITY PROTECTS YOU AND YOUR FAMILY

Next payday, when you see a portion of your wages go toward FICA taxes, rest easier knowing that your investment in Social Security brings a lifetime of protections for you and your family.

From your first job and throughout your career, we track your earnings and give you credits for the contributions you have made through payroll taxes. Those credits can translate into important future benefits. As you prepare for a financially secure future, you should know about these five benefits that you, your spouse, and your children might become eligible for through Social Security:

Retirement benefits provide you with a continuous source of income later in life. If you have earned enough credits, you can start receiving your full retirement benefits at age 66 or 67 — depending on when you were born. You may choose to claim these benefits as early as age 62 at a permanently reduced rate, but waiting until after your full retirement age increases your benefit amount by up to 8 percent per year to age 70. Plan for your retirement at: www.socialsecurity.gov/planners/ retire.

Disability benefits offer a financial lifeline if you have a serious medical condition that makes it impossible for you to work and provide for yourself and your family and is expected to last at least one year or to result in death. Learn more at www. socialsecurity.gov/disability.

Child benefits support your minor children while you are receiving Social Security retirement benefits or disability benefits. This financial support also is available to adult children who become disable before age 22. Grandchildren and stepchildren may qualify in certain situations. Please see: www.socialsecurity.gov/people/kids.

Spousal benefits supplement a couple's income if one of the two never worked or had low lifetime earnings. In some cases, this benefit is also available to divorced spouses. Please see: www.socialsecurity.gov/planners/retire/applying6.html.

Survivor benefits ease the financial burden on your loved ones after you die by providing monthly payments to eligible widows, widowers, children, and dependent parents. It is likely the survivor benefits you have under Social Security carry greater value than your individual life-insurance policy. Read more about survivor benefits at www.socialsecurity.gov/survivors.

You must meet specific eligibility requirements to receive any type of Social Security benefits.

Currently, Social Security provides benefits to more than 61 million American workers and their families. We will be there for you and your family through life's journey.
