Once your verses are written, I'll email them to you for approval. If you would like any changes, I'm happy to make them. When you're satisfied with the final versions, I will print them onto the cards and post them to you in time for the wedding.

Overleaf is an example of the card and accompanying verse for the "Two Days to Go Until I Say I Do" milestone, taken from my son's wedding.

Your 7-day countdown box will arrive nestled inside an elegant ivory keepsake box, wrapped lovingly with a soft, shimmering gold ribbon. It's designed to feel like the beginning of something magical — a little moment of romance before the celebrations even begins.
