December Reflections

As we close the chapter on this year, we find myself reflecting on the journey that brought us here. It's been a road filled with challenges, moments of doubt, and sighs that carried the weight of heavy hearts. But woven through those moments were glimmers of hope, countless blessings, and the steadfast power of faith.

December is often a time of celebration—a season of joy, family, and togetherness—but it's also a moment to pause, to honor how far we've come. Every step, even the hesitant ones, contributes to the stories we're building. The world often applauds the end result, the shining victories, but it's in the quiet, messy middle that we discover who we truly are. As women, we hold a profound, unshakable power: the power to create, to nurture, to build, and to lead. It's a strength that carries us through our darkest days and propels us toward brighter ones. It's the courage to say, "I may not have all the answers, but I'll keep going."

This month, let's celebrate not only the milestones but also the little victories—every time we showed up, even when it was hard. Let's honor the friendships that carried us, the faith that sustained us, and the dreams we continue to chase. Let's also remember the incredible power of community. We thrive when we support one another, whether by offering a kind word, an open ear, or a simple reminder that none of us are walking this journey alone.

As you read this month's edition of The Femme Fatale, may it inspire you to reflect on your own blessings, rekindle your hopes, and embrace the strength within you. Let it be a reminder of the remarkable force you are—and the extraordinary impact you have on the world around you.

Here's to a season filled with faith, love, and the unyielding belief that 2025 holds even greater things for us all. Together, we rise...

With love and light from the UCA Founder & Directors!

Spread The Christmas cheer

As the festive season fills our hearts with joy and gratitude, let's take a moment to share the magic of giving. Femme Fatale is calling on YOU to help us make a difference, one small act of kindness at a time.

For just R20, you can be part of something truly special. Every little bit adds up, and together we can empower women, support dreams, and create opportunities that change lives.

WHY R20?

It's less than the price of your holiday cappuccino or a quick snack, but its impact? Priceless! When we all chip in, the ripple effect can reach far beyond what we imagine.

Your donation will go directly toward our BackaBuddy campaign, funding female entrepreneur educational sponsorships and empowering the next generation of changemakers.

HERE'S HOW YOU CAN HELP:

- Visit our campaign page and donate your R20.
- Share this post with friends and family to amplify the impact.

Let's make this season a time of giving, hope, and empowerment. Together, we can light up lives—one small donation at a time.

Support, Promote & Donate. Because giving is the greatest gift.

A LIFE AND HOPE RESTORED BY HIS GRACE

by Lisa Fraser

It was Monday the 5th of April 2021 and a glorious morning in the alluring Waterberg in Limpopo. It was just two days after celebrating my fifty-first birthday, and knowing that we might soon emigrate to Ireland for a new adventure and leave this wonderful continent of Africa, my daughters and I set off on a horseback ride into the nature reserve to experience "walking" with giraffes and other wildlife.

During the outride I needed to change horses, but little did I know that this would change my life forever. The second horse decided to bolt uncontrollably and eventually I was thrown off. My head hit a rock, causing a severe concussion which was ultimately diagnosed as Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI). Because of the extent of my injuries, I had to be airlifted back to Johannesburg from Polokwane.

For the first week in ICU and High Care, I drifted in and out of consciousness with vague memory flashes. My sight was impaired as everything was in pyramid vision, where I saw people in multiples and diagonally. Eventually I was transferred to the general ward but still under twenty-four-hour monitoring. From there I was moved to a specialised rehabilitation centre in Sandton. My days were filled with multiple sessions with the neuropsychologist, physiotherapist, as well as speech and occupational therapists. I struggled learning to walk again, to regain full functionality of my sight, to read and to write again. COVID made things even more difficult as the facility was locked down, preventing me from seeing my family.

Part of my TBI was the impact damage to key parts of my brain, being the frontal and temporal lobes. This resulted in daily struggles with, amongst other things, short-term memory loss, anxiety and ultimately depression, to the point of suicidal thoughts, for which I was admitted to a wellness rehabilitation centre in October of last year. This was extremely traumatic for both me and my family.

original publication: Rivers Church Sisters Magazine May 2022

During those dark days I felt all alone but I needed to realise that I was not actually alone, for GOD was always with me. When I felt lost and with no purpose in life, God sent me a friend to remind me of my love for Him. She reminded me how I had inspired her to walk with Jesus and how my love for Him had led me to start studying Theology prior to my accident. God sent people to encourage me and I was also able to tell others of God's love for them – from a nurse who had lost her sister moments before her marriage and was still angered at God, to a fellow patient who was a young student who had not yet known that much about God.

During my recovery, when I felt helpless and deserted, my husband reached out to the Rivers Church leadership for encouragement and support, and the power of their prayers were felt constantly. I continue to heal from my injuries and it is a daily struggle, but every day I see God's hopes and dreams for my life. Just days after celebrating my fifty second birthday and one year on from my accident, I am in a good space. I am enjoying my life once again and all God has for me, from the little things like appreciating food, as my taste buds are being restored, to being able to enjoy art classes. I was also able to resume my studies recently and I have received good grades. So I sit here writing this article in total awe of all of God's miracles and providence in my life. Despite my challenges, I will continue to lean on His promises as reflected in His Word.

"For I know the plans I have for You," declares the LORD, "plans to prosper you and not harm you, plans to give you hope and a future."
Jeremiah 29:11 (NIV)

"...renew my life, for this was your promise..."
Psalm 119: 41 (TLB)

Our Lord God is omnipotent. I know that His grace has and will continue to bless me and my family despite any challenges that come our way. I know that God is the God of restoration and that He is busy restoring my life and using my experience for His glory and splendour! And by God's grace, my husband got a great job offer here in South Africa. So we get to remain in our beautiful country where we can continue enjoying our walks among the wildlife!

DANCING THROUGH LIFE & SWEETENING IT UP

The journey of Tiffany

by Tiffany Wiese

Meet Tiffany Wiese, a dynamic and multifaceted individual who has effortlessly blended her passion for dance with her love for baking, creating a unique path that is as inspiring as it is delicious.

A STEP INTO DANCE

From the age of 13, Tiffany found solace and expression in the world of dance. Her journey began with Belly Dancing, where she quickly stood out for her dedication and natural talent. Over the years, Tiffany has graced numerous stages, captivating audiences with her grace, precision, and heartfelt performances. She has trained in various styles, including Ballroom & Latin American, and earned the title of WDC World Amateur Belly Dancing Champion in 2011, 2012 & 2014.

SWEET BEGINNINGS

While dance has always been a core part of her life, Tiffany discovered another passion that would soon become a significant part of her identity - creating Royal Icing Cookies. Inspired by pictures of her great Gran's cake decorating, she began experimenting in the kitchen, turning simple ingredients into delightful treats. This hobby quickly transformed into a thriving business, and thus, Just T Goodies was born in 2022.

JUST T GOODIES

What started as a small home-based venture has now blossomed into a beloved local brand. Tiffany's cookie business specializes in beautifully decorated royal icing cookies. Each creation is a work of art, meticulously crafted and decorated with intricate designs that delight both the eyes and the taste buds. Her commitment to quality and her unique artistic touch have made her cookies a staple at events and celebrations throughout her community.

BALANCING ACTS

Balancing a career in dance with running a successful cookie business is no small feat, but Tiffany approaches it with the same passion and determination that have driven her throughout her life. In addition to her dancing and baking, she is also involved in day trading, which adds another layer of excitement and challenge to her daily routine. She currently teaches dance classes, sharing her love for the art with her students and inspiring the next generation of dancers. Her days are a whirlwind of baking sessions, trading, and teaching, yet she thrives on the energy and joy that all these pursuits bring.

LOOKING FORWARD

As she continues to pursue her dual passions, Tiffany remains committed to growing her cookie business while inspiring others through her dance. She dreams of expanding Just T Goodies to reach a wider audience and maybe even teaching dance on a larger scale.

In her journey, Tiffany embodies the spirit of a true Femme Fatale - strong, passionate, and endlessly creative. She is a testament to the power of following one's heart and creating a life that is uniquely fulfilling.

LolliLicious

Welcome to LolliLicious

My name is Amor Barnard and I am the owner and founder of LolliLicious SA. Our journey began in June 2023. After thinking and brainstorming what can I do as a hobby that is different, creative and unique and something I can turn into a small business. The dream of starting a small business that became my pride and joy.

Initially, my vision was to only create and play around with simple lollipop designs and flavours and I started with a few flavours and testing it out and tasting it.

Finally I started my own Facebook and Instagram page LolliLicious, where I made samples for schools and businesses with their logos on for them to see and taste the lollies. Our very first order that we have received was from Kiyana Sailing in Mossel Bay and they ordered 140x lollies and from there our small business just kept on growing day by day.

We are happy to say that we have just launched our brand new range which is a glitter lollipop. I just love a bit of a bling and bringing a bit of sparkles in our lollies just makes it more beautiful and enjoyable.

To all those who have joined us on this journey, we extend our heartfelt gratitude. Without your support, we wouldn't have been where we are today. We're excited to continue making beautiful, unique lollies for you to admire and adore just as we do with every order that we get.

Many blessings

VANESSA GRAY

A SOULFUL JOURNEY OF RESILIENCE, REINVENTION, AND RISING STARDOM

Vanessa Gray is a name that echoes with resilience, talent, and an unyielding passion for music and life. A seasoned musician with over two decades of experience, Vanessa's voice is unlike any other—a mesmerizing fusion of Cher's deep, powerful timbre, Alannah Myles' sultry smokiness, and her own undeniable uniqueness. Her performances are not just about entertainment; they are soulful experiences that captivate audiences, whether at intimate private parties, bustling pubs, or grand events...

Vanessa has graced some of South Africa's most prestigious stages, including Carnival City, showcasing her immense talent and versatility. However, her journey hasn't been without its struggles. During a significant chapter of her life, her then-husband managed her career, but the relationship was toxic and stifled her growth both personally and professionally. Despite the challenges, Vanessa's resilience carried her through, and she emerged stronger, ready to reclaim her voice and forge her own path.

Her story is a testament to her unwavering spirit. During the COVID-19 pandemic, when live performances came to a halt, Vanessa didn't let adversity stop her creativity. Instead, she explored new horizons and discovered a deep love for herbology. This journey led her to appreciate the incredible benefits of roses—a flower she describes as nature's embodiment of resilience, beauty, and healing. Out of this passion, Red Feather Infusion was born. This luxurious line of rose-infused bath products is a perfect blend of indulgence and wellness, offering a moment of relaxation and self-care in a hectic world.

Vanessa is more than just a performer; she is a giver. She consistently donates her time and energy to meaningful causes and is actively involved as a director of several NGOs, including the United Chicks Association (UCA). Through her leadership, she empowers women, fosters growth, and creates opportunities for others to rise. Her dedication to community upliftment is as inspiring as her music, making her a beacon of hope and positivity in the lives she touches.

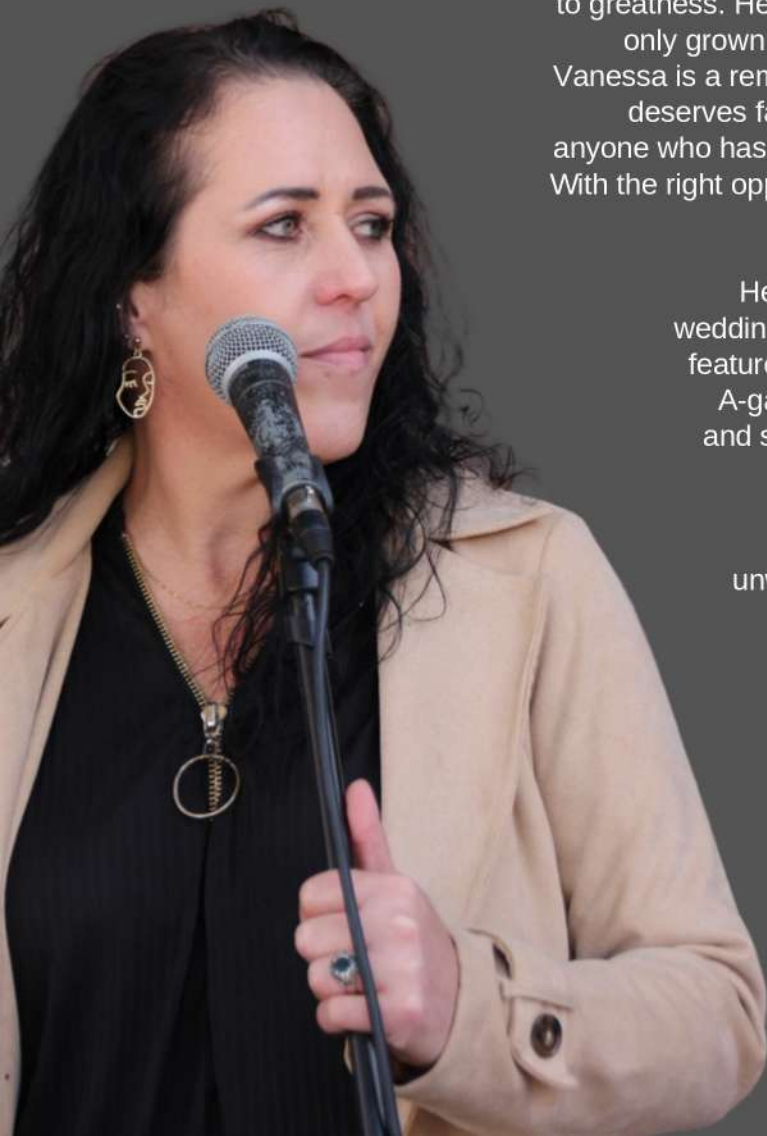

Despite being in her early 40s, Vanessa is proof that age is no barrier to greatness. Her voice, her stage presence, and her authenticity have only grown richer with time. In a world often obsessed with youth, Vanessa is a reminder that true talent and passion transcend age. She deserves far more recognition than she has received—a fact that anyone who has witnessed her perform would undoubtedly agree with. With the right opportunities, Vanessa Gray has the potential to become the next big thing in South Africa's music scene.

Her versatility knows no bounds. Whether performing at weddings, year-end functions, private parties, or as a regular feature in pubs and restaurants, Vanessa always brings her A-game. She's also a skilled MC, weaving humor, charm, and storytelling into events, and a passionate vocal coach, helping others unlock their own musical potential.

Vanessa's story is one of reinvention, passion, and unwavering belief in the power of music and community.

She doesn't just sing; she tells stories, evokes emotions, and connects deeply with her audience. Whether you're looking for a soul-stirring vocalist, an engaging MC, or an inspiring mentor, Vanessa Gray is the answer.

Let's celebrate this remarkable artist by supporting her journey. Follow Vanessa on Instagram, Facebook, and TikTok for updates, upcoming performances, and a glimpse into her vibrant world. Share her story and spread the word—because South Africa has a treasure in Vanessa Gray, and the world deserves to hear her voice.
