Maximum Stay is 12 Month.If rescheduling involves a change between low/shoulder/high season, or between weekdays/weekends, the ticket price will be recalculated and the fare difference will be added to the change fee.Passengers who request to change seating to another seat in the same class will be required to make up any upgrade difference between the two applicable prices; if both a rescheduling fee and an upgrade fee are incurred during the change, the passenger needs to pay both the rescheduling fee and the upgrade difference. Refunds should be requested within 13 months from the original travel date (or the date of issuance if the first segment of the ticket has not been used). China Eastern Airlines will not process refunds requested after this period.
