Joint Force Solutions To Honor Data Center Industry Leaders At Inaugural Conference

The Platinum Heart Awards Conference will feature speakers and a data center tour.

Jan. 29, 2020 (Greer, SC) Joint Force Solutions, a veteran-owned data center training organization, will hold a “Platinum Heart Awards Conference,” from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., on February 20, 2020, at PhoenixNAP in Phoenix, AZ. The Platinum Heart Awards recognize industry leaders and their contribution to this ever-changing industry. The conference will also feature a panel of subject experts who will discuss important digital transformation issues facing businesses today and what the future holds. Bruce Taylor, Co-Founder, SmartNations Foundation, will deliver the keynote address focusing on Zero Carbon. Data center tours of the PhoenixNAP conference will be available during the day.

“We are thrilled to honor data center industry leaders at our first Joint Force Solutions conference. And we are looking forward to connecting with our peers as well as sharing our available training and educational opportunities,” said Dr. Tim Oergel, CEO, Joint Force Solutions.

Tickets for the event are $100 for active duty and retired veterans and $250 for everyone else and include lunch. Joint Force Solutions is dedicated to helping retiring veterans transition into civilian life by utilizing the skills and education they received into data center and mission critical facility careers. Tickets can be purchased at <https://jforce-solutions.us/events>.
