CORPORATE PARTNERSHIPS

Our Corporate Partners make the CRITICAL difference in Mission Critical Education!

➤ THE OPPORTUNITY

Organizations desiring to develop innovative ideas, support and identify emerging talent, and train their mission critical workforce partner with AATC University through a variety of program development and specialized training opportunities. Some of the types of partnership options are listed below.

➤ STUDENT COOPERATIVE EDUCATION & INTERNSHIPS

With AATC University's Cooperative Education Training Programs, students can receive up to 24-months of combined field and classroom training in Mission Critical and Data Center industries. Also, they are provided the opportunity to engage with real data center customers and see mission critical operations and even be considered for a permanent placement for employment as we provide an environment that allows them to work closely with management.

Several Internship Program Options, and Student Development Opportunities via Scholarships & Sponsorships:

- ✓ Student Internship Programs allow AATC University students to gain new skills, obtain valuable work experience and network with professional colleagues. For AATC University Corporate Partners, the internships provide a formalized way to test new talent and to identify future creative employees.
- ✓ Corporate Think Tanks through AATC University Corporate Think Tanks, corporate participants attend CEO & Leaders Academy Conferences to learn specific skills and techniques. Participants have unprecedented access to AATC University's outstanding faculty and data center C-Suite executives, both of whom bring real-world perspectives and integrate the latest technologies used in the data center field.
- ✓ Student Development Workshops AATC University corporate partners have the ability to create student classroom workshops where students develop concepts and ideas that can be utilized by the company for future projects.
- ✓ Scholarships are one of the most effective and high-profile ways in which to engage and connect with the students of AATC University is to establish a scholarship program in the company's name. Not only does this allow the talented emerging students of AATC University to pursue and further their education, it allows companies to build deep relationships with scholarship recipients who may become future employees.
- ✓ Sponsorships are granted throughout the year. AATC University hosts a variety of special events that are sponsored by corporate partners. By sponsoring these events, corporate partners are able to reach a targeted audience of AATC University Alumni, mission critical professionals, data center owner/operators, and attendees as well as to align their brand with the world's premiere mission critical university.

➤ WHY YOUR SUPPORT MATTERS – Transitioning Military Veterans

Donors like you make a CRITICAL difference to what opportunities AATC University is able to provide to the next generation of Mission Critical and Data Center Professionals. Especially for our Transitioning Military Veterans who are seeking a career in these industries as they reposition their livelihood back to the civilian sector.

➤ THEIR FUTURE IS NOW

Tuition fees are substantially lower than other universities, colleges and training institutions, and is a small percent of AATC University's operating expenses, and we rely upon the generosity of alumni, parents, community members, and corporate and foundation support to continue to provide the very best mission critical and data center education to all of the talented new students at the university.

Please join our committed community of supporters to make a difference in the lives of our mission critical students.
