

Halifax, Canada

Halifax is the capital and most populous municipality of the province of Nova Scotia. It's the economic center of Atlantic Canada, home to a concentration of government offices and private companies. Resource industries include agriculture, fishing, mining, forestry, and natural gas extraction.

The Port of Halifax is in town, with several attractions within walking distance.

Foods to try

- Donair - thin slices of spiced beef piled onto a warm pita, topped with diced onions and tomatoes, and finished with the signature sweet garlic sauce.
- Poutine- crispy fries, rich gravy, and squeaky cheese curds.
- BeaverTails - made from hand-stretched fried dough and served with a variety of toppings; classic cinnamon sugar, piled high with chocolate, candy, or fruit, they're best warm.
- Butter Tarts - flaky pastry shell filled with a mixture of butter, sugar, and eggs; the perfect balance between gooey and crisp.
- Caesar Cocktails - The Caesar is made with vodka, clamato juice, Worcestershire sauce, and spices.
- Tourtière - a savoury meat pie filled with seasoned pork, beef, or game.
