

Le Verdon

---

Le Verdon-sur-Mer is an industrial port used as a gateway to the Bordeaux region of France. Bordeaux is a two hour drive away. At first glance, it appears the ship has docked in a cow pasture! The town is a little over a mile walk, a bedroom community, there isn't much to see but a wide beach to explore. Often, cruise lines organize a shuttle bus to Soulac-sur-Mer, which is a bit more populated and has some shopping opportunities.

History

Unofficially founded in the 11th century, Le Verdon was initially a hamlet of Soulac. The industry was the port, seafood, and salt production.

Language

French

Currency

Euro

Guided Tours

Deluxe Bordeaux Shore Excursion from Le Verdon Cruise Ship Port

From $165.47

<https://www.viator.com/tours/France/Bordeaux-Shore-Excursion-from-Le-Verdon-Cruise-Ship-Port/d51-63772P229?pid=P00002881&uid=U00204439&mcid=58086&currency=USD>

*Check for excursions with you Cruise Line, often there are vineyard and wine tasting trips available.