Dear church family — Joshua and Meredith met with their doctors on Wednesday and received results of his latest scans that revealed that his cancer has spread to his bones. BUT that doesn't change his current treatment plan - which is to start the clinical trial with immunotherapy, next Wednesday. While this is highly experimental, it has seen some good results with prior patients. Here is a medical journal report about the trial he will be in: <https://pubmed.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/32815894/>

Joshua is working at home and is preaching as he is able. Meredith and the boys continue to homeschool.

THIS IS HOW YOU CAN PRAY:

- For the clinical trial to work miracles in his body!!
- For the side effects to be minimized.
- For Joshua to be able to work and minister as he is able.
- For the boys, as they deal with the changes in their home, and distressed to see their father not feel well.
- For Meredith to have supernatural strength to care for her family.

Thank God for all the people who have provided meals, childcare, love & support during this dark trial!

Pastor Joshua & all the Clutterham's are all so very thankful for all of the love and support you have shown! ♥
