Divine Wealth Group, LLC

Effective Date: June 1, 2026

Last Reviewed: June 18, 2026

This Accessibility Statement describes the current accessibility status of the website operated by Divine Wealth Group, LLC, identifies known areas of non-conformance, outlines remediation efforts currently underway, and provides information on how individuals with disabilities may request alternative access or report accessibility barriers. This statement is issued in good faith and in the interest of transparency, inclusivity, and legal compliance.

1. Our Commitment to Accessibility

Divine Wealth Group, LLC is committed to ensuring that our website and all digital content and services offered through it are accessible to all individuals, including those with visual, auditory, cognitive, motor, speech, and other disabilities. We believe that equal access to information and services is a fundamental principle, and we are dedicated to upholding that principle across every aspect of our business operations.

We recognize that accessibility is not a one-time undertaking but an ongoing responsibility — one that reflects our core organizational values of inclusivity, dignity, and equal opportunity. As a company engaged in the sale of children's books, organic home-baked dog treats, real estate consulting services, and community support through the Share360 program, we serve a broad and diverse audience, and we are committed to ensuring that no individual is excluded from meaningful participation in our digital offerings on account of disability.

We are actively working to bring our website into full conformance with the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) 2.1, Level AA, published by the World Wide Web Consortium (W3C). These guidelines define the internationally recognized standard for accessible web content and serve as the primary benchmark for our remediation and compliance efforts.

2. Current Accessibility Status

2a. Partial Conformance

Our website is currently in a state of partial conformance with WCAG 2.1, Level AA. This means that some portions of the website meet or substantially meet applicable accessibility requirements, while other areas do not yet fully conform to those standards. We are transparent about this status and acknowledge that full accessibility has not yet been achieved across all pages, features, and content types present on our website.

We are committed to remedying all known gaps through a structured, ongoing, and good-faith improvement process. We will not represent our accessibility status as more advanced than it currently is, and we will update this statement as meaningful progress is achieved.

2b. Areas of Conformance

Certain areas of our website currently meet or substantially meet WCAG 2.1, Level AA guidelines. These include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Basic navigational structure and logical page layout on core site pages;
- Use of descriptive and unique page titles that convey page purpose;

- Text-based content readability and language identification on primary product and contact pages;
- General use of semantic HTML heading structure on primary content areas; and
- Availability of contact information and support channels through multiple modalities.

2c. Known Limitations

We are aware that certain areas of our website may present barriers for users with disabilities. Known or potential limitations include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Missing or insufficient alternative text (alt text) on certain product and promotional images;
- Keyboard navigation barriers on select interactive elements, menus, or controls;
- Insufficient color contrast ratios on certain design elements or text-background combinations;
- Incomplete form field labeling, error identification, and error suggestion on certain input forms;
- Accessibility of embedded or integrated third-party content, including payment processing interfaces and the Share360 platform; and
- Potential issues with focus order, skip navigation links, or content reflow at various viewport sizes.

We are actively working to identify, prioritize, and correct all known limitations. This statement will be updated as improvements are implemented and verified.

3. Applicable Standards and Legal Framework

Divine Wealth Group, LLC is committed to conformance with the following accessibility standards and legal requirements, to the extent applicable to our digital operations and services:

1. (a) Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) 2.1, Level AA — the internationally recognized technical standard for web accessibility published by the World Wide Web Consortium (W3C), which serves as the primary target benchmark for our website remediation efforts;
2. (b) Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), Title III — which prohibits discrimination on the basis of disability in places of public accommodation, and which courts and federal regulators have interpreted to encompass commercial websites and digital services made available to the general public; and
3. (c) Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended — to the extent applicable to our operations and digital content, which establishes accessibility standards for electronic and information technology.

Nothing contained in this Accessibility Statement shall be construed to limit, waive, or modify any rights of any individual under applicable federal disability law, North Carolina state law, or any other applicable law or regulation. Our commitment to accessibility is independent of, and in addition to, any legal obligations imposed upon us by applicable law.

4. Ongoing Accessibility Improvement Efforts

4a. Remediation Plan

Divine Wealth Group, LLC has undertaken a structured accessibility remediation process. We are conducting a comprehensive review and audit of our website to systematically identify all areas of non-conformance with WCAG 2.1, Level AA. Identified issues are being prioritized for remediation based on the severity of the barrier presented to users with disabilities and the potential impact on user access to critical content and functionality.

4b. Actions in Progress

Current and planned remediation actions include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Adding or correcting descriptive alternative text for all images, including product images for children's books and dog treat listings;
- Improving keyboard navigability throughout the website, including menus, interactive controls, and checkout processes;
- Reviewing and correcting color contrast ratios across all site pages to meet the WCAG 2.1 Level AA minimum contrast requirements;
- Improving form field labeling, accessible error identification, and error suggestion on all input and inquiry forms;
- Reviewing third-party integrations — including the Share360 platform and payment processing tools — for accessibility barriers and pursuing accessible solutions;
- Ensuring compatibility with commonly used assistive technologies, including screen readers and keyboard-only navigation modes; and
- Implementing skip navigation links and logical focus order to improve ease of navigation for keyboard and screen reader users.

4c. Target Timeline

While Divine Wealth Group, LLC is unable to guarantee a specific completion date for achieving full conformance with WCAG 2.1, Level AA across all areas of the website at this time, we are committed to making meaningful, measurable, and good-faith progress on an ongoing basis. We will provide periodic updates to this Accessibility Statement to reflect improvements achieved and to disclose any changes to our conformance status. We will not represent our accessibility status inaccurately at any stage of the remediation process.

4d. Third-Party Content

Portions of our website may include content, functionality, or integrated tools provided by third-party vendors, including but not limited to the Share360 platform and third-party payment processing services. Divine Wealth Group, LLC does not control the code or design of third-party content and therefore cannot guarantee the accessibility of such content.
