MATCH DIRECTIVE

Pre-registered slots will only be reserved until twenty minutes prior to the published relay time. At that point standby competitors will be allowed to fill any openings left on the line. Competitors must have all fees paid and paperwork completed, and triggers checked, if necessary, ten minutes prior to the published relay time. Competitors who arrive late or do not have their paperwork completed and triggers checked if required prior to being called to the line will not be allowed to shoot on that relay. They will be added to the end of the standby list of the following relays. Range officials reserve the right to combine relays if less than 5 points are filed on a relay.

The National NRA Statistical Officer may require match referees or range officers to check trigger pulls weights. If we are required to check triggers we will have an area set up to do so prior to each relay similar to the method used for leg matches. You should plan your arrival time so as to allow time prior to your relay to have your trigger checked. In order to be fair to all the competitors we will not delay the start of any relay to allow for trigger checking and/or gun repair so its trigger will lift the weight. Dummy rounds will be provided by the range to prevent firing pin damage and will be used by the Referee or other range officials when checking the trigger at the request of the competitor.
