Roya is a sovereign warrior that practices “no soul left behind” from unleashing ourselves to maximum health and passion. Within an hour of meeting, Roya opened a black box that was hurting my soul and holding me back, and then she gracefully released it into the ocean. That happened because of Roya’s call to give when she sees pain in people who are struggling to be their best. Roya isn’t rehearsed, although trained, and she pulls from her heart and natural talents. This woman is trustworthy and genuinely gifted.
