SC to hear case re: legality of impeachment Articles drafted by House? [clean record]

Failed to support [Constitution] 'Treason, Bribery, or other high Crimes and Misdemeanors'?

Partisan politics.

Q

House Speaker Nancy Pelosi (D-Calif.) needled President Trump in an interview Friday night, noting that the stain of impeachment will always live on his presidency regardless of the outcome of the Senate trial.

"You are impeached forever," Pelosi said with a smile on O's "Real Time with Bill Maher." "No matter what the Senate does, it can never be erased."

"If I knew that the president is listening, I would want him to know that he is impeached forever, and he is impeached forever because he used the office of the president to try to influence a foreign country for his personal and political benefit. In doing so, he undermined our national security, he was disloyal to his oath of office to protect the Constitution and he placed in jeopardy the integrity of our election," she added later. "He gave us no choice."

House Democrats voted this week to send two articles of impeachment to the Senate, which will commence its trial of Trump next week. The articles, which accuse the president of abuse of power over his dealings with Ukraine and obstruction of Congress, passed in a party-line vote last month.
