New Q (1 May '20). Seems odd that w/US pop of 330+M and 11,356 deaths (which equates to .0034% of our pop) that we would quarantine everyone except those deemed "mission essential". Flu deaths suddenly on the decline this season? Who believes this?

Total Deaths	11,356	54,217	569,403	90

*Data during this period are incomplete because of the lag in time between when the death occurred and when the death certificate is completed, submitted to NCHS and processed for reporting purposes.

‡Deaths with confirmed or presumed COVID-19, Pneumonia, or Influenza, coded to ICD-10 codes U07.1 or J09-18.9.

§Percent of expected deaths is the number of deaths for all causes for this week in 2020 compared to the average number across the same week in 2017-2019. Previous analyses of 2015-2016 provisional data completeness have found that completeness is lower in the first few weeks following the date of death (<25%), and then increases over time such that data are generally at least 75% complete within 8 weeks of when the death occurred.

2. Can't help but think this virus was intentionally created to attack weakened respiratory systems of elderly (more of whom are likely Trump voters). Decline in pneumonia deaths not likely; lumped in w/COVID-19 deaths. Dubbed by some as "Boomer Remover".
