A biochemical weapon, "Silent Night," presumed missing since the fall of the Soviet Union, is obtained by Anarchy 99, a Russian terrorist group with formal military training. The NSA send an undercover agent to recover the weapon, but Anarchy 99's skills easily see through the deception and assassinate him.

NSA Agent Augustus Gibbons suggests that they need to send someone who lacks ties to the US government. Gibbons identifies Xander Cage, an extreme sports professional known as "XXX (Triple X)" but also wanted by the FBI for his acts of protest against a leading senator. Gibbons's team abducts Cage, and puts him through two field tests, stopping a staged diner robbery, and escaping from a Colombian cartel's plantation in the midst of an army raid. Cage passes, and Gibbons offers him the job, promising to wipe his criminal records clean or otherwise sending him to prison. Cage reluctantly accepts the job.

The Enlightenment is often associated with its political revolutions and ideals, especially the French Revolution of 1789. The energy created and expressed by the intellectual foment of Enlightenment thinkers contributes to the growing wave of social unrest in France in the eighteenth century. The social unrest comes to a head in the violent political upheaval which sweeps away the traditionally and hierarchically structured ancien régime (the monarchy, the privileges of the nobility, the political power of the Catholic Church). The French revolutionaries meant to establish in place of the ancien régime a new reason-based order instituting the Enlightenment ideals of liberty and equality. ...enlightenment with the process of undertaking to think for oneself, to employ and rely on one's own intellectual capacities in determining what to believe and how to act.

For Enlightenment thinkers themselves, however, the Enlightenment is not an historical period, but a process of social, psychological or spiritual development, unbound to time or place. Immanuel Kant defines "enlightenment" in his famous contribution to debate on the question in an essay entitled "An Answer to the Question: What is Enlightenment?" (1784), as humankind's release from its self-incurred immaturity; "immaturity is the inability to use one's own understanding without the guidance of another." Expressing convictions shared among Enlightenment thinkers of widely divergent doctrines, Kant identifies enlightenment with the process of undertaking to think for oneself, to employ and rely on one's own intellectual capacities in determining what to believe and how to act. Enlightenment philosophers from across the geographical and temporal spectrum tend to have a great deal of confidence in humanity's intellectual powers, both to achieve systematic knowledge of nature and to serve as an authoritative guide in practical life. This confidence is generally paired with suspicion or hostility toward other forms or carriers of authority (such as tradition, superstition, prejudice, myth and miracles), insofar as these are seen to compete with the authority of one's own reason and experience. I thought this letter from respected retired Marine and Super Star lawyer, John Dowd, would be of interest to the American People. Read it!

Jan
I slept on your statement and woke up appalled and upset. You lost me. Never dreamed you would let a bunch of hack politicians use your good name and reputation earned with the blood and guts of young Marines

"Joint Chiefs of Staff Emergency Action Messages (EAMs) contain key instructions or information from high-level authority and have predetermined formats (pro forma). Such messages are transmitted by various communications systems and normally carry FLASH precedence. They are vital messages of an extremely time-sensitive nature, and rapid processing is mandatory to obtain the fast reaction required by their content. Usage and handling procedures are of the highest classification and have been issued by the JCS only to those who have a need to know." (A1M-01-1-18, sub 3, amended 01 Jan 1990)."

Generally the term 'red' would indicate either a high level of preparedness: "We are at condition red."; "Place your weapon into 'red' status." (loaded, round in the chamber and safety on) or a combat/emergency situation: Also, a team color: Red team, Blue team

21. Damn...can she do that that?! First, she lifts curfew, thankfully thunderstorms put a damper on anything they had planned for tonight, now DC Mayor is evicting these guardsmen who have worked long hours dealing with violent protesters. Unbelievable.

Mike Lee
@SenMikeLee

These brave men and women have risked their lives protecting DC for three days. Rioting, looting, arson, and vandalism have all disappeared bc these soldiers served. And now they are being kicked to the curb by an ungrateful mayor. This must be stopped. 2/2

22. @SenMikeLee is livid about 200 Utah National Guardsmen being evicted from their hotel. They get off their shift at 10am tomorrow and have to grab their belongings & find somewhere else to stay.

23. Mayor's contracting office says they won't pay for their stay any longer. Will likely have to sleep on cots in DC Armory. @SenMikeLee expects Mayor's office to issue an apology & retraction.

24. These 200 guardsmen deployed to DC w/less than 10 hours notice & have pulled 4 consecutive all nighters to protect DC...and this is how she repays them. What a pathetic woman.

25. If 1M protesters come to DC & many intentionally infected, it would cause a huge spike in Nat'l Capital Region. Cuomo telling NY protesters to assume they're infected & get "tested". If tests are tainted it'll bring 2nd wave.
