NEW YORK POST

The left wants to attack the very legitimacy of America, of which Washington is the real symbol. And going after statues and other cultural icons is part of the Marxist playbook.

It was written about by George Orwell in his dystopian novel "1984," a quote from which is making the rounds this week.

In it, one of Orwell's characters warns of how "every book has been rewritten, every picture has been repainted, every statue and street and building has been renamed, every date has been altered."
