So if you're looking to create a fillable PDF to embed into your website or share it as a URL with your colleagues or customers, then Platofrms is a great option for you. You can upload your existing PDF file, edit it by adding or removing elements, save it and receive a URL with the ready-to-use fillable form that you can share with other users to fill in. When someone submits their filled-in form, Platofrms creates the PDF file with your design and format and sends it to you via email. Unfortunately, there's no option to download the form and preserve the ability to fill it in, you can only share it as a link. 5. DocHub for Windows, Mac, Android & iOS Price: Free. DocHub is a great choice for anyone who wants to cut the time and effort they put into form creation, distribution, and completion. This web-based tool allows you to create your fillable PDF forms from scratch or templates, save them to your device, as well as export them to cloud storage like Google Drive, Dropbox, or OneDrive. A few of the advantages of DocHub are its beginner-friendly interface, a basic set of functions that you can easily learn to use, as well as an impressive up to 2000 documents limit per user. However, you do need to create an account to be able to save and store your documents. 6. Icecream PDF Editor for Windows Price: Free, with the PRO version available for a $59 lifetime fee. Icecream PDF Editor is a free PDF editor for Windows users that allows you to simplify the process of creating, downloading, and sharing your fillable PDF files online. Some of the useful features that this editor comes with are the ability to edit, annotate, and fill in PDF forms, combining and reordering your document pages, splitting and merging PDF files, and extracting PDF pages. The app has helpful notes and highlighted areas that will ensure you find your way around the tool easily. With all these pros, we only found one con with Icecream PDF Editor - a default watermark that can be removed by upgrading to the premium version of the app. Simplify Your Workflow With Fillable Forms Having to ask your colleagues to print your forms every time you need them to fill in their answers is daunting. The good news is, you can learn to create fillable forms in Word and Google Docs aside from PDF and never have to go through that again. Have you ever had to create a fillable PDF file?
