

Enlightened

Oh Lord, I've walked all alone.
Many are the miles, I have known.
I've strayed so far from my home,
It's no wonder I feel all alone.

One day while I was lost,
I decided no matter the cost.
I would ask, Lord please help me to see.
I'm as blind as a man can be.

Now these words that are wrote in His book.
I decipher with only one look.
Where knowledge and wisdom abound.
O, thank God that I'm finally found.
