

THE LORDS TRUMPET

If the Lord's trumpet would sound today.
Three groups of people, there would be.
If you will but listen, I will explain this to thee.

The first group cares not for my Lord.
To them: the things of this world are free.
But at the white throne judgment,
They shall surely bend the knee.

The second group is like the foolish virgins.
They shall be left there without.
Trying to seek an entrance, they shall be sent back with a shout.
I KNOW YOU NOT! My Lord shall say.
And then this group shall know,
That all their man-made holiness, is but a fading glow.

The third group; our Lord shall gather.
The saints of heaven, they shall be.
For they know their Lord and Savior.
There is none greater than He.

The trumpet has not sounded,
So plead for mercy, while you can.
Repent and believe the gospel.
For the hour, may be at hand.

Dale F. Carr III