

Choices

If today, the world would end,
where would your fortunes be?
Locked away in heaven, or cast in the fiery sea.

If today, our King would come,
to take home all his sheep.
Would He find you wide awake,
or spiritually asleep?

If today, a choice must be made,
which master would you serve?
The one who leads you straight ahead,
or the one who makes you swerve.

Confess your sins to Jesus,
tell Him all that you have done.
It's the only way to know for sure,
Life's battle you have won.
