Did Jesus' Resurrection Really Happen? You might have heard about skeptical groups who say that the resurrection was a hoax or hallucination? Even YOU might not be sure of what to say when people ask you to prove the resurrection of Christ.

What is resurrection: The word resurrection first arose in English in the 14th century, which comes from the Late Latin verb resurgere (resurrectio), meaning "to rise from the dead." Originally, the word was used in Christian contexts to refer to the rising of Christ from the dead

The claim that Jesus Christ truly died and truly rose bodily from the dead is not optional for Christian faith. It is central to the Gospels of Mathew, Mark, Luke and John.

1. The Empty Tomb: All four Gospels affirm that Jesus was buried in a known tomb owned by Joseph of Arimathea (Matthew 27:57–60; Mark 15:42–47; Luke 23:50–56; John 19:38–42). This was not a secret grave. The women who observed the burial returned to the same tomb on the third day and found it empty (Luke 24:1–3). The fact that women, whose testimony carried little weight in first-century Jewish courts, are the first to witness the empty tomb is not a fabrication designed to persuade rather, it bears the marks of authenticity. Furthermore, even Jesus's enemies conceded the tomb was empty. In Matthew 28:11–15, the Jewish leaders bribed the guards to say the disciples stole the body. This explanation presupposes the tomb was in fact empty.

2. Post-Resurrection Appearances: Jesus appeared to Mary Magdalene (John 20:11–18), to two disciples on the road to Emmaus (Luke 24:13–35), to the apostles without Thomas (John 20:19–24), and later with Thomas (John 20:26–29). He appeared by the Sea of Galilee (John 21:1–14), to over 500 at once (1 Corinthians 15:6), to James (1 Corinthians 15:7), and to Paul (1 Corinthians 15:8; Acts 9). These appearances were not hallucinations. Hallucinations are individual phenomena; yet Jesus appeared to groups, spoke, walked, ate food (Luke 24:41–43; John 21:9–14), and invited physical interaction (Luke 24:39; John 20:27). His resurrected body was tangible, yet glorified consistent with the biblical doctrine of resurrection (Philippians 3:21).

3. The Transformation of the Disciples: Prior to the resurrection, the disciples were fearful and in hiding (John 20:19). Afterward, they became bold preachers, proclaiming the resurrection at the risk of imprisonment and death (Acts 4:18–20). Peter was crucified upside down, Thomas was executed in India, Paul was beheaded but none recanted. The most reasonable explanation is that they truly believed and had seen the risen Christ.

Skeptics have dismissed Jesus' resurrection as a hoax or hallucination, superstition or myth. But all of the evidence points the other way. First, if it was a hoax perpetrated by his followers (see Mt 28:11-15), would they have devoted the rest of their lives, and willingly suffered prison, torture, and death, for what they knew to be a lie (see Acts 12:1-5)? If the tomb wasn't empty, why didn't Jesus' enemies simply produce the dead body? Second, if it was a hallucination, how could so many otherwise sane men and women be convinced they had encountered Jesus alive...more than five hundred witnesses on separate occasions and in various locations (see 1 Cor 15:3-8)? Finally, a myth takes generations to develop and take hold within a culture. Jesus's followers were testifying to his resurrection within a few days after his death. Even the biblical accounts of His Resurrection were written within the lifetime of those who knew what had really happened and could decisively challenge their claims if they had evidence to the contrary.

For all these reasons, non-Christians and Christians who doubt must take the Christian testimony that Jesus was indeed raised from the dead seriously.

Other sources: Mt 28:10 10; Mk 16:1-14; Lk 24:1-49; Jn 20:1-29; Acts of 2:22-36), 1 Cor 15:20-22, 1 Cor 15:17. Cor 4:14. Gal 1:1 Eph 1:18-23. Phil 3:10- 11. Col 2:12 1 Thes 1:9-10 2 Tim 2:8 1 Pt 1:3 20 21.

The Walking With Moms group is excited to launch Walking with Mary. We will take a journey through all nine months of pregnancy by displaying the development of a baby in the womb from the moment of conception to birth.

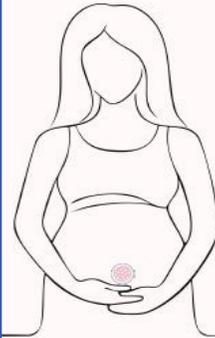

We began on The Solemnity of the Annunciation (March 25th) and will end nine months later on the Nativity of the Lord (December 25th) when we will host a "Baby Shower". At that time, we will request donated items which will be given to local pro-life organizations.

Mary's Journey - Theotokos

Mary's Pregnancy in weeks 0-3.

The start of the first trimester.
Which are the first 12 weeks of pregnancy.

The developing embryo is extremely small, rapidly growing from a tiny cluster of cells to the size of a poppy seed.

At the moment of conception your baby has its own unique set of DNA. Are you having a boy or a girl? It is already determined but you will not find out until about your 14th week.

Mary may be experiencing a heightened sense of smell, one of the earliest signs of pregnancy.
