Everybody Eats is an initiative started by Kirk Jackson, a Third Ward resident and community advocate. His vision was a community where "no one went to bed hungry". The EEDC is honored to carry his work forward. Everybody Eats strives to create a more connected Third Ward through communication, circulation and collaboration with food pantries and food providers throughout the community

Goals of Everybody Eats

- Coordination and Communication between food providers within the community.
- Address barriers to food access for residents in need
- Reduction of food waste
- Increase pantry food availability through circulation between community food pantries.
- Everybody Eats Food Hub provides refrigeration and storage to house excess food for pantry pick up
- Adopt -A -Pantry program to increase capacity and volunteer support for existing food providers

Together we are developing a sustainable Eco-system for food access and circulation in Third Ward.
