New Bible Study - Coming Feb. 1

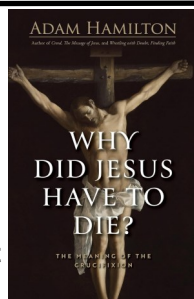

Why Did Jesus Have to Die?

Bible study based on Adam Hamilton's book

Our Lenten Bible study will begin on Sunday, Feb 1, at 3 pm in the J Ray Stuart Sunday school room. We will wrestle with the question, "Why Did Jesus Have to Die?" using the book by the same title by Rev. Adam Hamilton. There will be six sessions, about 90 minutes each allowing time for Hamilton's video presentation and class discussion.

Books:

The cost of books has increased a great deal. We are asking that each participant purchase their own book and read the first chapter (if possible) by February 1st start of class. Amazon prime members may purchase the book on sale for $15.99 from January 14th to 24th, the regular price is $23. There is also a Kindle version $13.

The regular office hours are Mondays to Thursdays from 9 AM to 2 PM.

Pastor Rhonda is keeping office hours on Tuesdays & Wednesdays.

Please accept this one-time donation in memory and in honor of all the people of Colonial Heights Church who played a significant role in my upbringing - the ladies who kept me in the nursery, my Sunday School and VBS teachers, and the youth leaders and ministers who taught me about Jesus and about how to love others.

May God Bless each of you and the work of the church should draw others closer to Jesus!

2026 The Year of UFO's

Do you have UFO's around your house? No. Not the kind of unidentified flying objects from outer space, but the un finished objects hidden under the bed or in your closet? As a crafter, I have lots of UFO's. Quilt tops that need to be quilted, crocheted poncho's that need to be completed, and blocks to an afghan that need to be pieced together. Lots and lots of projects that need to be completed. I have lots of reasons (i.e. excuses) for why these UFO's have accumulated; however, the truth is the real culprit is that I just lost interest in the project, something more interesting or exciting caught my eye and I laid the UFO aside to be done later. Well, 2026 is later, time to complete the uncompleted work.

The first UFO is an afghan I started for my daughter Angie, it's made of a golden yellow, velvety yarn, that's very soft and plush, so I decided to use a corner-to-corner basket weave pattern. I was about a third finished, but as I looked at my work, the loops of the double crochet were too loose, and some had not even caught into the loop the way they normally do. I thought about ripping it out and starting over with the same pattern, but as I studied on it, I realized the problem was that the pattern just wasn't right for this soft yarn. (Imagine trying to knit or crochet butter.) So rather than continue down the same road and persist with the wrong pattern for my yarn, I searched until I found the perfect pattern. It is still a corner-to-corner pattern; however it utilizes some single crochets to space between the double crochet that suits this yarn and I don't have loopy pieces hanging out.

I also have some spiritual UFO's, lying around. Not physically, but spiritual disciplines that I have started like meditation or fasting or journaling that I just don't do anymore. Sometimes I berate myself and say, "You ought to journal again or You should be reading more." But as I thought about my yarn and fabric UFO's I realized that sometimes we have the right material and the right pattern, but they just don't fit together. There are times when we must regroup and rethink what we want to accomplish and select a pattern that better suits what we are working with. For example, I journaled for over twenty years, but a couple of years ago, I found that instead of feeding my soul and nurturing my Christian walk, journaling had become a burden. I felt guilty. I tried to force myself to journal. I used all the tricks, like getting up early, setting a timer, and just writing. Although I wrote it just didn't bring life to my soul. It was when I stopped writing and just sat with my coffee and talked to God, that I felt that soul-level contentment and peace. I just had to change the pattern to better fit the material...the stage of life I'm in now.

Do you have spiritual UFO's? Give yourself grace! Try a new pattern. Don't be afraid to let go of the old and lay it aside for a while or for good. If you're stuck for ideas, ask! I love to color while I pray. Get creative! Ask God to join you for a walk. Just don't give up!

Happy New Year and Blessings in Christ!

Rhonda

I want to know Christ and the power of his resurrection and the sharing of his sufferings by becoming like him in his death, if somehow, I may attain the resurrection from the dead. Not that I have already obtained this or have already reached the goal; but I press on to make it my own, because Christ Jesus has made me his own. Beloved, I do not consider that I have made it my own; but this one thing I do: forgetting what lies behind and straining forward to what lies ahead, I press on toward the goal for the prize of the heavenly call of God in Christ Jesus. (Philippians 3:10-14, NRSV)
