

MORRIS MORELETII

What's up! I'm Morris Moreletii, a Morelet's Crocodile. You can find me hanging in the freshwater lakes, rivers and ponds in Belize, and maybe even sunning myself on the banks when there is a nice warm breeze. My snout is relatively wide for a crocodile, but that's to help me catch and eat turtles, birds and small mammals! I can grow as big as 10 feet long, and will protect my hatchling children all year-long. And don't be afraid because I look big and strong, I won't bother humans, I'd rather just swim along...

Want to learn more about Belize's crocodiles? Visit the Crocodile Research Coalition website: www.crocodileresearchcoalition.org and don't forget to follow us on Facebook, Twitter and Instagram!

