

Grafted Grevilleas that may be available for sale – see Open Day plant lists to see if these are available .

Plant lists are posted one week prior to Open Days. Most of these are hard to source in nurseries Grevilleas are usually grafted to provide plants that are more robust to a variety of conditions. Grevilleas from Western Australia or the Northern Territory, for example usually need to be grafted to survive in our heavier soils and increased humidity. Others are grafted because they are difficult to propagate by cuttings. Grevillea robusta is the usual understock for grafts, but at the Park we also use Carrington Cross, Bronze Rambler and barklyana hybrid.

NB. Cultivars are capitalised, species are lower case

Abracadabra

This is a cross between G georgiana and G insignis, with the flowers more like georgiana. It flowers for several months beginning in Spring. It has arching branches

Hard to source

Alex Pink

More red than pink, this is a low growing grevillea that will spread a couple of metres. Its chief flowering period is from late summer through to autumn. Flowers are quite brilliant

Hard to source

Amber Blaze

Ferny foliage and large orange flowers mainly in Autumn through to Spring. Highly bird attracting. Will spread 1-2 metres. Great on a standard

Hard to source

aurea

A Northern Territory Grevillea that likes a hot spot in the garden. It flowers well in Sydney and tends to grow about 1.5 - 2 metres in cultivation. New growth has a red tinge. Coppery coloured buds open to golden yellow.

Hard to source

banksi alba

Available only as standard. Grey green foliage and lovely large cream flowers in Spring. Will spread a few metres and needs to be pruned after flowering

banksi Ruby Red

A smaller growing prostrate banksi with deep red flowers and more compact foliage. Great as a standard

Hard to source

banyabba

A NSW species which has lovely red and lime green flowers on the ends of branches. It will take a semi shaded position but in full sun it will flower better. Expect the plant to grow 1 - m high and a metre wide. Bird attracting

Hard to source

Big Foot

A mounding Grevillea with massive red flowers for most of the year. Has been grown as a standard plant but needs to be pruned

Billy Bonkers

One of the most sought after Grevilleas on our open days . It grows only about a metre high but will spread about 2 metres. Always has plenty of metallic pink flowers on it

bipinnatifida

The parent of the famous Robyn Gordon and many other cultivars. It is a low growing plant with spectacular racemes that hang off the branches like grapes. We tend to sell the form with red/orange flowers. We find it does best away from the humidity of the coast although there are some good specimens in coastal gardens. Always in flower

Hard to source

Black Shiraz

A fairly vigorous new grevillea that will spread a couple of metres. Has unusual dark flowers thanks to the scortechinii in its parentage

Bluey

A plant from the garden of Brian Weir (Vic). This plant forms a dense ground cover that spreads 2-3 metres. It has bright red toothbrush flowers which put on a truly spectacular display when in full bloom. Also great as a shorty standard

Hard to source

Bonfire

Grows to 2.5 metres and has dark green fern like leaves and clusters of red spidery flowers. Likes a prune after flowering. Similar to Bon Accord

Bulli Envy

A plant from the Park that has flowers reminiscent of G formosa. Usually sold as a standard but makes a great groundcover. Flowers begin a deep green and open to golden yellow – very impressive

Hard to source

Bush Lemons

For many the very best of the yellow flowering Grevilleas, again from Richard Tomkin. We keep the plants in the Park to about 2 x 2. Bush Lemons will flower throughout the year.

Candelabra

Comes in a white or pink form. This is useful because of its narrow habit. Beautiful free flowering banksi type flowers

Carrington Cross

This is a hybrid of G. rivularis and has flowers that are a beautiful mauve. It is a plant with stiff upright growth to about 2 metres or less

Hard to source

Coastal Sunset

A fast growing medium shrub with deeply divided dark green foliage. The intensity of the bright orange flowers is the unique feature of this cultivar.

Hard to Source

commutata

A highly desirable WA Grevillea usually about 1.5- 2 metres high. It has green buds that open to pink and white flowers which are grouped on the ends of branches. The stamens keep the green tip. The narrow leaves have are silver underneath and most noticeable on a breezy day.

Hard to source

Cooroora Cascade

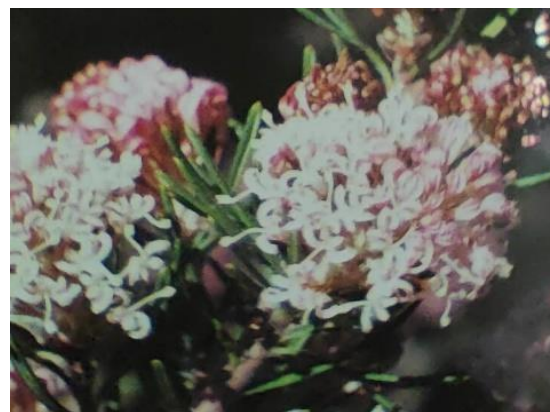

A fast growing groundcover with large golden flowers during summer and autumn. It will spread 3 metres or so. This is also great when grown as a tall standard

crithmifolia

Either a small shrub or a groundcover. It has either white or pink flowers and has a dense habit. It is one of the outstanding perfumed grevilleas and requires little maintenance.

Hard to source

Crowning Glory/Lassiter's
Gold

A spreading groundcover to 3 metres. A prolific flowerer especially in autumn. Flowers are large and golden. A great plant as a standard

Cupid's Dream

A new plant from Kings Park that we think is better grafted. Beautiful shell pink flowers and soft grey foliage 1.5m

Dielsiana

One of the loveliest Grevillea flowers. We usually graft the red form but the orange yellow form is also desirable. It is prickly but is highly bird attracting. Flowers begin in autumn and often continue well into Spring

Hard to source

Droopy Drawers

Flowers appear on the end of weeping branches. This excellent plant has stiff foliage and is a only small shrub

Elegance

A dense shrub that grows to 3 metres or a bit more, but which can be kept smaller by pruning. It flowers throughout the year and tolerates frost. We also graft the pink coloured variety at the Park. A real stunner that is highly bird attracting.

elongata

This WA Grevillea can spread a couple of metres and about 1.5 metres high. It is quite a robust plant that has red stems and which produces tons of white flowers that cover the bush and make a real statement

Exul

One of the few species from New Caledonia. We graft 2 forms, the second has now been reclassified and is named rubingosa. It is a small tree but can be kept for many years to the size of a shrub. Dark green leaves are a great foil for the conspicuous creamy white flowers

Hard to source

Fire Engine Red

A smaller growing for of Elegance which flowers for most of the year. From a distance the flowers are a deep red but on closer inspection have lovely pink tinges

Firedrops

Bears very large dark pink to red flowers that are over 20cm long and 10cm wide from Autumn through to late Spring. Bird attracting. Height 1 – 1.5m, Width 3m.

Flamin Beauty

A plant that grows to just over a metre and few meters wide. Spectacular flame tone flowers smother the plant. A good flowerer

flexuosa

Endangered species from WA. A quick growing Grevillea that will provide you with a specimen plant within a couple of years. It will grow to 3 metres plus, but responds well to pruning. Flowers are a bright yellow/cream/white and literally cover the bush over several months. Stunning!

floripendula

This plant from Victoria has quite a dense habit and unique flowers. Small holly like leaves provide the backdrop for pendulous flowers that hang from branches. Take a close look at the flowers and they are amazing.

Hard to source

georgeana

One of the choicest flowers but unfortunately not often available. Grows to about 2 metres. Leaves are a bit spiky with reddish new growth

Hard to source

Golden Lyre

This plant will reach 1.5 -2 metres high and a bit wider., but likes being pruned. Masses of large yellow flowers appear throughout summer autumn and winter

Golden Yulo

Produces an abundance of soft yellow bottle brush flowers all year round. Grows to about 2 metres granulifera

One from NSW that grows to about 1-1.5 metres. The foliage is notable for the silver underside of the leaves.

Flowers are an attractive red and cream which appear over a prolonged period. Bird attracting

Rarely seen in nurseries

Green Glow

Sometimes available as a standard.
Dense foliage that makes a good head on a standard and fiery red toothbrush flowers

iaspicula

Rare and endangered species from NSW. Olde and Marriot describe this plant as “ a charming plant with pale green, smooth leaves and prominent cream and red flowers displayed for most of the year”

Hard to source grafted plants

infundulibaris

From WA has interesting fan shaped leaves that is bronze when it first appears. Flowers are a fiery bright red. It is a low sprawling shrub that is also sometimes available as a standard

Hard to source

insignis

This is another magnificent WA species. Its waxy cream/pink flowers are highly stunning and contrast well with the grey green holly leaf foliage. It flowers over many months. New leaves have attractive pink tips. It can grow to 3 metres plus by a few metres wide. Bird Attracting
Hard to source

intricata

This is an excellent bush for small birds because of its tangled foliage and beautiful cream flowers. It has several other fantastic features including red branches and sweet perfumed flowers. It is long lived

Ivory Whip

A small to medium spreading shrub which flowers for most of the year. Flowers are a unique ivory colour and provide a spectacular sight for much of the year

Jim's Pink

A wonderful new cultivar that is never out of flower. Toothbrush flowers are an unusual maroon/red/plum/pink colour

johnsonii

From Northern NSW. Comes in either orange or red. Orange is more spectacular and is usually available on open days. A truly magnificent plant that always draws attention at the Park when in flower. It is quick growing and is also beautiful when not in flower due to its long finely divided foliage.

Leah's Flame

This brilliant new cultivar is probably a seedling of Wendy Sunshine. It is a quick growing, low spreading plant with a bright red flowers which are present for most of the year. It responds well to pruning which can be used if a more compact plant is desired. Also great as a standard
Only available at the Grevillea Park

Lemon Daze

A plant not usually sold grafted but it's the only way to extend its life on the coast. Best as a small standard where it looks amazing

leptobotrys

A truly beautiful species from WA. We graft this onto Carrington Cross . It is a low growing plant that will spread to 1- 1.5 metres. New growth is purple/red and is a real feature. It prefers full sun and is best planted at the front of a garden bed

Hard to source

Lime and Soda

Another uniquely coloured hybrid from Richard Tomkin. The flowers on this prostrate plant are greenish yellow and are best in autumn and winter.

Lollypops

A great smaller tropical Grevillea with bright pink flowers in abundance. Very popular luecopteris

An intriguing plant that holds its flowers on long branches which sit above the main foliage. It will flower several times a year and is always spectacular. Foliage is a beautiful greyish colour, finely divide. The shrub will grow to about 2 metres but the flowers spikes reach up beyond this

Hard to source

Macleayna

Available mainly as a standard.
This is the prostrate form of this lovely plant from around the Ulladulla area of the South Coast. Large attractive leaves with a silver underside and pink/red toothbrush flowers

Midas Touch

A taller Grevillea about 3 metres high and 2.5 wide. It has masses of large golden flowers reminiscent of its parent G juncifolia. A spectacular plant that flowers over a long period

nivea Scarlet King

This has tight dense silver grey foliage and masses of vivid red toothbrush flowers. The plant will grow to about 1 metre high and a few metres wide

nudiflora

A unique plant with bright bird attracting flowers .We graft 2 forms – curly leaf and broad leaf. Both are reliable plants that provide an interesting foliage contrast. They form a dense ground cover. They also look great on a standard.

Hard to Source

Orange WOW

One of the new breed of Grevilleas from Richard Tomkin. Large stunning iridescent flowers that have to be seen to be believed. It is a vigorous spreading plant but responds well to pruning if you don't have the space. It only reaches a height of a metre or so but can spread several metres

paradoxa

Lovely plant from WA. This shrub makes a great screen or feature plant, the spiky foliage provides a refuge for wildlife such as small birds.

Parakeet Pink

A smaller growing tropical grevillea with lovely pink flowers all year. 1.5 metres high and wide parvula

Attractive grevillea with rusty red new growth and orange-red flowers most of the year. Excellent long lived bird attractor. Grows 1-1.5 metres high . Previously known as G. victoriae var. leptoneura

Not usually available as a grafted plant pateniloba

The foliage is probably the outstanding feature of this Grevillea - best described as zig zag. This is a tidy bush to about 1-1.5 metres. Flowers are quite a bright red and yellow.

Hard to source

paucifolia

One for the collector. Little honeyeaters love this plant. This will grow 1- 1.5 metres. Leaves are an attractive green/grey and these contrast brilliantly with the often many red and yellow flowers

Hard to source

pilosa

G. pilosa grows to about 1 metre or thereabouts. Flowers are deep red and appear on the bush during most months of the year. A nice feature are the blue/green branches which tend to arch down. A pink form is also available. Sometimes available as a standard.

Hard to source

Pink Ice

Very sweetly perfumed cream and pink flowers. Will grow to about 2 metres. Attracts the bees

Pink Profusion

A new plant from Kings Park that we think is better grafted. An outstanding plant bearing masses of soft pink flowers which attract native birds. 1-1.5m

Plurijuga

One of the most asked for plants on our open days. G plurijuga is a low growing shrub that can reach up to a metre. Long prominent flowers stand upright on the bush and are purple/mauve/pink in colour. Foliage is a lovely blue green. There is also a grey leaf form that has slightly longer leaves and a more open habit. Looks stunning as a standard

pteridifolia

Vibrant golden flowered large shrub/ small tree from WA.

prostrata

Very hard to get so if you're a collector grab it when you see it. This is a ground cover with curly cream flowers quercifolia

A small grower with lovely purple flowers that stand up above the main foliage.

Hard to source

Raspberry Dream

A new plant from Kings Park that we think is better grafted. Produces beautiful vivid toothbrush flowers and only grows 1-1.5 metres

Red Ripper

From Changers Green Nursery this plant is a real beauty. It only grows to about 1.5 metres high and wide and has magnificent red flowers throughout the year

renwickiana

Critically endangered. One for the collectors. A groundcover we think is best on a short standard which will weep down

Difficult to Source

rivularis

Quite rare in the wild, this Grevillea is from NSW. It is quite low growing but will sprawl over several metres.

The flowers are an attractive mauve and cream with green tips on the styles

Hard to source

Robert's Ripper

A plant from the garden of Robert Brown (Vic). A plant that will reach about a metre by a metre and a half. It has highly desirable purple/pink toothbrush flowers that have green tips on the stamens. It likes full sun. It is prickly but worth the space in your garden.

Hard to source

Royal Mantle

Still the best ground cover on a stick, with its dense habit and lovely red flowers.

rudis

A small growing plant with unusual hairy leaves. Flowers are displayed on branches that sit above the main foliage. It flowers over many months

Hard to source

scortechinii

One of the black flowered Grevilleas that is rare and endangered. Low growing and a real talking point

Hard to source

sheresii

This is a rare plant that advantage of taking a degree of shade. The flowers are greenish blue

Hard to source as a grafted plant

Scarlet Moon

Hardy, bird attracting shrub that boasts vibrant silvery-green foliage and white flower buds which open to become beautiful large and spectacular scarlet flowers that continue to bloom throughout the year.

Silver Sulfa

Another from Richard Tomkin.
Free flowering mainly during summer and autumn, it will grown 2m x 2m.
Flowers are massive

Silvereye Cream

A smaller growing tropical grevillea with lovely lemon cream flowers all year. 1.5 metres high and wide simplex

Highly sought after because of its wonderful perfume. Will grow to 2 metres and flowers mainly in autumn and winter

Spirit of Anzac

A fantastic plant from Kings Park with stunning unique red coloured bottlebrush shaped flowers 2m stenemora

Beautiful fine silver/grey foliage coupled with pink/orange flowers that hang from branches make this an impressive grevillea. Will grow in the 1.5 high metre range
Hard to source

subtiliflora

This beautiful grevillea is not often seen outside the Grevillea Park. It grows to about 2.5 metres and is a sight to behold when in full bloom. The flowers white flowers smother the bush, hang from branches and are delicately perfumed
Hard to source

Superba

Flowers similar to pluriguga. An upright plant abt 1.5m high with lovely long mauve/ pink/cream flowers . A low growing form is sometimes available

Hard to source

synapheae

A popular dense small growing grevillea that is covered with flowers in spring. One to be planted in the front of a garden or rockery

Synapheae minyulo

Flowers similar to synapheae subsp synapheae but the habit and foliage is more open and sprawling

Hard to source

Tangerine Dream

This lovely small-growing Grevillea bred by Kings Park and Botanic Garden is excellent for a smaller area . Bird attracting, long flowering . 1m x 1m tenuiloba

This is a brilliant plant. It's a spreading shrub with bright orange toothbrush flowers throughout Spring and into summer. A great rockery plant or better still try to find one on a standard
Hard to source

tetragonaloba

This is a lovely grevillea with dense fine foliage and red or orange flowers. Bird attracting. Great as either a specimen or hedging plant.
Hard to source

trachythea

This Grevillea has creamy white flowers mainly in spring and summer. The flowers are scented and the foliage is attractive .
Hard to source

Venusta This is a larger growing Grevillea. In the garden it will grow to 3 plus metres but can be pruned to keep it smaller. It has one of the most uniquely coloured flowers. The combination of orange red green and black stamens is superb vestita We graft a superior and harder to source pink flowered vestita at the Park. The foliage is a beautiful grey and the flowers scented.

Hard to source

Wendy Sunshine A popular small growing plant with divided grey foliage and vivid red flowers that appear on the ends of branches throughout the year. Only .3 x 1 whiteana Open shrub with attractive silvery grey foliage & long creamy yellow flowers from Winter to Spring. Tolerates light frost & attracts nectar feeding birds. Bush tucker species.

wickhamii A tall narrow growing Grevillea from the Kimberly region. It need a hot spot in the garden and will reward you with bright red flowers that hang conspicuously from the branches and light up the garden. There are other forms with orange/ apricot coloured flowers

Hard to source

wilkinsonii A rare and endangered Grevillea from NSW. It is a neat bush that only grows to 1-1.5 metres and has beautiful mauve flowers

Hard to source

