Our Story

Originally from Sicily, Italy, I recognized from a young age that coming together with my parents and nine siblings at our Italian family dinner table, a tavola, was far more significant than simply putting a fork to mouth - it was an experience that eventually formed everything that we would become in life. It was there that we learned how to eat right, how to live right, how to relate to others, and how to stay emotionally and physically healthy. We learned social skills at the dinner table, we learned about life, the dinner table gave us security and nourishment. A tavola, we learned the gratitude for what we had, and the importance of giving something back to the world! Our family consists of Mother & Father - Pina & Tom, our children - Patrick, Jacobe & Rosa Maria, the partners of our children - Megan, Summer & Jon, and 6 vivacious nipotini (grandchildren). The 14 of us gather together throughout the year to feast and celebrate the many blessings of life where joy, warmth and magic continues to be created around the Italian table.
