Volume 22 Issue 2

April-July 2022

Points of Interest

- Our Donauschwaben ancestors settled along the Danube River starting in 1715.
- They came from the Swabian region of Germany, the Alsace-Lorraine area, the Baden area, Styria area of Austria and the Carpathian region.
- The first immigrants numbered over 15,000 between 1718-1737. The second wave included 75,000 between 1744-1772. Over 60,000 immigrants were in the third wave after 1780.
- Most immigrants in the first two waves were Roman Catholic, with Protestant following in the third wave.
- The route to settlement in Hungary, Croatia, Romania and Serbia went through the river port of Ulm, Germany, Vienna, Austria and Budapest, Hungary.

2017 - Were your Ancestors in the Newspapers? - Using the Media to Help with your Family Tree Research

Newspaper sources are often overlooked as a source of family history information. Learn where and how to find information about your ancestors in the newspapers. The class will cover various types of newspaper articles and notices that are useful in your family history search. Some previous knowledge of genealogy and using the internet is helpful but not necessary. A quick genealogy review will be conducted the first night of the course. A resource CD containing genealogical software, resources and additional supplies are included in the course.

Donauschwaben History & Culture

BANANAS on the BOAT By Franz Bohn (permission granted)

A funny little story:

In 1952, when my mother and I finally departed the Schwabenlager, we took the train to Bremerhaven where we would eventually board the General Harry Taylor, a troop ship that brought us to the US, albeit the trip took us 12 days, riding through two storms. Almost immediately after boarding the train, my mom got sick and spent the entire journey in the sick train car, and once in Bremen, she spent the entire time, while waiting for the ship's departure, again...in the hospital bay. I never saw her during that entire time (about 10 days). I was eleven at the time, and spent the entire time on my own, often wondering what was happening and being extremely homesick for the friendly confines of my Schwabenlager.

I remember the first breakfast in Bremen, where we were given a banana and some cereal. Mind you, I had never seen a banana, much less eaten one, since neither in Yugoslavia or Austria were bananas available. Funny, as I now look back, I had no idea how to eat a banana, (never saw a monkey eat) so I watched the adults, and saw that almost all of them ate them by peeling them like a precise surgeon, using a knife and then slicing thin slices and eating with a fork. I wonder how many of those adults also had their first banana that day . LOL.

Nowadays, when eating breakfast, I often think back on that morning, and smile to myself at my total ignorance about bananas. Since then, I have always enjoyed the bananas, but never needed a knife and fork again. This is just one example of the limited exposure to the world's offerings that we refugee children experienced. However, while most people will not understand, in retrospect, that experience was more enriching than most people can appreciate !

Note: Franz Bohn's note "Schwabenlager Groedig " on the DVHH.org (4 Feb 2020) web site —My story starts when I was four years old, and is sadly similar to that of thousands of other Donauschwaben WW refugee camp stories. Being of German descent, my family was forced out of Yugoslavia during the latter stages of WWII in 1944. On very short notice, overnight, my entire family was forced to flee our home with only the clothes on our backs and some meager belongings. Thus began a long, sad nightmarish journey consisting of running through fields, hiding in fields and woods, eventually stumbling onto a boxcar train that served as 'home' for several months while we were transported from here to there, never quite knowing where. The only certainty we had was our uncertainty. After several months of this frightful journey, we arrived at Groedig, Austria (picture bottom left) a serene and beautiful town on the outskirts of Salzburg. It's beauty surreal in the midst of the ugliness of war. It is here that my Camp story begins, and seven long years later, where it ends.

 215 Uncle Pete's Road Hamilton NJ 08691

Liebe Freunde, liebe Landsleute... liebe Donauschwaben!

We're less than four months away from all the wonderful things you've come to expect at a Donauschwaben Treffen: great dance performances by clubs like yours; live German music throughout; delicious Schwob comfort food; cultural features and highlights; and that special feeling of kinship and comradeship you encounter whenever Donauschwaben gather. We also plan a few surprises we're sure you'll enjoy too.

We've assembled this Treffen packet based on those of the past so the forms and type of information should look familiar. Included is ticket information; group registration; where to sleep; what to eat; ways to celebrate and commemorate, and more. We kindly urge all of you to complete the forms and send them to us before July 1st.

If you have an extra day, the Treffen site is just 15 minutes from Six Flags Great Adventure; 45 minutes from the Jersey Shore or the Liberty Bell; and 90 minutes from Atlantic City, Lady Liberty or Times Square. If you have just a couple of hours check out historic Washington's Crossing, Princeton University or mingle with the hipsters in trendy New Hope scenically located along the shores of the Delaware River.

Good people - fellow Donauschwaben - your friends back east will do everything they can to make this a memorable Treffen experience. We look forward to seeing you in September. Prost!

OUR 17TH ANNUAL EURO AMERICAN AUTO & CYCLE SHOW

It is hard to believe this year was our 17th Annual Euro-American Auto and Cycle Show (the 2020 show was canceled due to the Covid Pandemic). The proceeds go to our club student scholarship fund, with scholarships going to a number of local high school students from the surrounding area each year. It was held on our rain date July 10th this year.

As you know the car and cycle show is open to all makes and models of vehicles (cars, trucks and cycles). It is co-hosted by our friends at the German-American Society (GAS) at their picnic grove at 215 Uncle Pete's Road, Yardville, NJ. It is free for the public spectators.

Over 40 Best of Show awards are issued along with several specialty awards including Best Euro, Best America and Best of Show (selected by those that enter their rides). Our judges have a very hard time picking award winners as ALL the vehicles are great. We appreciate all that enter.

In addition to all the awesome vehicles, we have a raffle open to all, a DJ and of course great food and drinks were again provided by the GAS staff.

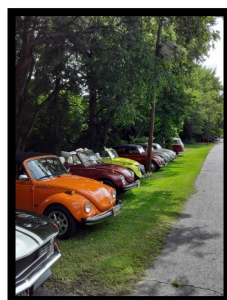

Over 101 vehicles registered for the show, plus eight vehicles from the Old School Euros Car Club were on display. Six members from the OSECC helped out his year with car staging, registration, the raffle booth and judging, Thanks goes out to them for their help.
