Presidents 2016 Year End Message

Dear Members and Friends of the Donauschwaben,

What a great year 2016 was for our organization. The highlight during those very busy 12 months was undoubtedly our gala 60th Anniversary Celebration, one of the biggest club events in our history! How fortunate we are to be to say that, especially in this day and age. Our "big birthday bash" not only showcased what and who we are right now, it also showed what a bright future we have ahead of us.

This past year saw sold out monthly dinners; a growing number of volunteers both young and old; and a continued, strong commitment for all of our customs and traditions. These include dance group and school activities; memorial services; cultural programming throughout the year; and delicious pig roasts, Schlachtfeste, and, yes, even a Fischpaprikaschessen, among other things.

My sincerest thanks to everyone who made all of this possible and to all those whose support made the events successful. I look forward to seeing all of our members and friends in 2017 as we continue writing another wonderful chapter in the history of our cherished organization. Once again, thank you one and all.

Sincerely, Joseph Brandecker

2017 Annual Membership Meeting

There was a good turnout at the annual membership meeting 29 January 2017. Highlights of the past 2016 year were discussed and plans for the 2017 events. It was a very successful year as the club celebrated it's 60th year and remains solid. We had a banner monthly dinner attendance in 2016. It is highly recommended that attendees make reservations. A number of members toast (Prost) the past successful year and all that made the events successful. Congrats to Anna Martini for being elected to the Club's Board of Directors again. ***

2017 SCHLACHTFEST

Our 2017 Winter Schlachtfest was another hit. Both seating were filled as all enjoyed the wonderful pork selections.

A great big "Vielen Dank" to all those members and friends of the club that worked for four days to make this event happen. A lot of time and work goes into the preparation of our wurst, sarma and roasts over the day preceding the Sunday meals.

Happy Valentines Day to all our Loved Ones

Happy St. Patrick's Day to our Irish Friends & Members

We, of course, the smallest group in attendance, were neither overwhelmed by the numbers of the other groups nor overlooked. For the smallest group seemingly has the biggest mouths, which is as it should be. This was especially true during the big "all-groups" parade.

The "wandering shoe" was finally returned to its owner by his financee, Kim, ju in time to do the flying spin which ended the dance and the set. The sho episode and the dancing in general-le a good impression on the attendees of the trachtenfest, judging by the applause we received.

The evening past rather pleasantly after the performance. This structure fell on top of the occupant as he opened his door, curious of the noise which was coming from the "artists" intent on their labor. Later that evening Stev "Humor, I get it" Brandecker acquired the key to that same room and removed clothing and bed spreads belonging to the occupant. He then consolidated clothing and bed spreads belonging to the occupant. He then consolidated them in his own room and held them there hostage until the following

Clubhouse Rules

In order to insure the long life and top condition of the club's chairs tables, china, utensils, etc., the following guidelines have been established: As of the beginning of this year, no one may borrow or otherwise remove anything from the clubhouse for personal use.

Please note also that smoking is not permitted in the clubhouse (except in the refreshment serving area). This applies for public and private (rental) hall use. The reason is simple. The fire safety inspector has ordered it and he can enter our has ordered it and he can enter our clubhouse any time anyone is in the building to see that the rule is being enforced. They warn that failure to comply will result in serious punitive measures being taken against our organization. So, if you are renting our hall or are attending a function please make sure no one is putting our club in jeapardy.

activeness of the Langen Kerls. He noted the close relationship between both organizations and wished them every success.

The Langen Kerls continue to maintain a busy schedule. They are widely recognized as the good-will ambassadors for the Steuben Parade ambassadors for the Steuben Parade Committee and for German-Americans in general. Their activities have helped to promote an awareness of our ethnic community. The historic nature of the group's uniforms and precision drill has repeatedly sparked the interest of many an appreciative spectator. One need only witness how many pictures are taken and how many are drawn to ask questions following a parade to see how valuable the "Langen Kerls" are to the Gernan-American community. Adam Martini's story
Reprinted from recent DVHH web list:

He was born in Bukin in the Batschka in 1937. In late 1944, when the Russians were starting to push the German troops back, forcing them to retreat, his family decided to flee ahead of the Russians to Germany. They hitched their horse to the wagon and left their home and wound up in Eastern Germany, which is now Poland. When they arrived there, the German army took their horse and wagon for the war effort. But now, the Russian army was starting to push West into Germany as well, so they had to flee again by train and wound up in Austria, which was overrun by so many other displaced Donauschwabens already. There were housing shortages, no jobs and little food.

In 1945, a train was advertised to be going back to Yugoslavia from Austria and Donauschwabens were invited to go back to their old hometowns. Adam's family was on that train: father, mother, grandmother and infant sister and Adam, of course, along with a great many other hopeful ethnic Germans.

When the train arrived in Zagreb, which is the capital of Croatia, everyone was told to leave their belongings on the train and go into the station, where they would receive a meal and make arrangements for the rest of their journey.

After everybody was in the station, all the doors were locked. In perfect German, over the loudspeaker, everyone was instructed to put all their valuables on a table and then leave through a specified exit. They were also warned that they would be searched and if anybody failed to leave their valuables, they would be shot. From time to time, gunshots were heard from the outside, though it was impossible for the people inside the station to see what was happening.

The following day, all the people from the train were taken to a concentration camp in Croatia, which was an empty town - formerly occupied by ethnic Germans - were they were assigned to live in rooms with about 15 people – only straw on the floors was their bedding. One day in this camp, everybody had to assemble in one place, when the able- bodied men and strong women without small children separated from the group. Martin's father was among them. He was part of a workgroup, used in working on the Croation railroad. When people in the group got sick, they were taken to a building, and if they did not get well in one day, they disappeared, which is what hap-Adam's pened to father.

From the first camp, Adam's family was then taken to another camp: Mitrvica, and then to Kruschevlje, which was near the Hungarian border. Both of these camps were notorious death camps. The whole area surrounding Kruševlje is a flat ground, with many swampy meadows, fens, bad-fruitful salt-spring fields. The villagers had some fruitful gardens, corn fields, hemp and wheat fields, vineyards a few miles to the North. The village is about 305 feet (93 meters) above the sea level. There are no hills, woods or v e r

On October 20, 1944 the partisans came from Stanišić and entered into Kruševlje. The next day, October 21 arrests started. Almost all remaining men were taken prisoners. The whole village became soon a camp and under constant watch guards. The houses were plundered and sacked, all food and live stock was taken away. The entire German population was proclaimed collaborator of the Third Reich and deprived from all their civilian rights and property. Some men and woman were taken prisoners to the labour-camp in Sombor. Others were sent to labour in the fields around Kruševlje. Those who refused to work all day. wanted to go or flee, were beaten or starved to death. Near the village church, two civilians were simply shot, namely Anna Depre, aged 44 and Karl Frantzem, aged 66, just because they wanted to return home. Many old people, who couldn't work, were left to die from hunger and fear. Some of them were: Emilia Bauer, aged 96; Dominik Depre, aged 93; Margareta Matz, aged 89; Franz Depre, aged 85; Melchior Pentz, aged 85; Salomea Wolf, aged 84; Mathias Schauer, aged 82; Rosalia Wolf, aged 81; Margareta Schauer, aged 81; Christine Pentz, aged 82; Franz Jung, aged 81; Margareta Schnatterbeck, aged 79; Melchior Brandäcker, aged 78; Barbara Keil, aged 76; Elisabeth Bergmann, aged 76; Georg Zettel, aged 76; Karl Bihn, aged 75; Heinrich Steinfeld, aged 75; Rosalia Weber, aged 75, etc. On Christmas Day 1944, about 60 young men and women were taken to Siberia to work in Russian mines. The hard work during the winter was bearable, but more difficulties came in the spring of 1945.

Finally, an aunt of Adam's, who was a nun and lived just across the border in Hungary, arranged for three teenage guides from Serbia to guide the Martini family across the border and to safety. Eventually, they made their way to Austria, where they lived for a few years and Adam learned the trade of cabinet make in make in make in migrated to the USA.

The Trenton Donauschwaben Club: An Idea Whose Time is Now (short translation by Hans Martini, original on page 6)

In cities and towns across the fruited plain you will find clubs founded by immigrants of every stripe. Indeed that's how our club got its start some six decades ago. The original members were part of an ethnic group driven from their homes and cast into a wind that carried them around the globe, including Australia, South America, central Europe, Canada and of course, the USA. Our founding families came to these shores during the boom times of the 1950s looking for a place to call home and that, good people, is where the story of our club begins.

Trenton was part of the industrial heartland in those days, giving truth to the slogan "Trenton Makes the World Takes". In fact, when the phrase was coined in 1910 it was indisputably accurate. Back then the capital city of New Jersey was a beehive of economic activity with rail and road traffic crisscrossing the Delaware on the way to the big metropolises of Philadelphia, New York City and beyond. Rubber, wire rope, ceramics, cars, medicines and even cigars were just some of the industries that supported well-paid jobs for anyone willing to work. Continued on page 11....

VEREINE DER DONAUSCHWABEN -EINE GUTE IDEE

Einige der Großstädte in den USA, sowie auch Kanada, haben Vereinsheime und oft mit Fussballgelände, Picknickplätze und Kinderspielplatz, die von Immigranten gegründet wurden. So ist es auch mit uns Donauschwaben. Wir, für viele Jahre eine heimatlose Gruppe, die in allen Weltrichtungen auf der Suche waren ein neues Zuhause zu finden und einen Neubeginn in Bewegung zu bringen, sind wieder bodenständig geworden.

Nach dem 2. Weltkrieg kamen viele Landsleute nach Trenton, New Jersey und Umgebung. Obwohl Trenton keine Großstadt ist, war sie doch, vor 60 Jahre noch immer eine bekannte Industrie-Stadt mit vielen Arbeitsmöglichkeiten. Trenton war damals so bekannt und stolz, daß man an der Brückenstruktur mit großen Buchstaben den Werbespruch "Trenton makes the world takes" installierte, was man bis jetzt noch immer, auch in der Nacht, von der Eisenbahnstrecke, sowie der neuen Brücke sehen kann. Es leuchtet nächtlich hoch über dem schönen Delaware Fluss und ist für jeden Reisenden sichtbar.

Die vielen grossen Unternehmungen wie: Bayer Asperin, General Motors, Goodall Rubber Co., Congoleum Corp. und viele mehr hatten viele Arbeitsplätze die gefüllt werden mussten und wo oft die Englische Sprache nicht unbedingt notwendig war. Es war eine ideale Situation für unsere Eltern und Grosseltern. Das war damals der Grund warum so viele Landsleute hier Auch waren schon viele landeten. Einwanderer hier, die vor und nach dem ersten Weltkrieg sich hier sesshaft machten. Der Unterschied zwischen den zwei Einwanderungswellen liegt in der Tatsache, dass die Einwanderer um die Jahrhundertwende und dem ersten

Wir aber suchten zum Grossteil einen Neuanfang da man uns wegen des zweiten Weltkrieges zu Staatenlose erklärte, unser Haus und Hof von uns weggenommen wurde und uns wie Freiwild behandelte.

Jedenfalls gab es diese zwei Gruppen von Landsleute vor 60-70 Jahren.

Wir "Neueinwanderer". zumindest unsere Väter und Grossväter, versuchten ohne Vereinsheim und als Gastgruppe in einem deutschen Klub hier in Trenton zusammen zu arbeiten, aber es wurde immer schwieriger sich anzupassen und einzufügen. So wurde die Notwendigkeit wahrgenommen uns von dem deutschen Verein zu trennen und mussten für einige Jahre oft in den Privathäuser unserer Mitglieder und auch Kirchenräume benützen um unsere Sitzungen und kleinen Feiern zu ermöglichen. Langsam wurde es unseren Männern bewusst, dass wir eine eigene Vereinsanlage brauchen um unser Ahnengut zu bewahren und die Traditionen unserer "Dorfkultur", wie Volkstänze, Trachten und Mundart, Lieder, Kochen und Kartenspielen einen Stammplatz zu sichern.

Im Jahre 1973 hat sich dieser Wunsch erfüllt, als unser damalige Präsident Willi Michel, mit einigen Männern, ein Platz mit zwei alten Häusern und einer Scheune auf einem 1.5 acre Grundstück, auf ihrer Suche entdeckten und auch gleich einen Kauf durchführten. Total finanziert von den Mitgliedern, mit $500.- oder $1,000.- Anleihen, die jetzt alle schon längst zurückgezahlt wurden.

In den Jahren seither war unser Verein sehr erfolgreich. einer starken und gut trainierten Jugendtanzgruppe wurden wir bekannt nicht nur in unserer Region, sondern tanzten auch am "Deutschen Tag" in Washington, DC, sowie in Atlantic City und den Catskill Mountains im NY Staat. Sie waren auch immer dabei, bei den Treffen, und der "Deutschen Tag" Feier in Holmdale, NJ. Auch bis zu sechzig Schüler, drückten Schulbänke in unserem Vereinshaus für viele Jahre und bis heute versuchen wir noch immer unseren Kindern mit den deutschen Gedichten und Liedern bekannt zu machen, und St. Nikolaus und Weihnachtsfeiern zu veranstallten, sowie Ostern mit den farbenfrohen Ostereier die der Osterhase versteckt und die Kinder dann mit grossem Eifer suchen und dabei viel Spass haben, ist auch immer noch sehr beliebt.

Eine unserer wichtigsten Ahnenpflichten war schon immer, dass wir die vielen toten Landsleute und Kinder die im Krieg und in den Nachkriegsjahren in Titos Vernichtungslager umgekommen sind, nicht sie zu vergessen, sie zu ehren und für sie zu beten. Auch mit einer Gedenkfeier an Allerheiligen vor dem schönen Denkmal mit den Namen der Verstorbenen und auch allen die vergessen sind und im fremder Erde ruhen und so ihnen auf diese Art zu versichern, dass wir sie nicht vergessen haben und auch nie vergessen werden.

Dass, liebe Landsleute sind einige der Gründe, warum wir Donauschwaben ein Vereinsheim brauchen und Eure Teilnahme und Unterstützung so wichtig ist.

Im Herbst 2016 feierten wir das 60. Jubiläum der Donauschwaben, Ortsgruppe Trenton, New Jersey. Es waren erfolgreiche Jahre für eine kleine Gruppe wie wir es sind. Fast 300 Gäste waren bei unserer 60. Jubiläumsfeier dabei. Gäste von fern und nah, es war ja so schön, man ehrte einen kleinen Donauschwaben Verein der über all diese 60 Jahre ihr Ahnengut ernst genommen hat, ihre Traditionen nicht vergessen hat und überall mitmachen, die Vereinstür offen hält für Jeden der unsere deutsche Art und Traditionen kennen lernen möchte und mit uns mitfeiern will.

Besucht unseren Verein, macht mit, kommt mit euren Freunden, geniesst einen Nachmittag bei gutem Essen und einem Glas Wein oder Bier, Tee oder Kaffee, auch ergeben sich Möglichkeiten, manchesmal spontan einen Kanutrip durch die schönen Pine Barrens mit ihren harmlosen Flüssen zu unternehmen, sowie den interessanten oberen Delaware Fluss zu erkunden, den Delaware Watergap zu durchwandern und noch vieles mehr.

Das Leben ist gut und die Möglichkeiten sind endlos.

STUDENT SCHOLARSHIP CONTINUES

Our Club was delighted to once again host German students, their teachers and families, from our local high schools, at both the November and February Schlachtfest. It provided the students (their families and teachers) with a true cultural culinary experience, and they look forward to coming back every year! Also, our Club offers scholarships to deserving students studying German and we will, once again, be attending their annual awards nights, scheduled for May and June, to make the presentations. The recipients will also receive an invitation to our annual June Pig Roast. We look forward to welcoming them and introducing them to our members and friends! As always, we thank everyone who contributes to our Scholarship Fund, through donations and by participating in our raffles! Vielen Dank!

Because of this Trenton was home to numerous immigrant populations including a large Donauschwaben community that arrived in the early decades of the 1900s. All of this made New Jersey a desirable destination for those of us seeking a new life in the 1950s.

It might be good to note the difference between the early Donauschwaben immigrants and those who came after WWII. Simply put: The early group consisted of those seeking better economic opportunities while the latter group were political refugees who could no longer return to their homes safely. So, while these folks shared the same background they did indeed have vastly different life experiences centered on what happened before, during and after WWII. It wasn't surprising then that our world view was sometimes different and that we didn't always see eye to eye.

Donauschwaben arriving in the 1950s were the new kids on the block, full of energy and enthusiasm for the great new place we now called home. We wanted to prove we could adapt quickly to our chosen homeland and no longer wanted to be weighed down by the desperation and indignities encountered in the aftermath of WWII. It was in this context that the Trenton Donauschwaben came into existence. After losing everything we wanted something to call our own. We wanted our own place to promote, preserve and perpetuate a cultural identity that survived the ravages of war and the ethnic cleansing that followed. That's the way we felt here in Trenton and that's the way "new Donauschwaben" felt in almost 20 different cities across Canada and the US where other Donauschwaben clubs would form.

For over 15 years we survived as a club by meeting at private homes and halls, all while growing steadily in strength and numbers. In 1973 a property was found that would serve our needs so we turned to our members to self-finance the purchase. Dozens of members put up between $500 and $1000 for which they were promised a reasonable rate of return for as long as it took to repay the loan. Happily repayment was made in full sometime in the late 1980s and the club has been debt free ever since.

Much has been written about the success of our organization and rightly so. We did it all and did it well: great food, dancing, teaching, singing, car shows, canoeing, hiking, and so much more. We can all be proud of the fact that we continue to be successful and that there's every reason to be optimistic about the years ahead. The 60th anniversary celebration last year clearly showed that Trenton does not intend to "go gently into that good night". We will live on!

And so, dear readers, that's why the Trenton Donauschwaben was established and that's why it must continue long into the future. Please do all you can to support this wonderful club of ours today, tomorrow and always.

Life is good. The possibilities are endless. Adam Martini
