

Overview:

Hi everyone! Finding things to do in this summer heat can be a bit challenging, especially when you have children in various age ranges who get bored easily. Below is a recipe for a Toy Story themed movie night that is so fun, even you will wonder if your toys come alive! Each recipe below was curated with the thought of busy parents and kids in mind.

Items listed without a recipe are to spark your creativity!

Bo Peep's Punch

Ingredients:

2 Liter of Sprite

12 oz of blue drink of choice (Gatorade, blue coconut syrup, Koolaid, etc)

1 cup of strawberries or raspberries

Instructions:

- 1) Chill Sprite and drink mix prior to combining the ingredients.
- 2) Chop strawberries into smaller pieces or leave raspberries whole.
- 3) Place fruit in the bottom of the pitcher.
- 4) Combine 2 liters of Sprite with your preferred blue drink.
- 5) Serve up the drinks chilled before the movie starts.

Woody's Wacky Mix

Ingredients:

- 6 oz of your favorite chocolate chips
- 8 oz of mini pretzel sticks
- 4 oz of sunflower seed kernels
- 3 oz of M&M's (1 box)

Instructions:

- 1) Combine all the ingredients listed above.
- 2) Store leftovers in an airtight container.

Buzz Bites

Ingredients:

- 1 can of biscuits
- 1 block of mozzarella cheese
- Parsley
- 1 stick of butter
- 2 cloves of minced garlic

Instructions:

- 1) Preheat your oven to 350°F
- 2) Flatten each biscuit out slightly so that there is room for the cheese.
- 3) Cube the cheese into small blocks.
- 4) Place 1 cube of cheese into one flattened biscuit and pinch the dough over.
- 5) Roll pinched dough in the shape of a ball and place the seam side into a baking dish.
- 6) Melt one stick of butter with dried or fresh parsley and minced garlic.
- 7) Brush melted butter onto the dough and bake at 350 for the time suggested on the can.

