Our Resume Writing Process: We host a phone 30-minute phone consultation. During the phone consultation, our goal is to build rapport and collect data to help build your new resume. Once the resume is finished, you will receive the first draft for your review. Once you review your resume, we will have another phone consultation to discuss any additions or changes you may want to make to the resume or cover letter. Once the changes have been made, you will receive the final copy. Then, you will receive a sign-off form stating that you are completely satisfied with your resume and any other documents.
