Judge # 1 - Lindsey Cheney

She also holds the position of President of Dance Masters of the Bluegrass Chapter #40 and currently a National Area Director of Dance Masters of America. Lindsey is dedicated to actively engaging with her students, nurturing their passion, creativity, and love for dance. Her extensive training covers a wide array of dance styles, including jazz, lyrical, contemporary, tap, ballet, and acrobatics. She is certified by Dance Masters of America in ballet, jazz, and acrobatics, as well as by Acrobatics Arts. From a young age, she discovered her true calling in the fine arts and is devoted to expressing dance's artistic dimensions. Lindsey has successfully led her students to perform at prominent venues and in productions such as Netflix films, Derby Dinner Playhouse, Disney World, The Ellen DeGeneres Show, cruise ships, and Nickelodeon's Junior Lip Sync Challenge. Her students have gone on to attend esteemed institutions like Boston Conservatory at Berklee, SUNY Purchase, Pace University, and The American Musical and Dramatic Academy. Her primary goal for her studio is to create an environment where every child feels loved and accepted while being empowered to pursue their passion for dance. Lindsey's commitment to fostering a nurturing and inclusive atmosphere has not only fueled her students' success but also instilled in them a lifelong appreciation for the arts. She believes dance is a powerful form of self-expression and communication that transcends language and cultural barriers. By promoting encouragement and mutual respect, she ensures that each dancer, regardless of skill level, has the opportunity to grow and excel. In addition to technical skills, Lindsey emphasizes developing personal attributes such as self-confidence, self-discipline, and teamwork. She encourages her students to embrace challenges and view setbacks as opportunities for personal growth, fostering resilience that extends beyond the dance environment. Her innovative teaching methods blend traditional techniques with contemporary influences, keeping her curriculum relevant and engaging.
