BACKGROUND

Prosperity, Recovery, & Resilience from Someone that Lived it!

Amber is a 2024 Congressional Honoree recognized for her outstanding work as a Chamber of Commerce CEO. She has over 25 years' marketing, communications, public relations and philanthropy/development experience in government, nonprofits, and corporate with 18 years in and around the Chamber of Commerce industry. She has coached award-winning teams of 2-45 people. She has helped international nonprofit clients grow and expand by providing leadership development, marketing, and strategy development support. She brings experience working with municipal and legislative leadership, working on Capitol Hill with U.S. Congress, and supporting growing small businesses. Her industrial engineering expertise afforded her the opportunity to work with corporate clients like Georgetown Cupcake, Freddie Mac, comScore and the guy who sold all of his family's belongings to launch his medical supply company from his garage. She led the team that took him from bargain basement to warehouse ready next to the Amazon distribution site in 3 years and many more like him. When her employer let go of staff when the pandemic hit she remained determined to support those underserved and historically excluded in times of crisis. She collaborated with the Florida Department of Economic Opportunity and others to ensure continuity plans were designed and implemented. At the height of the pandemic she ran the Women's Business Center at Florida Tech. She created inclusive small business outreach plans under the direction of the U.S. Small Business Administration. She provided insight to a Board of Directors raising over $2,000,000 in 2 months to provide here-and-now resources to families trying to make ends meet during the pandemic. She recently served as president and CEO of a historic Chamber of Commerce in Georgia, current home & birthplace to former President Jimmy Carter. She has been recognized globally for ACCE's 40 under 40 top executives in her industry and 45 under 45 top alum from her alma mater. She is a 2025 100 Women to KNOW honoree.
