

A map of Central-East Vancouver Island, British Columbia, Canada. A thick blue line traces a route from Campbell River in the northwest to Duncan in the southeast. The route follows the coast, passing through Courtenay, Comox, Qualicum Beach, Parksville, Nanaimo, Ladysmith, Chemainus, and finally Duncan. Various islands and bays are labeled, including Courtes Island, Lund, Sliam, Madeira, Lasqueti Island, Gabriola Island, Galiano Island, Salt Spring Island, and Cowichan Island. Water bodies like Heriot Bay, Oyster River, Black Creek, Fanny Bay, Nanose Bay, and Cowichan Lake are also shown. Road numbers 19, 19A, 28, 4, and 18 are indicated. Two text boxes are overlaid on the map: one at the top center and one at the bottom center, both containing text in blue font with a white outline. The background is a light blue and green map showing terrain and water.
