We Can Do It and Have Fun

Well, Ladies, we are doing it, and aren't we having fun! What a fun-packed month it was! It was a lot of work for the Club but well worth it!

The "Afternoon with Cleopatra," was fabulous and well attended. Both GFWC and day Community Service netted $1,024 from the proceeds.

The Holiday Craft Auction was spectacular! The decor was wonderfully festive. It got everyone in the mood for holiday giving, as was demonstrated by the generous bids on auction items.

I'm writing this letter as cars encircle our parking lot at the much-anticipated, shredding event! It was amazing! I talked to many women who were totally intrigued with our Club. Things are stirring!

A date to save! January 13 at 1pm. After 12 years of supporting Doris French Elementary School, we are going for a tour and presentation by the students. These lovely children are providing us a tour, finger sandwiches, and a musical presentation from their choir! Thank you, Lois Evora, for arranging this event.

Our last fundraising event for 2022 is the Bake and Soup Sale Tea on December 2. It is the perfect time to stock up on and freeze these fabulous culinary delights to serve yourself and family.

Now is the season to take care of and enjoy our families. But, first, let's give ourselves a pat on the back and enjoy our Mesquite Club Holiday Luncheon at Las Vegas National Golf Course on Friday, December 9. This year the evening Mesquite ladies are joining the luncheon! I love all the ladies together. Did you realize that the address of the Las Vegas National Golf Course is 1911 Desert Inn—a perfect coincidence!

Here's wishing everyone a wonderful holiday season!! Ho! Ho! Ho!

EVENING LETTER; RUMMAGE SALE

EVENING MESQUITE'S "HOLIDAY CRAFT AUCTION" A SMASHING SUCCESS

The ladies of the Evening Mesquite Club are riding high after a rollicking success at their 37th Annual Holiday Craft Auction, held on November 18, which earned what one member has called, "a lot." The exact amount will be announced in next month's newsletter when all the accounting is settled.

The Clubhouse was beautifully decorated in Holiday red and white under the leadership of Sigrid Insull- Lucking and featured centerpieces of festive balloons. Our theme of a "very beary holiday" was carried out throughout the Clubhouse with a beautiful collection of stuffed bears that graced our bookcase. There was also a collection of stuffed bears in the foyer. These foyer bears will be given to Foster Kinship to be donated to the children. Thank you, Jane Reid and Sigrid Insull- Lucking for making that happen for the kids!

There were raffle baskets galore featuring such items as delicious potent potables, dinners at some of the best restaurants in town, pet items, spa items, dancing lessons and many more desirable prizes.

The live auction (from which the Holiday Craft Auction gets its name) was just that -- lively. Auctioneer Doug Suerdieck brought his inimitable style to the event and made the auction fun for everybody.

Award-winning milliner Louisa Voisine started the live auction off right with her donation of a stunning fascinator (women's small hat) in black with flowing pink feathers and a gorgeous floral piece of pale pink, piped in black with an elegant rhinestone center. The equally lovely Frankie Segel modelled this lovely item.

The live auction included such dazzling items as beautiful watercolors by the famed artist Lucy Foley, a Holiday grapevine door wreath made by Club member Linda Shapona, hand crocheted baby blanket made by Club member Bonnie Crawford, an elegant pearl necklace designed by Club member Sigrid Insull- Lucking, a private wine class for 20, a stay at the historic Boulder City Hotel, a ride on the Boulder City Santa Express train, Christmas caroling quilt made by Club member Ruth Larson, a two night staycation at the South Point Hotel Casino and Spa, a dental special for your fur baby, a perfect Kentucky Derby hat handcrafted by Denise Beaumont, gorgeous amethyst earrings from John Fish jewelers, and a fabulous two-night stay at CasaBlanca Resort in Mesquite, Nevada.

Bonnie Utton, her beautiful family, and several Evening members did a magnificent job on the food and the food service. We new members now know what a great cook Bonnie is and how gracious she has been with doing all this challenging work. We are most grateful to Bonnie, her wonderful children, and grandchildren and to the Evening members.

DID YOU KNOW -

1913 - To celebrate Christmas, the Club erected a tree on Fremont Street. There was a gift for every child and gifts of food or clothing for anyone in need. The lighting of the tree was followed by music, carol singing, and dancing for all to enjoy. This practice continued until 1953 when the little town of Las Vegas had become a city.

GOOD NEWS DEPARTMENT - Helen Holland celebrated her 100th birthday at the Mesquite Clubhouse on October 22, her actual birthday is October 25. Local media covered the celebration, and Helen had a wonderful time. Happy birthday to Helen.

Happy Holidays, everyone,

Arlene McCroy and Nancy Hill

FINE ARTS COMMITTEE; SILVER TEA

Part Two

As stated in the October Mesquiter in part one of the open letter to the Mesquite Club members, you were asked to start thinking of YOUR definition of “fine art,” and get ready to attend the Mesquite Club Fine Arts Day event April 21, 2023.

While considering your definition of “fine art,” or art, in general; here are commonalities that well executed art (fine art and handicraft art) always include. Ahmed Javed on the internet site Englopedia wrote the following for our information. The beginning of the 19th century had types of plastic arts, including painting, sculpture, drawing, engraving, mural painting, ceramics, goldsmithery and handicraft. Later, other artistic manifestations such as cinema, photography, or digital art and modern art with its versatility of materials and concepts expanded the range of plastic art. This is basically because the plastic arts are based on principles common to the immensity of artistic disciplines.

Artists use different methods to give shape to their ideas. At the Fine Arts Day event, we will have artists of varying techniques with whom you can interact and view their contribution to art, expressing to us the discipline of their talents and ideas. If the years of Covid taught us anything, it is that we as individuals are important within our own minds and selves, and important to our fellows. Our souls, if you will, are discrete and desirous of communicating to our fellows. Art releases our “soulfulness,” via our communication to others through art.

Plan to come to the Fine Arts Day event to celebrate our own Mesquite Club artists and their guest artists. One of our guest artists is our own Mesquite Club member Colleen Bailey. Here is her brief biography telling of her artistic pursuit. I decided to try art classes back in the 80's when Mary Shaw started teaching an oil painting class at Mesquite Club. I had recently separated from my husband and thought that art classes would give me a hobby I could do in the evenings when I was alone. I was not particularly good at it, but I persisted and when Mary switched to teaching watercolor, I decided to try that also. I figured I could not be any worse than I was with oil. I took classes, went to workshops, and enjoyed myself but never did feel that I was much of an artist. I was too literal and tight in my Painting, and Mary felt that she had failed in making a loose woman of me.

Then about a year ago, my older daughter suggested that I might like to do collage and I thought she might be right as I was sure I could cut and paste. She sent me links to tutorials on U Tube to watch and see how various artists in this medium make their unique papers. I have learned ways to make my background papers and use various sources for items to glue on the papers and have been making cards with this process as well as art pieces for my grandchildren. I enjoy it very much and am looking forward to showing how to make a couple of the background papers and then turning those and other unique papers I have into lovely all- purpose cards. I make cards now for all my families' birthdays and include poems I have written for everyone.

In addition to Colleen Bailey, we will have as a guest artist, Jill Halverson who does the technical and historical arts of spinning. Here is her introduction: I am Jill Halverson a native Las Vegan. I taught elementary art, and middle school computers for the Clark County school district and retired in 2020. I began knitting in 2004, so I could make my son a baby blanket and spinning my own yarn years later. I have three traditional, treadle wheels, three electric wheels and a book charkha for spinning cotton. I spin, knit, dye, crochet, and weave primarily for my own pleasure, but have begun limited commission work. I make commemorative keepsakes made from yarn spun from the fur of people's pets. I have also traded spinning for wool from small flock owners.

Mark your calendars for April 21, 2023, for an exciting interactive day at Mesquite Club.

WHAT'S THE BOARD UP TO?; BYLAWS SUBMISSIONS;

Call to order: President Frankie Segel called the meeting to order at 10 a.m. with the secretary present. The President led the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

President's Report: President Segel told us that the theme of the painting of the utility box has been finalized, and it will feature roses and an outline of the state of Nevada. Also, the Smith Center for the Performing Arts has received the donation of $1,270.00 from Club members and they will recognize our sponsorship in their printed programs by December. She was pleased to draw our attention to two large thermometers that were created by Craft Group Chair Sue Churchill which will be used to keep track of progress in reaching the fund-raising goals for Community Service and Way and Means Committees.

Second Vice President: Colleen Bailey asked for ideas to attract new members attendance at informational meetings as she is disappointed in their turn-out. Telephone calls will be made.

Financial Secretary: Nancy Zangl distributed the October reports which showed that the net income for the Community Service Committee event on 10/21/22 was $2,952.36.

Building Chair: Cherie Williams DeWitt reported the front door will be repaired when the service provider receives the parts needed for the job. She also spoke about a situation with the outside grounds. The grass growing around the edges of the parking lot has not been removed because that area is not included in the contract with the landscape company currently employed by the Club. Cherie plans to investigate hiring a different company and meanwhile Custodian Scott Missen will clear out the grass and use spray to prevent further growth.

Community Service: Committee chair, Chris White, said she is proud to have a good start on their fundraising goal with the Big Boo profit of $2,952.36.

Old Business: Grant Committee - President Segel brought the subject of a grant committee as she believes there is potential in the Club qualifying for grants that would help the Club or entities we would support with financial assistance. After discussion of the topic President Segel appointed Chris White chair of the new committee, and Chris will appoint a co-chair and four committee members.

New Business: Cinder Block Wall - President Segel reported that a company managing repairs and refreshing of block walls had been contacted about caulking, cleaning up and painting the parking lot walls. The company had provided an estimate of $1,511.00 for taking care of the walls in August of 2021 and they graciously offered to stand by that estimate and perform the work at this time. Custodian Scott Missen will purchase and replace the missing blocks before the cleanup is performed. Cherie Williams DeWitt brought a motion "I move that we pay Unforgettable Coating and Painting $1,511.00 to power wash, repair and paint the block wall around the parking lot of the Clubhouse and pay from the Celebration of Life Fund." Motion seconded and adopted.

Custodian position requirements and requests: Cherie Williams DeWitt requested that we refrain from giving instructions to Scott Missen that would conflict with the duties outlined for his custodian position. He has experienced confusion at times, and Cheri would like us to recognize that she is Scott's "point person" when it comes to his duties and special requests.

Fundraising ideas: President Segel addressed the need for the Club to generate additional income, and she introduced a sample letter she had composed that would be presented to local business entities. The letter outlines the purpose and activities of the Mesquite Club as well as the names of past and current recipients of our financial support. The letter content is flexible and may introduce the member who is requesting an in-kind or financial donation from a business. It was agreed that a letter should be a part of our ways and means fundraising tool kit. Care will be taken that the businesses being contacted by daytime members are not also being solicited by the evening group.

Meeting adjourned at 11:57 a.m.
