To help provide clarity, FUK identifies major problems as issues that affect the functionality of the product, i.e.

- ◆ Full thickness and structural brick damage or dislocation.
- ◆ Significant electrical faults that prevent the kilns functioning or create risk.

To help provide clarity, FUK identifies minor problems as issues that are cosmetic, easily repaired or adjusted and don't impact on functioning, i.e.

- ◆ Dents or scratches on the casing.
- ◆ Cracks, chips, movement, discolouration or air pockets in kiln bricks.
- ◆ Expansion cracks following firing.
- ◆ Lid or door fitting issues that require adjustment.
- ◆ Issues with consumables that can be replaced (thermocouples, elements etc).

If a product or service does not meet FUK obligations under consumer guarantees, FUK will work with the customer to achieve a mutually just outcome that may include repair, replacement, refund or compensation. Delays in resolution may occur when third parties (i.e. delivery companies) are involved.

23. Delivery and shipping: FUK encourage the utilisation of its service to coordinate the freighting of large, heavy, or bulky items.

- ◆ Always take pictures of any concerns or damage to products and its packaging.
- ◆ Always keep any damaged packaging / crating.

This will be essential if an insurance claim is required. Always inform FUK within 3 days or the claim may not be accepted due the insurance rules of many courier companies.

- ◆ Freight to your home or business: Products will be insured by FUK up to the arrival at your location and unloaded from the delivery vehicle. Please ensure you have insurance cover for the kiln after it has been unloaded from the vehicle and during the move to its permanent location.

Someone must be present to receive the product, the client is liable to negotiate with the delivery company directly any issues regarding date, time, or your local quirks of delivery.

Do not sign the consignment note until you have inspected the box / crate / package from any damage associated with transport.

If you see obvious external damage, then write “refused due to damage” on the consignment note and the product will go back with the freight company who will be responsible. Some larger kilns will have ‘shock watches’ & ‘Tilt Indicators’ attached that must be inspected as having not activated prior to accepting a shipment. If you accept delivery or sign a delivery note despite obvious damage, liability rests with you.

- ◆ Additional Fees: If additional fees are applied by the transport company because of customer related issues / behaviours these costs will be the responsibility of the customer. Examples of issues are:
 - ◆ Hard to service destinations or poor site accessibility.
 - ◆ Inaccuracies with the delivery address.
 - ◆ Deliveries to shopping centres or multi-level buildings.
 - ◆ Restrictive time slot booking requirements.
 - ◆ Excessive driver required unload requirements.
 - ◆ Excess waiting times for the driver.
 - ◆ No forklift available onsite as planned.
 - ◆ Failed delivery or delivery returned to factory.
- ◆ Collection from a Depot: Should you collect or organise collection from a depot, then you will be liable for insuring the product from the moment of uplift from the Depot. Please ensure inspection prior to uplift as your liability begins from that point.
- ◆ In-Person Collection: Should you collect items from the FUK factory then you will be liable for insuring the product from the moment of uplift from the FUK factory. Please inspect prior to uplift as your liability begins from that point.
- ◆ After-hours drop-off & collection box: This can be made available for use at the customer’s own risk. FUK does not indemnify any damage or loss that may be incurred as a result of using this after-hours drop box service.
- ◆ Australia Post: Smaller packages may be sent by Australia Post, or a courier. To keep our products and services as affordable as possible, we simplify and often re-use packaging. If you wish for something to be packaged a certain way, please discuss with FUK regarding any additional costs. Transport damages will need to be claimed by the recipient through the Australia Post / couriers services directly.

24. Lifting, Moving & Setting up: Kilns and other large items are heavy and easily unbalanced. Please discuss the safety equipment, lifting equipment and number of people required to safely unpack or move your item, prior to any attempts to move the item. FUK recommends the use of a forklift or a pallet-jack and a minimum of two strong people. A crane truck is advised for large industry kilns, where smaller kilns on wheels may be best unpacked from their crate and gently rolled into place. Never tilt or drag kilns over uneven surfaces.
25. Electrical Safety: All products are electrically complaint to Australian standards. FUK strongly recommends that a qualified local electrician is engaged prior to the purchase of a kiln and again for installation as required. NEVER open or interfere with the electrical box and should you have any concerns, turn the kiln off at the power source and seek the advice of a qualified electrician immediately.
26. Safety Notice: The purchaser acknowledges that equipment improperly installed, maintained, or operated can pose a serious threat to a person's safety, environmental integrity, and product/process quality. FUK equipment is provided with various safety, performance, and operating limits, designs, and devices which, if disconnected, altered, tampered with, or changed by the owner, will become the owners sole risk and responsibility and such actions will absolve FUK of all obligations and liabilities with respect to the function of such limits, designs, and devices.
