I just go by Ken, but People who have known me since I was Little still call me Kenny.

I received a degree in psychology a about thirty years ago. I did a lot of research while getting my bachelors degree, which led me to have some hours toward a masters degree. But I decided to leave school as soon as I graduated to become a firefighter full time.

I worked full time while going to school as a psych- tech in several hospitals in both Hawaii and Colorado. About eleven years if memory serves. I did mostly in patient work with adults and children. I helped launch a youth program in Greeley back in the early 90's

I then left the psych world behind because I wanted something less stressful.

I spent most of my adult life in service to others. Since I was nineteen years old, I have worked either in a hospital, ambulance, or a fire engine. I started as a volunteer in Platteville, then moved on to Poudre Fire Authority when I found out you could get paid to be a firefighter. I spent just under twenty years with Ft Collins, until an unsuccessful back surgery guided me to make a career change.

I then used a good chunk of my retirement to fund starting my own business. I now own and operate a food vending business that focuses on festivals.

During the Greeley Stampede last summer, I suffered a stroke which has left me with more challenges than I had before. (Like writing this for two days because typing proves to be very difficult.). I still feel like I speak well with some Aphasic moments, so phone calls work best for me.
