Spencer Rice is a Colorado native that has lived in Fort Collins, CO. for the last 24 years. Spencer has a B.S. in Business Management from Colorado State University graduating in 2002. In 2000 Spencer started looking at Emergency Services as a career and joined the Poudre Fire Authority as a volunteer. In his 21 years of emergency services, he has served in many different organizations and in many different roles. These include both Third Party and County based 911 ambulance services for eight years, as well as both a volunteer and career firefighter for 21 years. Positions he has held include Firefighter/EMT, Driver Operator, Captain, Training Captain, Safety Captain, and Battalion Chief. In 2020 seemingly what seemed out of nowhere Spencer experienced mental health issues including Depression, PTSD, and anxiety. Through the care he received and the life changing events that unfolded Spencer found a new passion and spark ensuring that ALL FIRST RESPONDERS receive the care and assistance he was afforded. This led him to seek out opportunities to give back to those that give of themselves every day. Spencer joined the board 911for911 in the spring of 2021 and currently holds the position of V.P. To assist with his newfound passion, Spencer has enrolled in Louisiana State University Shreveport's Masters of Nonprofit Administration degree. He uses the lessons learned from other nonprofit professionals to better himself in his role as a board member of 911for911. Spencer still resides in Fort Collins, CO. and is "working the streets" as a Captain for the PFA. He is happily married to his wife of 17 years who has also been in emergency services for almost 30 years with the last 15 being that of Flight Paramedic. They have two amazing kiddos to include their 13-year-old daughter and 11-year-old son.
