

Egyptian Red Granite Catalouge

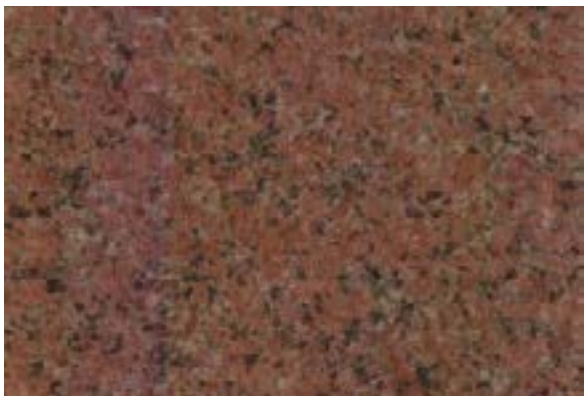

Safaga Egyptian Granite

Safaga Egyptian Granite is a unique and visually striking natural stone known for its predominantly red coloration with dark spots.

This granite variety hails from the quarries near the town of Safaga in Egypt.

Its distinctive appearance is characterized by a deep red background, which can vary from lighter shades to darker, more intense hues.

Scattered throughout the stone are dark spots, often in shades of brown, black, or gray, which create a mesmerizing contrast against the red backdrop.

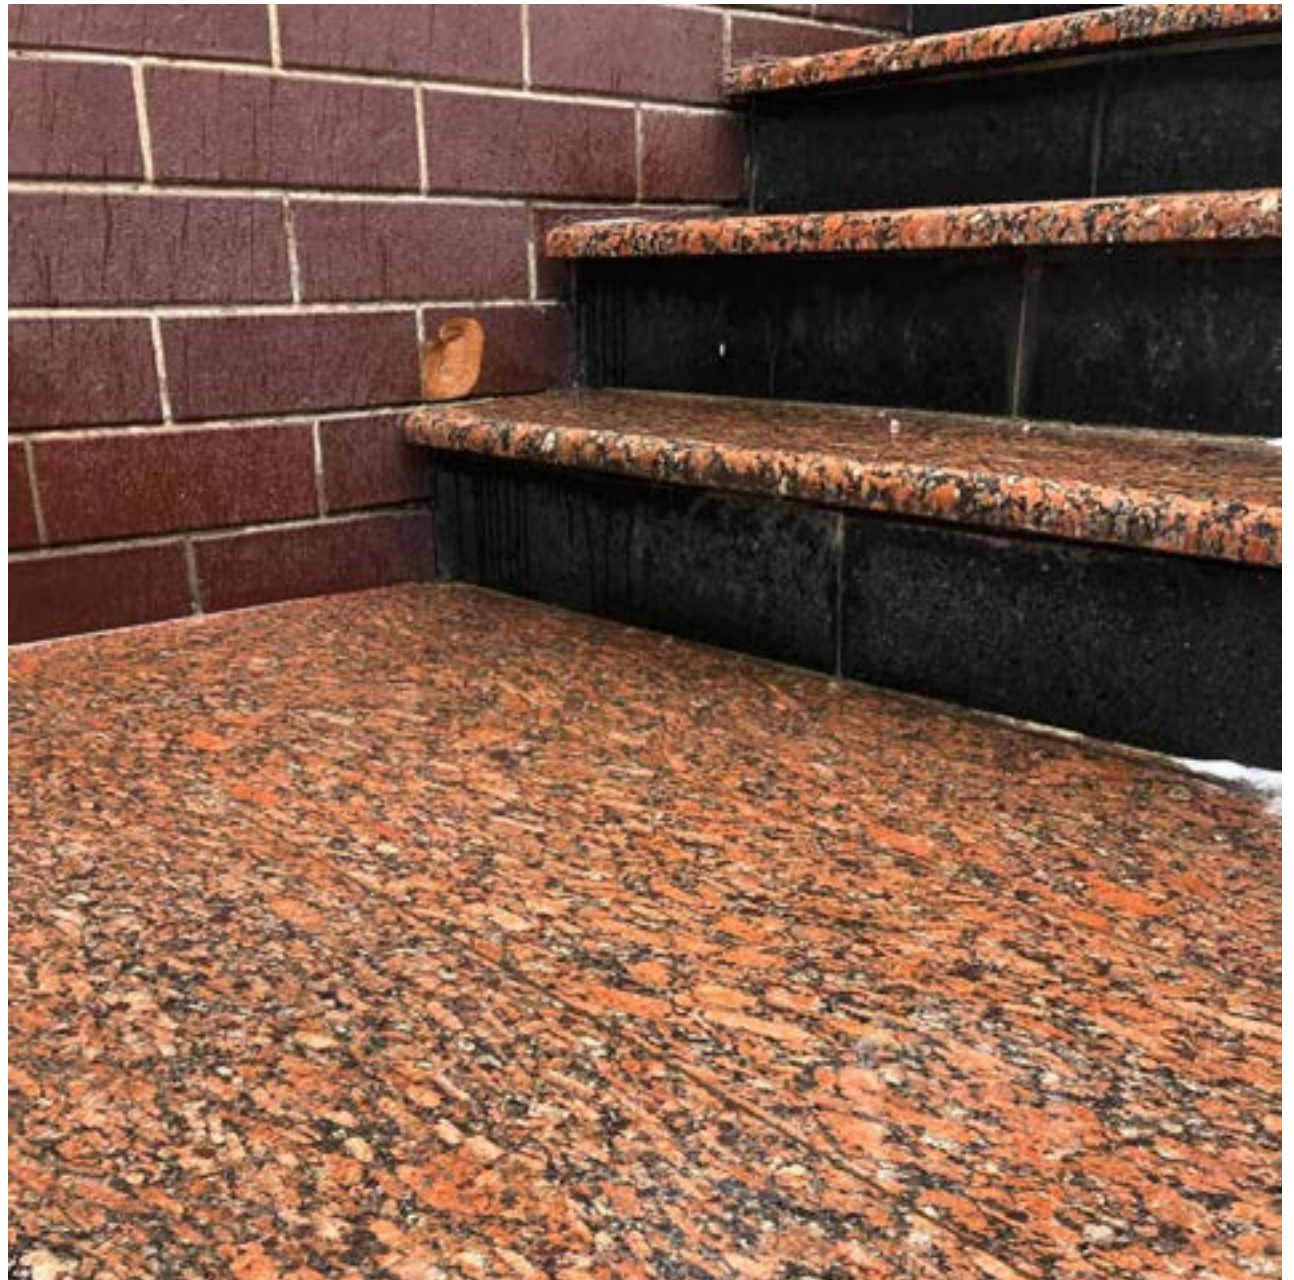

Red Aswan Egyptian Granite

Red Aswan Egyptian Granite is a distinguished natural stone celebrated for its vibrant red hue adorned with captivating dark and bright spots.

It is predominantly quarried in the illustrious region of Aswan, Egypt, where it has been sourced for millennia, bearing witness to the rich heritage of Egyptian natural stone.

Red aswan has 3 shades with varies red color hues, light, medium and dark red aswan granite.

Forsan Egyptian Granite

Forsan Egyptian Granite is a remarkable natural stone characterized by its vivid, bright red color adorned with captivating dark and grey spots.

This exquisite granite is primarily quarried in the distinguished region of Aswan, Egypt, which has a rich history of producing high-quality natural stone.

Forsan Egyptian Granite offers a spectrum of shades, ranging from light to medium to dark. Light shade: manifests as a softer and more muted red tone.

Royal Red Egyptian Granite

Royal Red Egyptian Granite is celebrated for its captivating red color with prominent silver spots, making it a unique and visually striking natural stone.

This granite is quarried in the Aswan region of Egypt, a location renowned for its high-quality stone extraction.

Red Base: The primary characteristic of Royal Red Granite is its vibrant red base, which is bold and attention-grabbing.

Silver Spots: the silver spots that adorn its surface. These silver flecks and spots are scattered across the red background, creating a mesmerizing contrast.

Hurgada

Egyptian Granite

Royal Red Egyptian Granite is celebrated for its captivating red color with prominent silver spots, making it a unique and visually striking natural stone.

This granite is quarried in the Aswan region of Egypt, a location renowned for its high-quality stone extraction.

Red Base: The primary characteristic of Royal Red Granite is its vibrant red base, which is bold and attention-grabbing.

Silver Spots: the silver spots that adorn its surface. These silver flecks and spots are scattered across the red background, creating a mesmerizing contrast.

Rosita Egyptian Granite

Rosita Red Egyptian Granite is a remarkable natural stone known for its rich, dark red coloration adorned with subtle grey spots. Quarried in Egypt.

Dark Red Base: The defining feature of Rosita Red Granite is its deep, velvety red base. This striking color ranges from deep burgundy to a warm, inviting red.

Subtle Grey Spots: Scattered across the red background, you'll find delicate grey spots. These grey specks vary in size and distribution, contributing to the stone's unique and captivating appearance.

Fantastic Egyptian Granite

Fantastic Red Egyptian Granite is a striking natural stone known for its vibrant and bright red color, adorned with subtle grey and white spots. This exquisite granite is quarried in Egypt.

Bright Red Hue: The standout characteristic is its brilliant and eye-catching bright red hue. This lively color adds a sense of warmth, energy, and sophistication.

Accents: Scattered throughout the red canvas are small, delicate grey and white spots. These speckles and veining create a harmonious contrast.

Egyptian Red Granite Catalog

Thank
You