

The background of the entire image is a collage of stylized, high-contrast black and white silhouettes of farm animals. These include a cow in the upper left, a chicken in the upper right, a pig in the center, and various other animals like sheep and horses in the lower half. The silhouettes are defined by thick black outlines and some internal white lines, giving them a graphic, almost stencil-like appearance. They are arranged in a way that they overlap and fill the entire frame, creating a busy, rustic aesthetic.
