HEAR FROM OUR COMMUNITY

My travel commissions last year allowed me to travel abroad with my family for the first time in 8 years staying in a 5* star resort without having to work overtime in my nhs job!

My travel commissions have allowed me to fully pay for 10 holidays over the last 3 years!!

This includes bucket list trips to Disney Orlando and Thailand. I would never have had enough money to pay for these trips before this business!

It's been a life changing decision for my family xxx

Sooo many!!

4 Barcelo stays last year saving 25% on the hotels

Melia Palma hotel saved 35%

Stella Island booked with Olympic and earned the comms back

Bali stayed in 3 stunning hotels and got 60% off and lots of upgrades by contacting direct

Heading to Thailand this month and booked 2 hotels through RH & 1 through Expedia)all cheaper than direct) 15% comms back

Booked Barcelo Playa blanca for the family this June (5 adults one toddler), saved over £3k!

I could go on 😂

- ➔ Mentorship & guidance.
- ➔ A community building alongside you.
- ➔ Face to face meet ups (optional!)

HEAR FROM OUR COMMUNITY

I work my business full time and have managed to match my salary from my previous job. The multiple pay days each month are one of the best things about this!

My residual/weekly pays helps towards the bills each month and having my hair and nails done! Little treats for me that I never use to get done regularly

15:40

It wasn't really the income that made me start. It was the freedom and being able to travel more.

I was fed up of feeling like a burnt out mum, working all hours for an income that still dictated my time. I didn't want my life to revolve around an office anymore.

What this model gave me was flexibility. The ability to earn and still be present. To build something around my family instead of squeezing them in around work. And now I'm building something that's not just income for today, but something willable. Something with long term value for my family.

That's why this means so much to me and it's completely changed our lives for the better
