A Martha Moore, tenth child of John Moore of Albemarle and probably ninth of his wife Mary Bullock, was born on Apr. 13, 1763 and died June 10, 1833. She married in Feb. 1786 to Andrew McCalla, son of William McCalla and Elizabeth (Means) McCalla. Andrew was born Nov. 30, 1757 in Plumstead Tws., Bucks. Co., Pennsylvania and died Nov. 28, 1832 in Lexington, Ky. (They had six children.)

The following is taken from "A Memoir of Lexington and Its Vicinity, with Some Notice of Many Prominent Citizens and Its Institutions of Education and Religion," by William A. Leavy, "Written for my own satisfaction and domestic use only," published in the Register of Kentucky State Historical Society, Vol. 40 (1942). Some minor editing has been done to increase ease of reading.

Andrew McCalla came to Lexington or vicinity from the City of Philadelphia before 1793. In the summer or autumn of 1795 he sold a farm on which he had settled 9 miles from Lexington in Jessamine County to Col. David Meade. He came to Lexington and bought about that time the large lot on which he resided and established his Apothecary Store. It was situated on the N.E. corner of Market Street and fronted the N.W. corner of the Court House Square; the lot extended to 1st or Church Street. His was almost the only apothecary shop in Lexington for a good many years.

Mr. McCalla was a man of piety and benevolence, was with his devoted wife a Member of the 1st Presbyterian Church, and was one of the very first if not the first mover in the establishment of the Hospital for the Insane. I think the most prominent of those who joined him in this humane effort were Thomas January and Benjamin Stout. A list of the names of those persons who at once became contributors to the "Fayette Hospital" are given in Mr. Ranck's History, p. 285.

Mr. McCalla's only daughter became the wife of James Clark, Esqr., a member of Congress for this district, whose residence then was Nicholasville in Jessamine County. His two sons Rev. William L. and Gen. John M. were graduates of Transylvania [College at Lexington, founded 1780], while I was a student. They early shewed a taste or passion for books, and each had a separate library while at school, their names [on] a printed card on the inside cover of each book [apparently a bookplate]. I had a loan from each of them. The printed card, [each] with a number on it, had a separate Latin motto [for each brother]. With William's it was "Litera sunt Lividies" [meaning unclear] and with John's "Pabulum mentis" ["Food for thought"], with the additional words "He who borrows a book and fails to return it is guilty of larceny." John's library had grown to a considerable size before he left Kentucky. It was very much statistical, historical, and political, but somewhat miscellaneous. They were both excellent students, and maintained a good standing in their respective classes. John and myself were pretty intimate at college; we were French scholars in the same class. He was an earnest, warm-hearted man, and we were earnest laborers together years afterwards in a season of interest or revival in the churches here.

General McCalla built his residence on the lot [which had formerly been] that of Thomas January and of his father Peter January, Sr., on Mill Street opposite the College lot, and resided there for a number of years [in] the same building as the one now occupied, with some additions, by Ben Gratz, Esqr. [General McCalla] was an active citizen, liberal, hospitable, and public-spirited. He was a volunteer in the war of 1812 and was highly esteemed as an officer — I had several letters from him whilst on that campaign.... — He was from first to last a warm democratic politician, and for several years marshall of the state. He married Miss Maria Hogg of South Carolina, a lady of beauty and amiability — esteemed in the social circle. I have lost sight of their children, who were promising when young, but I think they are all dead.

[The general's brother] Rev. William L. McCalla had a great deal of enthusiasm in his composition, and was chivalric in his character. His first sermon I heard in the First Presbyterian church from the text, "Keep thy heart with all diligence, for out of it are the issues of life" (Prov. 4:23), in the year 1812-13.

4A James Clark was born July 10, 1785 in Campbell Co., Virginia and died Nov. 10, 1837 in Hancock Co., Ill. He married on March 10, 1808 to Mary Moore McCalla (A1), daughter of Andrew McCalla and Martha (Moore) McCalla (A). Mary was born Jan. 2, 1787 in Albemarle Co., Va. and died Oct. 30, 1848 in Boonville, Mo. (They had nine children.)

A2 William Latta McCalla was born Nov. 25, 1788 in Jessamine Co., Kentucky and died Oct. 12, 1859 in La. He married on March 30, 1813 to Martha Ann Finley, daughter of Gen. Samuel Finley of Chillicothe, Ohio.

William occupies two columns in the Dictionary of American Biography, edited by Dumas Malone (New York: Scribners, 1933), the standard multi-volume publication in the United States. The entry is as follows:

McCALLA, WILLIAM LATTA (Nov. 25, 1788 - Oct. 12, 1859), Presbyterian clergyman, controversialist, was born in Jessamine County, Ky., near Lexington, the son of Dr. Andrew and Martha (More) McCalla. He was a descendant of James McCalla, who was in Pennsylvania as early as 1732, and a grandson of William, who was a captain in the Revolutionary War. Andrew McCalla, a physician, was noted for his good works and was one of the projectors of Fayette Hospital, later the Eastern Lunatic Asylum (Lewis and R. H. Collins, History of Kentucky, 1874, II, 195). William received his early education chiefly at home. Various accounts of his career say that he graduated from Transylvania University, but the records of the institution do not corroborate this statement. He studied theology privately. In 1813 he was examined by the West Lexington Presbytery but his licensure was delayed. A strong supporter of the War of 1812, he became involved in an altercation with Rev. James Blythe, who held different political views. McCalla arraigned him before his presbytery on various charges, among them that Blythe had threatened to oppose the licensure of such a firebrand as himself. The case was referred to the Synod, and Blythe, having made some acknowledgments, was acquitted. (See Case of McCalla Against Blythe, Tried Before the Synod of Kentucky in September, 1814, 1814.) Soon afterward, apparently, McCalla went to Ohio, for he was commissioned chaplain in the army from that state, Apr. 29, 1816, and served until Apr. 14, 1818 (F. B. Heitman, Historical Register and Dictionary of the United States Army, vol. I, 1903, p. 653). In 1819 he was settled over a Presbyterian church in Augusta, Ky., where he remained until 1823.

For the next twenty years his ministry was in or near Philadelphia, during which time he became one of the most conspicuous figures in the Presbyterian body. He was pastor of the Eighth, or Scots' Church (1824-35). On Apr. 20, 1836 he assumed charge of the Fourth Church, but dissension arose because of his uncompromising preaching and strict construction of the constitution of the Church, and he and his friends withdrew and were recognized as the Assembly Church, with which he remained, except for a period of travel, until 1842. From Apr. 16, 1850, to May 31, 1854, he was pastor of the Union Church. Intervening years were spent in travel and in serving several small Pennsylvania churches. Tall and of commanding presence, gifted with fluency of speech, he was an effective preacher and debater. He had Scotch-Irish tenacity and pugnaciousness, and a bitter tongue which kept him in a turmoil all his life. Philadelphia was a hotbed of theological disturbance, and McCalla, a militant leader of the old-school party. He also waged vigorous warfare with those outside his denomination. He debated the subject of eternal punishment with Abner Kneeland; on two occasions he argued publicly with Alexander Campbell over modes of baptism; and on these and other theological questions he had vigorous controversies with opponents of less prominence. A number of these debates are preserved in printed form. He also published: A Correct Narrative of the Trial of the Rev. Albert Barnes (1835); Review of Dr. Boardman's Address Against Kossuth (1852); and An Argument for Cleansing the Sanctuary,...Being in Opposition to the Prevailing System of Allowing Ungodly and Irresponsible Trustees to Manage Church Property, and Non-communicants to Vote at Church Elections (1853). Of adventurous disposition, he spent some time roughing it in Texas, and recorded his experiences in Adventures in Texas, Chiefly in the Spring and Summer of 1840 (1841), a curious miscellany of narrative, broad humor, religious sentiment, and defense of the morals of the Texans, along with several appendices, including a manual of procedure for church tribunals.

His last years were spent in the South, where he preached in St. Louis, doing missionary work among the boatmen and slaves, and on plantations in Mississippi and Louisiana. He died and was buried in the latter state, apparently near what was then known as Bayou Bidal Church. His wife, whom he married March 30, 1813, was Martha Ann, daughter of Gen. Samuel Finley of Chillicothe, Ohio.

Mary Bullock Moore

John Moore's second wife is almost as shadowy a person as her predecessor. We know her date of death because it is recorded in the Bible of her daughter Mary (Moore) Clark. As her other children had all died or moved away it is probably that she made her home with this daughter near the Peaks of Otter in Campbell

County, Virginia. This date establishes the fact that she was John Moore's widow. We have no infallible evidence as to the fact that she was the mother of all of John's children except for Matthew, however the circumstantial evidence is convincing. We also have no positive evidence as to her parentage, but we do know one thing -- that she was the sister of Patterson Bullock who appears in the records of Campbell and Louisa and other Virginia counties. One way to discover her parentage is to note the names of her grandchildren. The name of Lucy Patterson appears among the children of three of John Moore's grandchildren (and his daughter Susannah named a daughter Ann Lucinda). This strongly suggests that Mary Bullock's mother was Lucy Patterson (or perhaps Lucinda but using the common shortened form of Lucy). The fact that her brother was named Patterson strongly corroborates this. The likelihood seems that her father was named James as this was the only male name which appears among her children and those of her brother Patterson. Convention as to naming the first grandchildren after their two sets of grandparents was very strong at that time and for several generations thereafter. Incidentally, the use of two given names only appeared in the next generation after John Moore some of whose grandchildren -- usually the later -- born ones had two Christian names. Lucy continued to be a popular name among the descendants of Mary (Bullock) Moore for several generations. There is no positive proof as to the fact that Mary (Bullock) Moore was the mother of John Moore's second and third children, but once again the use of Lucy Patterson as the name of one of Frances (Moore) Henderson's daughters makes this most likely. Also there is the age gap between the son Matthew and Frances. (Unfortunately we do not know precisely the birth dates of Matthew and Frances, but there seems to have been a five year gap between them.).

PERSONAL Subfolder: B11-7 (Created 3-20-1997 2:03 p.m.)

Hi, I bet you've been able to get something done today. Thanks for bearing with me in the intense exchange of the last few days. It was helpful and started me in a direction which I hope will bear some fruit down the road.

A very tentative, very preliminary land study follows. It suggests that John of New Kent was the son James Moore, also of New Kent. It may also offer a rationale for James Moore to be assigned as a son of John Moore of Poquoson.

At the end, you'll note that the Perkins family lived close enough to John Moore to consider that a marriage to Elizabeth Perkins was possible. This is also the same Perkins family that lived near the Matthew Moore family in Stokes County and both ran iron foundries.

I left in some miscellaneous names to see if any struck a chord with you.

There are other records from these patents which can be used to elaborate on the location and neighborhood, and help as we move west to Albemarle with this family.

Look forward to hearing from you at your convenience. -- Joyce

This review is a preliminary and tentative summary of possible family affiliations in the York River watershed as population shifted west from the tidewater. It may be useful in leading us toward to John Moore of Albemarle.

No research that appears here was done from any other source than the published patent abstracts in Cavaliers and Pioneers, compiled by Nell Nugent, for the State Library of Virginia.

Edward Moore 1718 (400 acs)

James Moore 1672 (105 acs), 1687 (420 acs)

Pelham Moore 1725 (41 acs)

York County

Bryan Moore, 1684 (200 acs)

Throughout this summary, we are considering an area lying within the York watershed which is formed by the confluence of the Mattaponi and Pamunkey Rivers. Farther west, this watershed is fed by the North Anna River, and still farther west in Dalton and Moore Albemarle country, the North Anna is referred to in their patents as 'the north fork of the James.' The westward movement to the interior of Virginia occurred along water ways, therefore, an understanding of their progression is important to discerning the tracks of a family as it moves west.

You will find that this summary appears to point to a possible conclusion that John Moore of Albemarle may have been the son of James Moore, if he was not an immigrant. James Moore is also a likely candidate as a son of John Moore of Poquoson.

Most of the discussion concerns the New Kent County patents although the early Poquoson patents of John, Joseph, and William Moore are also shown.

These Poquoson patents are generally considered to be part of the James River basin; but they lay on the neck of land that separated the James and York Rivers. For purposes of this study, the Poquoson patents can be considered as much a part of the York basin as the James.

The time line is a graphic illustration of the westward movement of the population during the 17th century. Breaks in the time line may also be an indication of the youth of a new generation or the arrival of a new Moore family.

The earliest family group is clearly clustered around John Moore of Poquoson.

1635 3 Jul JOHN MOORE 200 acs No. upon little Poquoson Cr. E. upon land of Thomas Boulding. W. upon land of Thomas Garnett. S. towards head of the broad Creek.

1636 2 Jun JOSEPH MOORE 200 acs, Elizabeth City Co At old Poquoson Riv. bounded upon the W. side with footeball quarter Cr. Adj. Thomas Symons on E. side of Moores Cr. (Note this patent was surrendered and renewed by Sir John Harvey.)

1638 28 Aug JOSEPH MOORE 200 acs, Elizabeth City Co at the old Poquoson River. Adj. on W. by footeball quarter Cr., Thomas Symons on the E., with Moores Cr. [This seems to be a resurvey of the earlier patent.]

1656 25 Mar WILLIAM MOORE 200 acs, lyeing at the old Poquoson Riv. Beg. at Burrowes' neck. Land formerly assigned to Joseph Moore by Lucy Purifoy, relict of Capt. Purifoy and allowed of by Tho. Purifoy, sonne and heir of sd. Capt Purifoy, and now due sd William, as sonne and heir of sd Joseph. Renewed 29 Oct 1662.

1676 19 Jun AUGUSTINE MOORE 285 acs. Eliz. Citty Co, at head of little Poquoson Cr., 19 June 1676. p. 614. Adj. Mr. Tho. Wyth; William Up (ap) Thomas; Tho Prittiman; Tho. Tabb; and 200 acs granted to John More, his father, 3 July 1635; 85 acs. found within for trans of 2 persons.

Here is clear evidence that John Moore's son was Augustine and Joseph's son was William. Because of the timing and equal amounts of land, the patents of John and Joseph provide guidance which for evaluating the English family. It would appear fairly certain that he bear some relationship.

Shortly before Augustine Moore added to and re-patented the 200 acs he acquired from his father, another Moore was becoming established nearby.

1672 8 Oct JAMES MOORE 78 acs. New Kent Co, in a br. of Mattadequn Cr. and a br. of Wionoke Sw, adj. Wm. Basset's and his own land. Trans 2 pers.

James Moore was evidently one of the earliest land owners in this area. There is nothing concrete here to suggest that he bore any relationship to the earlier John Moore or to Augustine Moore except that this land lay less than 25 miles southwest of the Poquoson area and represents an area of a developing frontier.

The timing in tandem with the Augustine Moore's re-patent may also implicate the death of John Moore and settlement of a sum on a younger brother to help him become established. The above Augustine patent was an addition to land he either inherited from his father, John.

This area where James Moore's land lay was at first referred to as St. Stephens Parish, but later identify the land on Black Creek as lying in St. Peter's Parish, evidently to distinguish it from St. Stephens Parish in Northumberland County.

Th below 1690 patent can be related to the location of the earlier James Moore although the bounds are not identically described. It lay just a little further west of the 1672 patent and was on the same side of the Mattapony/York water basin. Neighbors in this area are: John Cape (pat. 1667); David Crafford (pat. 1676); Mr. Gideon Macon (pat. 1694).

Note that David Crawford is adjacent to both of the cited James Moore patents. For this reason, it would appear that James Moore of 1672 and 1690 may be the same person.

1690 21 Apr James Moore 573 ac, Henrico Co, in Verina Par, on S. side of Chickahominy main Sw; on Uffnum Brook; adj. James Lisle, Fra. Warren, and Mrs. Izard. Trans of 12 pers.

There is one more James Moore patent. It was granted in 1687 and is across the Mattapony River from the New Kent patents cited above. This part of the New Kent County became King and Queen County.

1687 21 Oct Mr. James Moore 420 ac, New Kent Co, in Stratton Major Par. On Mattassop Main Run or Sw; to mouth of Persimion Tree Br. Being surplus within bounds of pat to Mr. Richard Major, Sr., decd, dated last of June 1646, and by Richard, Jr, his son and heir, made over to sd. Moore on 21 Jun 1685. Trans of 9 pers.

Other, later patents in New Kent County are:

EDWARD MOORE, 400 acs., New Kent Co.; in St. Paul's Parish; 22 Jan. 1718, p. 413. 40 Shill.

PELHAM MOORE, 41 acs., New Kent Co; on Tonny Hawkins Sw; adj. William Waddill; & Mr. Moore's spring branch; 10 Feb 1725, p. 340, 5 Shill

For purposes of looking for a possible Perkins marriage between John Moore (d 1706) and Elizabeth Perkins, relevant Perkins patents are reviewed:

1674 26 Sep NICHOLAS PERKINS 537 acs, Henrico Co, N. side James Riv; adj.

Richard Parke; trans 22 pers: Hackalia Harner, Margaret Harner, Hen. Flegg, Margat. Flegg, Robt. Day, Jane Scott, Mary Diggs, Jno. Browne, Jno Hall, Eliz. Drummer, Scipio, Negro.

1724 9 Jul CONSTANTINE PERKINS 347 acs, Henrico Co; beg. at his own line and crossing br. of Beaverdam Cr.

Constantine Perkins, or a son of the same name, later moved to the area of Stokes Co NC and Henry Co VA (neighboring counties). The three Perkins in the Stokes area are: Peter, Constantine, and Nicholas.

Without question, Nicholas and Constantine Perkins lived near enough to James Moore of New Kent/Henrico for a daughter to marry John Moore, if he is a son of James. Contantine's land later fell into Goochland County after it was formed from parts of Henrico and New Kent.

The county progression as it affects John Moore of Albemarle, and many of the other Albemarle Co names that appeared in this survey, is as follows:

Charles River, 1634-1642

York 1643

New Kent 1654

Goochland 1728

Louisa 1742

Albemarle 1744

Thanks for your commiseration, Bill. It helped. I don't know about Rhoda's children, and I didn't find a Rhoda who married a Moore; but I wouldn't be surprised to discover that you're right about the origin of the name. My Grandmother (who pretty much raised me) used to sing a lullaby to me

"Go tell Aunt Rhoda,
Go tell Aunt Rhoda

The old gray goose is dead.

Everybody else calls her Aunt Polly in the song. Yeah, you're right. Rhoda probably is a probably a diminutive of Rhodam.

I don't think my process was flawed, nor my reasoning about the name, Rhodam. So it gives me another road to follow that I didn't really have before.

It's going to take a few days to congeal the mass of data I've just taken in.

If I don't, I'll lose it - use it or lose it psychology. The St. Peter's Vestry Registry is great! I'm struck with the presence of Edward Moore and the fact that John Moore-Albemarle had a son named Edward. Are you?

And who was Pelham? I know we've both asked that question. It's a name we ought to be able to connect somewhere, though perhaps not in VA. The only one or two Pelhams (spelled Pellam) came into early VA; and they came long before our James of New Kent and don't seem to related to the neck of land between the York and James.

A quick word about headrights so I don't throw you too badly with use of headright identifications:

1) Originally, a headright was an entitlement to 50 acres of land if you immigrated to the Colony of Virginia - it was a means of expanding trade opportunities eventually.

2) Headrights can be relied upon as an authentic date of entry and place of entry only if other factors support it. That's a big 'only.'

3) They are utterly unreliable for some things, such as whether a person entered the colony as a servant, whether he entered to colony on the date the patent was registered or much earlier, or whether he remained in the area where his headright was used as a claim for land.

4) Headright certificates came to be a form of cash; that is, they passed from one person to another to pay for something. A headright certificate might go through several hands before it was actually returned to the patent office as a right for 50 acres of land. Often the 50 acres was some distance from where the person originally docked on arrival.

5) If other factors are consistent (i.e.: time, location, association of others involved in the certificate, natural migration), headright certificates can be used to trace the person from his/her arrival to the time identification can be established.

6) The headright system became corrupt so that the same person may be counted as entering the country:

- a) 5 or 6 times if he was a sailor; or
- b) several times in different parts of the colony - remember the "woman who died at sea" registered for headrights in New Kent and Rappannock; or
- c) he entered the Colony from another Colony; or
- d) he went to England and returned (I don't think this was a violation)

I've got several things I need to do right now:

1) continue my MOORE NEWS series on Revolutionary War pension applications (I'm only in the J's at this point and need to put out another abstract issue)

2) meld all of this data into a useable form

3) evaluate my MDVA notes for a research direction - so many scenarios seem to fit: early Virginia to Maryland, Maryland to Virginia, upper Virginia to southern Virginia Piedmont and NC upper Piedmont.

Right now, all I have is bursting-at-the-seams folder of facts which are not pointing me in the right direction. I need to put it all together into some kind of format to see what surfaces.

The more I look at these MD records, the more some of these VA families flow into consciousness. This picture is probably confined to the PG and Charles Co MD Moores. No question but that there was a connection between the Charles Co and PG Moores. Many of them (some of them) went from to Pr. William or Loudon Co VA and flowed right down the Philly Wagon Trail to the lower VA counties and upper VA counties where they all seemed to come together again.

Coincidence or a natural congruence among young cousins?

It's such a BIG PICTURE. And the pieces are not in place yet.

Till later,

Joyce

Yes, I mentioned the name in telling you that William Claiborne (1600-1689) married Elizabeth Butler/Boteler d/o Thomas Butler (or maybe John - not sure), an Essex Co family in England. There were intermarriages with Harris and James of Essex Co.

It became evident to me at the outset that a study of the descent of the counties and parishes must precede any detailed analysis of the public records. Due to the various changes in the political and ecclesiastical boundaries which were made between 1679 and 1777, it could have been possible for a Virginian living in this area during that period to have been identified in the records as living in several counties and parishes, while he actually lived in one place. For instance, Dr. Thomas Walker successively represented Hanover, Louisa, and Albemarle Counties in the House of Burgesses without a change of residence.³

Similarly, John Moore might have lived in St. Peter's Parish in New Kent County from 1679 to 1704, in St. Paul's Parish in New Kent County from 1704 to 1720; in St. Paul's Parish in Hanover County from 1720 to 1727; in St. Martin's Parish in Hanover County from 1727 to 1742; in Fredricksville Parish in Louisa County from 1742 to 1761; in Fredricksville Parish in Albemarle County from 1761 to 1777, and have lived in the same location all of the time.

This is not to say that John Moore did live in one place, or that the hypothetical instance described was the story of this man's life. It does indicate, however, the problem faced by the student of the public records of this period.⁴ In this instance the records of four counties and four parishes had to be consulted, complicated by the tragedy of the destruction of some of them by fire many years previously.

Readers' ever-watchful editor must confess to some surprise that he has never encountered a mention of the following entries in the Hanover records showing Jouett as an investor in other ordinaries in the county besides his own, even though these records, as edited by S. O. Southall, were published in the William & Mary Quarterly, Vol. 21 of the First Series (1912):

There are only two old books in the Clerk's Office of Hanover county, Va. The oldest, designated the "Small Book" in these notes, covers the years 1734 and 1735, and contains orders, wills, deeds, etc. The other, "The Larger Book" of these notes, is a deed book for 1780-1790. The following are the abbreviations: adj.—adjoining; ex^{lor}—executor; adm.—administrator; s.—son; d.—daughter or died; est.—estate; X—his mark; a.—acres. These notes were copies by me in the winter of 1910-1911.

We reproduce from the Small Book, 1734-35, only those entries which relate directly to our inquiries. A large number relate indirectly and indeed may become required reading when we have made further lateral-association connections (e.g., Garland, Winston, Anderson, Harris, Dowell, etc.). St. Martin's Parish was in the western half of the county, St. Paul's in the eastern. ??? An X indicates the signer made his mark rather than wrote his name, evidencing his or her illiteracy.

JOHN AND ELIZABETH MOORE OF NEW KENT

FROM THE ST. PETER'S REGISTER

WITH BELL FAMILY CONNECTIONS FROM TIDEWATER VIRGINIA FAMILIES, BY VIRGINIA L. H. DAVIS, 1989

There is no proof that the Moores in the Register are all the same family, and so far we have no way of finding out one way or the other. As for the Bell, Winston, and Chiles connections, these give us confidence we are in the right territory since these names set up connections with many branches of the descendants of our John Moore.

- a) John Moore (d. 1717) m. Elizabeth (possibly Perkins) (d. Jan. 19, 1718).
- b) Elizabeth Moore (b. Aug. 25, 1690) is almost 18 years old at her mother's death (if it is her mother who dies in 1718) and can care for the younger children.
- c) James Moore (b. March 23, 1693/4) m. ?Agnes.
 - i) James Moore b. 171___, d. July 9, 1718.
 - ii) James Moore b. Nov. 13, 1718.
 - iii) Mary Moore b. Feb. 1, 1721.
- iv) Elizabeth Moore b. Apr. 3, 1723.
 - v) Rebecca Moore b. Aug. 13, 1725.
 - vi) John Moore b. Apr. 10, 1727.
 - vii) Robert Moore b. Dec. 8, 1729. (This is the first child denoted with Agness as the mother; she may be a second wife or Robert's father may be a different James. There is no mention of Agness in St.P. aside from this child and the one following. Since it is a relatively rare name, it may be worth looking for in other families.)
 - viii) Valentine Moore b. Nov. 21, 1734, bapt. Jan. 27, 1735. (Again, the mother is stated to be Agness. We have looked in the Valentine papers, which have a prominent section on their Perkins connections, but there is a) no Agnes, which may be due to b) a gap in the genealogy preventing tracing that family back before the 1700s. The name Valentine here is, we feel certain, one of the best clues to the origin of our Moores, if we can but find a way to use it.) This child is probably not named for the saint, since the Established Church did not honor a St. Valentine; the Catholic saint's day is February 14; we suspect this is a family name. We have recently learned that the Valentines are today one of the leading families of Richmond.
- d) John Moore (169-?), probably died young.
- e) Rebecca Moore (1700-?) m. ?George Bell. (This descent is taken from Tidewater Virginia Families, by Virginia L. H. Davis, 1989. The order of the children is not fully known.)
 - i) Moore Bell m. Agnes Ellyson 5th day 1st mo. 1766 (extremely cold day, many could not attend), d/o Joseph and Mary Binford Ellyson of New Kent; she was a birthright Quaker; they were members of the Black Creek Particular Mtg and also attended Henrico. Moore's land same precinct with James Allen, Turner Richardson, John Austin, William Craghead, William Ellis, William Murray, and William Winston of Essex Co. Later also Charles Hundley, John Snelson, Thomas Clark, John Gardner, Mann Page, and William Ellis. Bought land from John Garland. (Garland married Bullock.) They moved to Westfield, N.C. 1797 with Rebecca who was 14. Moore d. bef. Aug. 24, 1799, when widow and child returned to Va.
 - (1) Martha Bell, b. March 5, 1772, dismissed from Society 1792 for marrying Samuel Chiles of Caroline, a former Quaker. Son of John and Mary Winston Chiles, grandson of Nathaniel and Jemima Bell Winston, therefore they 2nd cous. once rem. Lived near Penola and Golansville; Agnes probably came to live with them after Moore died. (Descendants of Matthew Moore are also connected to Chiles. The Winstons are known to be Welsh, and coincidentally we have found in Burke a Wynstone family in county Brecknock, Wales, with arms Per pale argent and gules, a lion rampant of the first on the sinister side, supporting a tree eradicated proper on the dexter; for crest a garb erect or sustained on the dexter side by a lion rampant argent and on the sinister by another asure, a coat shared with several Wynstone/ Winston families in Herefordshire and Gloucestershire, just east of the border in England. Brecknock is the shire in which we found, at Brecon, the strange cluster of Bullock, Lewis, and Hanmer-related Morgan families.)

(2)Rebecca Bell, b. Dec. 17, 1783 in Hanover, Co., a birthright member of Soc. of Friends. Lived as child in Hanover, later in Westfield Quaker community in N.C. (near many relatives of Matthew Moore). She returned to Va. as a young woman and lived at Cedar Creek. Oct. 2, 1801 dismissed from Society "for being in the fashions of the times and following customs inconsistent with the Friends' principles." (Davis.)

ii)Bersheba Bell, prob. b. Hanover Co., married outside Quakerdom.

iii)Nathan Bell, b. 1744, d. Oct. 1, 1807 in Hanover Co. owning 400 acres; m. Sarah, who d. 1819. Dismissed from Quakers for his marriage, was reinstated; Sarah became member 1777.

(1)John Bell, m. Joanna Terrell, had daughters. Inherited 400-acre tract on which his father lived, as well as Brandy Mill and other properties.

(2)Mary Bell, m. Amos Ladd.

(3)Ann Bell, m. Thomas Ladd.

(4)Rebecca Bell, m. Thomas Clarke.

f)Ann Moore (1703-?).

g)John Moore (Sept. 28, 1706-1777) m. 1) Mary Susannah Jouett (?-1745), 2) Mary Bullock (1720-1814) -- our line.

h)Martha Moore b. 1708. A Martha Moore witnessed our John's will in 1777. Since his daughter was not of age and spouses could not witness a will (even if her name had been Martha, which some had previously thought it was, the only explanation for the name Martha Moore on his will is a relative. We believe it is this Martha.

i)Robert Moore b. April 17, 1711, m. ?Mary.

i)Thomas Moore b. Jan. 2, 1738. Since none of the (living) uncles are Thomas, this name could come from either the mother's side or from the grandfathers or their brothers.

j)Sarah Moore, b. Feb. 6, 1713. (We have previously conjectured that this Sarah may have married Lawrence Smith's descendant Francis Smith of Hanover/King William, with whom [or with whose father] our John has land dealings which he mentions in his will, and who is known to have married a Sarah.)
