Sir: It is refreshing to see some good serials being telecast on Bangalore DD, DD, which is always a target of criticism by Bangalore viewers, is for change telecasting some good programmes nowadays. The serials 'Guddada Bhootha', 'Goodininda Gaganakke', 'Kailasam Kathegalu' can be considered to be serials of good taste. We are indeed fortunate to have Mr. Sadanada Suvarna who is the director of the award-winning film Kubi-mattu Iyala, directing the serial 'Guddada Bhootha'. The serial has very soon attracted a lot of viewers.

The serial has some good actors and direction-screenplay is superb. The serial provides excitement each time and leaves the viewers curious to see the next episode at the end. 'Goodininda Gaganakke' directed by Vaishali Kasaravalli, deals with the problems of working women in a beautiful manner. This serial also has some fine actors. Sunil Puranik's 'Kailasam Kathegalu' takes us back to the Indian life during the pre-independence period. The stories of Kailasam which have a stamp of top class are equally well depicted on the small screen by the director. Let us hope that Bangalore DD continues to telecast more of such serials which are definitely going to enhance its popularity in the coming days.
