

Punish the guilty

Sir, It is ridiculous that the Government claims to bring down the consumption of petroleum products by increasing their prices. Instead the consumption of these products would increase further. We cannot say that hike would only affect the vehicle owners & the rich. On the contrary, it will affect all other sectors of economy. Train, bus, auto fares, vegetables and other products will be costlier. The rise in LPG will obviously lead to hike in the hotel rates. The people have to decide at least now what they should do with their Government.
