Hi, I am Emily Ramsey. I am the mom of 3 girls and am married to a Physician in the Navy.

I have nearly 20 years of experience in accounting and have worked in both corporate America and several non-profit organizations.

I also served for 2 years on the Board of Directors as Treasurer for the Military Spouses association in Twenty-Nine Palms and assisted in the establishment of their non-profit 501c3 status. Currently, I work on a contract basis for a biotech company as well as a packaging company that's mission is to reduce plastic in the beauty industry.

I love working for organizations with a good cause so that I am able to use my strengths and talents to help further missions that I believe in. Being able to serve on the Board at YABA does just that as we enable youth to be involved in the community, learn leadership skills and teach commitment, discipline and teamwork.

Outside of work I stay busy with our 3 daughters, driving them around to dance, theater, voice lessons and church activities. When I'm not busy shuttling kids around, I love to read, play games and hang out with friends.
