My name is Kim Kowalewsky and I am a mother to 14 year old boy/girl twins and I am a wife of 20 years. I have lived in San Diego for my entire life and currently reside in Oceanside, a northern coastal suburb of San Diego. I attended the University of San Diego for my bachelor's degree in biology and National University for my master's degree in business administration.

Before I had my kids, I worked in sales and marketing then after having kids, I worked in accounting and business analysis. I am also a health coach with Optavia. Most of my time these days is spent volunteering with my kids' school and extracurricular activities. I have joined the YABA board as Secretary to help make a difference in the active lives of my children and all kids associated with YABA. My kids are active in competitive soccer, competitive dance, and boy scouting and I love the support that YABA can give them as they participate in their activities.

What do I do in the little free time I have when I am not acting as a taxi mom? I love reading, hiking, camping, and bird watching. My family loves to play card games and board games and watch movies (usually Harry Potter or Star Wars). We love to travel and can't wait to take another Disney Cruise one day. My husband and I are looking forward to many days in the future where we can take extended road trips to visit as many national parks as possible!
