No. 8 Alan Goodman

or After you with the crib board Sarge

Part of WGC's own law enforcement team, AG was vets captain in 2002/03.

One of the City Polices finest, he joins an elite band of ex-coppers at Wanstead. He, along with constable Keating, have been put put in charge of the stationery cupboard looking after manilla envelopes.

It would be fair to say that Alan is partial to the odd email - frequently causing global internet outages as he sends his 120th circular email of the evening.

Famed as the straight man in the Goodman/Stew double act (Does that make Derek funny, curly or just crooked?) he can often be found starting club competitions, organising Tail End Charlie rounds or sometimes his own Texas Scramble trophy purely for Bob Perkins' enjoyment.

Never one to pass up the opportunity of a good lunch (or a bad one for that matter) AG has hosted numerous gatherings in the city for fellow vets members - something that we have all enjoyed and for which we remain in his debt.

Has been known to pass up the opportunity to grace Wanstead's greens and fairways in favour of trolley dash around Tesco's but inevitably he returns to his senses bit by bit - after all, every little helps.

A great man to spend time with on the course, over lunch or even in the car - just as long as the Elvis impressions are kept to a minimum!
