No. 16 Laurence Kehoe

Or....Laurence isn't here so where's Larry?

Much to his and everyone else's dismay Laurence continues to play off of his 15(!) handicap which allows him to be firmly in contention in all competitions. When he can't make it, his bad tempered twin bother Larry takes to the course but he has yet to post a noteworthy score.

Never one to pass up the opportunity of the occasional email post he holds the record for most responses on one topic (20,919) when discussing the merits of the fur ball coughed up by Churchill's cat 14 days prior to the Normandy Landings.

Although retired, Laurence maintains an interest in the law and remains involved in just one case (Jarndyce v Jarndyce). He is hopeful that there will be an outcome soon.

Never one to use more clubs than he feels is absolutely necessary, Laurence has recently set the trend for permanent practice for the King Shield amassing a very creditable 5 perch points using just two clubs and a putter against everyone else's full set! His penchant for a light bag may have something to do with his aversion to on course precipitation, allowing him to run for the cover of the clubhouse at the sight of a nimbus cloud.

A regular supporter of Vets matches, competitions, rollups or social events, Laurence is a good man to have on your side whether on the course or in the cut and thrust of a Golf or Bowls Club quiz night.

When not playing golf he can be found at numerous theatres around the capital supporting professional and semi-professional productions alike.
