No. 14 Martin Roffe

Or.....'On the tee.....sponsored by BUPA.....'

Our captain for the 2017/18 season and stalwart of the vets section has recently completed building a second house in his back garden to house his extensive collection of drivers, irons, wedges, chippers, putters, shoes, bags and other golfing paraphernalia collected over the years. For all his research Martin is still in search of his holy grail - a club that doesn't make him hit the ball from left to right. Sadly, injury means that Martin is only able to play six days a week now. On the upside, he is on first name terms with 137 senior consultants and has twice been invited to turn on the Christmas lights in Harley Street.

When not playing golf Martin is a talented photographer as anyone who has seen his anal wart will testify. Happiest snapping away at wildlife irrespective of weather be that in the wilds of Scotland or on the terrace at WGC. He enjoys travel and is a regular visitor to Malta.

A first rate chap who will always be there to give you a hand. Good company, whether on the course or over a drink and a good man to have on your side. Popular with everyone except Weatherspoon's publicans who seem to have an acute dislike of Martin's ordering methods. Don't point at me! Oh well what's another ASBO between friends?
