No. 34 Terry McDowell

Or - Our very own senior pencil squeezer

Still managing to to forge a lucrative career on the after dinner circuit as the definitive Mr. Pastry tribute act, Terry manages to find time to play regular Vets and CD's golf. Never one to take the easy option he still carries his clubs over 14 or 18 holes and be counted upon as a reliable member of the Alan Goodman drinking party. His staying power on all matters beer related are legendary, but it was after one particular session that he felt it would be a good idea to get up close and personal with a neighbours hedge after his bike decided to turn sharp left off of the road and over the pavement. Terry also holds the WGC record for off piste golf-buggy rolling which he achieved as recently as 2017.

A career in teaching did nothing to dull Tel-boys optimism and since retirement he has continued to develop his skills as a fine cartoonist - this is the first of this series that he has not drawn.

Wonderful company in the bar, on the golf course or over lunch but less so in a golf buggy. Long may the greens and fairways of WGC host Tel-boy and his carry bag, moustache and twinkling blue eyes.
