

CLASSIC STYLES OF BELLCOURT HOMES

CRAFTSMAN (1905-1930)

38-02 212th Street, built 1920

1940s

Today

VISIT BELL COURT.ORG

CLASSIC STYLES OF BELLCOURT HOMES

FEDERAL (1780 - 1820)

212-05 38th Avenue, built 1925

A doctor and his wife bought this house and the adjoining lots in the 1950s; their daughter and her husband still live here today in a house virtually unchanged since then.

1940s

Today
VISIT BELLCOURT.ORG

CLASSIC STYLES OF BELLCOURT HOMES

COLONIAL REVIVAL (1880-1955) 36-21 212th Street, built 1925

Like several in Bellcourt, this home shares a driveway with the house to its north; owners remodeled to attach a garage on the other side and create a new private drive.

1940s

Today

VISIT BELLCOURT.ORG

CLASSIC STYLES OF BELLCOURT HOMES

SUBTYPES OF COLONIAL REVIVAL (1940s and today)

35-22 212th Street, built 1905

36-46 212th Street, built 1920

CLASSIC STYLES OF BELLCOURT HOMES

DUTCH COLONIAL REVIVAL 36-30 212th Street, built in 1910

In the 1940s tax photo you can see the original siding, window shutters, and original (expensive!) casement windows on the porch with small awning windows above them.

36-35 211th Street, built 1915 Tax photos from 1940s and (even 1980s) show an open porch, now enclosed

CLASSIC STYLES OF BELLCOURT HOMES

TUDOR (1890-1940) 36-37 212th Street, built 1925

This house is largely original, but note the replacement of the (expensive!) casement windows with double-hung

36-43 210th Street, built 1920

CLASSIC STYLES OF BELLCOURT HOMES

RANCH (1935-1975): 210-16 36th Ave, built 1975 (no 1940s photo!)

CLASSIC STYLES OF BELLCOURT HOMES

SEARS KIT HOUSE (CRAFTSMAN) 36-35 210th Street, built 1920

In addition to that awning, notice that there is no sidewalk yet!

1940s

1980s

Today